I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 42

'I'm just waiting for my car here, how did I offend you?'

As he was about to say that...

Beep!

A Range Rover stopped in front of the three.

"My boyfriend is here. Jane, do you need us to send you to your destination?" Ms. Jenkins asked pretentiously

At this moment, the door opened, they saw someone getting out of the car.

When David saw Ms. Jenkin's boyfriend, he did not want to retort anymore.

This man was only 160cm tall and he was about 108kg. He could even compete with Mr. Gomez from that entertainment company in terms of looks. Plus, he was also balding, so David figured he might be around 40 to 50 years old.

No wonder she immediately started roasting Jane the moment she got here, she was definitely jealous of Jane.

"It's alright, Ms. Jenkins. We can just call a car," Jane said.

"Wasn't he in first class just now? Why does he need to call a car? Jane, don't say that I didn't remind you when you're being lied to."

At this moment, they could hear rumbling.

"Look, that car is so pretty!" "Damn, what a cool sports car. I even dream of having one." Then, two flashy sports cars stopped behind the Range Rover.

Hugh got out of the car when the door opened. Then, he walked straight to David.

“Dave, I’m sorry for being late. I needed to take care of something. This is your car key.”

After Hugh finished talking, he tossed the keys to David. After David took the keys, he hugged Hugh.

“It’s fine, Hugh. I feel ashamed for asking you to free up some time in your busy schedule to pick me up.”

“Alright, let’s not exchange courtesies anymore. Go look at your car! This car has driven less than 300 kilometers in three years so it’s no different than a new one,” Hugh placed his hand on David’s shoulder and said,

David walked to his Bugatti Veyron and reached out to touch the car. It was nice and it felt even better than a woman’s body.

This was so cool!

So stylish!

He would definitely blind those sons of b*tches if he drove this back to the university.

“Hugh, this car is great. I love it so much!”

“That’s good. Come, get in the car. I’ll take you to a place to welcome you properly.”

“I’ll just follow your arrangements today then!”

At this moment, a person got out of the car that was parked in the back but was equally flashy. The man walked in front of Hugh and handed him a set of keys.

“Mr. Greene, here’s your car key.”

“Lenny, you should call a car to go back to the company,” Hugh said.

“Okay, Mr. Greene.”

David stood next to the Bugatti Veyron and was about to get in the car.

Suddenly, he saw Jane standing by the roadside, dumbfounded.

“Miss Blau, where are you going? Do you want me to drive you?” David asked Jane.

“It’s okay, Mr. Lidell, I don’t want to trouble you. I’ll just call a cab,” Jane answered.

“Get in!” David said and got into the driver seat of the Bugatti Veyron.

Jane hesitated and walked up to the car before getting into the passenger’s seat.

After David got into the car, he called Hugh, who was in the car behind him, and said he wanted to send someone somewhere.

Since Jane’s destination was on the way, Hugh went in front to lead David.

The two super cool sports cars disappeared from the airport with a low rumble.

Ms. Jenkins looked at the sports cars that were driving away and her expression became slightly unpleasant. It was because this slap across her face came too quickly and she did not have time to react yet.

As she looked at her millionaire boyfriend whom she was proud of right now, she suddenly felt that he was not that great anymore.

From afar, a few other stewardesses saw what happened.

“Did you guys see that? Jane got into that sports car.”

“Did you guys take a picture? Go look up that car. I’ve never seen it before.”

“I did and I’m searching now...”

“Gosh, this is the newest limited edition Bugatti Veyron! There are only 8 of them in the world and the market price is 60 million.”

“What? 60 million? That’s too much!”

“There’s something even more ridiculous. That’s the price 3 years ago, right now, it’s increased to 80 million!”

“Gosh! Jane only started a month ago. How did she meet such a young, handsome, and loaded rich guy? Why can’t I meet someone like that?”

I’ m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 43

After David drove Jane to the hotel she was staying in, he followed Hugh to the Lake Heart Club.

The Lake Heart Club was the most high-end club in Lake City and was built in the center of a man-made lake.

Aside from the beautiful scenery, there were all kinds of games for the rich, including a golf course and a racetrack

Hugh brought David to the golf course.

Seven to eight people in their twenties or thirties were chatting in the lounge.

There was even a man and a woman playing golf outside. The man had his arms around the woman from the back while his hands held the woman’s arms like he was teaching her.

“Let me introduce you all. This is my friend, David Lidell. He’s currently studying at South River University,” Hugh told the people in the lounge.

Then, he said to David, “Dave, these are the members of SCC.”

The people sitting there glanced at David and did not pay any attention to him. He was too young after all.

“Greene, you asked us here just to introduce us to this David?” A young man who looked about 24 or 25 years old asked.

His name was Andy Lewis, and he was also a middle-tier member of SCC like Hugh.

There were different tiers in SCC. The higher your tier, the more powerful you were.

So, a low-tier member would not dare to talk back to a high-tier member.

However, since he was on the same tier as Hugh, he did not need to be polite with him. He would say anything that came to his mind.

Furthermore, Hugh was a smooth and slick businessman, so he was more easy-going.

“Andy, I called you guys here today to be my witness. I’ll use my privileges as a middle-tier member to invite David into SCC.”

The people sitting there were surprised when they heard what Hugh said and they looked straight at David. Anyone who could make Hugh use his middle-tier member privileges were definitely not someone ordinary

One had to know that a middle-tier member could only invite one person to join the club, so the resource was extremely precious. There were even people who proposed to buy it with tens of millions but still could not get it.

Now, Hugh was giving his only invitation to this young man in front of him? Who was this kid?

At this moment, a man in his thirties said, “Since Greene is exercising his privileges as a middle-tier member, then David will be a member of SCC from now on. Come, David, save my contact and send me your ID. I’ll report this to the headquarters and three days later, you’ll get your badge. I’ll send you the brief introduction of SCC too.”

After he said that, he took out his phone and exchanged contact details with David.

David was confused. He did not know what SCC was and what he would get if he joined.

However, since Hugh told him to enter, then he would.

After they exchanged contacts, David sent him his ID and also received a document. David opened it and took a close look.

It seemed that SCC was just an acronym, and its full name was Springfield Car Club.

Their headquarters was in Springfield, and they had a lot of branches in a lot of first-tier cities.

David looked at the list of cities and saw that Lake City was one of them. However, these cities were all in the south and there were none in the north.

When SCC was first founded, it was meant to make life easier for people who were obsessed with cars and racing by offering a place for them to gather.

Slowly but surely, it developed into a very tight organization now.

This was the top circle of the upper class.

Not only could they gather to have fun, race, ride horses, and golf, they could even sit together and talk business so that they could mutually aid each other to reach a win-win situation where they could share the spoils.

A lot of the upstarts and nouveau riches badly wanted to enter this circle to get to know some of the elites but did not have a way to do so. This was not a place they could get into just because they had money.

The requirements were strict, and they had to fulfill all three of them.

Firstly, it was to own a sports car worth tens of millions, which was not hard.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 44

Secondly, the individual must have assets of more than one billion dollars, or the family behind them must have assets of more than ten billion dollars.

This was not too hard either.

Finally, they needed to be recommended by a member with a middle-tier or above.

This was the hardest requirement, and if someone were to give out an invitation, those upstarts would definitely fight for it.

Of course, on the surface, the quota could not be traded with money, but you never knew what went on behind closed doors.

There were 4 tiers to an SCC member. 1

Normal member, middle-tier member, high-tier member, and core member.

A normal member would not have the right to recommend.

A middle-tier member had one invitation, while the high-tier member had three.

Meanwhile, a core member had no limits.

The ones who could become a core member of SCC were the super big shots who also acted as the management for SCC.

They had to make some contributions to SCC if they wanted to go up a tier.

SCC would host a lot of racing competitions or gatherings every year to increase everyone's cohesion.

After David saw this, he figured that Hugh was pretty attentive, so he figured he should get to know Hugh more.

If Hugh did not take him into this circle, he would never learn of this kind of place, and he would not have had a place to spend his massive sum of money.

David did not know the reason why Hugh spent his only invitation to bring him into this club was because Bill told him that if David could take out 20 billion to buy Golden Leaf Hotel, then he had to be a child that was directly related to those aristocratic families in hiding.

Hugh had never met anyone from a hidden aristocratic family before. He might have met one but did not know. Those people were very mysterious, and they were always hiding behind the scenes.

Naturally, Hugh would not be stingy if he could get to know this kind of person.

"Dave, you still need to show us your proof of property."

"No need for that. I sold the Golden Leaf Hotel in River City to Dave a few days ago. He owns 100% of the shares now," Hugh said.

The people present were all surprised when they heard that.

The 8-star Golden Leaf Hotel was very famous. He would need about 20 billion if he wanted to buy it.

If he could spend 20 billion on a hotel, it would mean that his assets were above 50 billion! It seemed that David's family was not weak at all.

"Dave, is your family in the hotel business?" Andy asked.

He felt that if David could buy the Golden Leaf Hotel, it would mean that his family was in this industry. H e was only buying it so that he could have a monopoly in Lake City, if not, who would spend 20 billion to buy a hotel?

At this moment, he did not look down on David anymore. On the contrary, he even wanted to get to know him.

“No, I just think the food there is up to my liking and it’s near to my university, so I bought it,” David answered.

What?

The heck?

Aside from Hugh, everyone present was looking at David with a look of shock on their faces.

He bought an 8-star hotel for 20 billion because the food was to his liking?

That was 20 billion, not 2 million!

The people here were all old members of SCC. Even though most of them were normal members, they were not the same as those upstarts out there.

However, they had never seen anyone who would spend 20 billion just to fulfill his desire for good food.

“Hehe... Dave, you’re hilarious,” Andy said as he chuckled.

David shrugged and did not explain further. ‘None of you would believe me even if I told the truth.

I’ m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 45

Soon the procedure required for David to join SCC was completed. He was now a normal member of SCC

In reality, as long as he was referred by someone else in SCC, the procedure was just a formality because no one would waste their quota to recommend someone who did not fulfill the requirements

It would take 3 days for the badge of SCC to be posted from the headquarters

David felt that it was a bit too lowly to be a normal member, but the introduction said that he needed to make some contributions for SCC before he could grade his fier

What the contribution was, was not stated

Hence, David asked, “Hugh, what kind of contribution should I make to upgrade myself to a middle tier member?”

“What? Do you want to upgrade the moment you join?”

“I’m just asking. The introduction did not state what counts as a contribution.”

“Actually, it’s pretty easy to upgrade from a normal member to a middle-tier member. Whenever there’s a nactivity, you can try to do something that’s within your power. You’ll be able to upgrade to the middle tier after you work for a few years.”

“Is there any other way?”

“The easiest and quickest way is to donate one billion, Then, you’ll be automatically upgraded to middle tier.”

'I can upgrade just by donating one billion dollars?' David was thrilled. He was still worried as he did not know where to spend his money. He only had 100 lavish points left.

The lavish points were so powerful. He needed to save up more in case there was an emergency

"What if I wanted to upgrade to high-tier? Can I donate? How much should I donate?"

"Dave, are you really planning to donate? It's not necessary. You'll only get a tad more privileges with a higher tier. It's not worth spending so much money on."

"I think it is. Anything that can be solved with money is not a problem at all!" David said pretentiously.

When everyone heard that, they figured that David was right. He was so domineering!

"Dave, you'll need to donate one billion to upgrade from normal to middle-tier. However, if you want to upgrade to high-tier from middle-tier, the amount will be tenfold, and you'll need to donate 10 billion. Do you still want to do it?"

"Sure!"

"Really?"

"Yeah!"

Finally, David spent 11 billion to become a high-tier member of SCC.

At this moment, aside from the other members, even Hugh wondered if David was not right in the head.

‘Even if you’re the heir of a hidden aristocratic family, this is still 11 billion! A lot of the listed companies are not even worth this money!’

No more than half of the people present could take out 10 billion. Even if they could, they would be emptying their family’s assets.

Hugh was the richest among them and 11 billion was about one-fifth of his assets.

However, he would only use his money to invest in projects or fixed assets. It would be very hard on him if he were to take out 10 billion right now.

How many people in this world were still working their bottoms off for a salary of thousands of dollars?

Wasn’t it nice to keep the 11 billion and spend it on himself?

This was incomprehensible.

Everyone thought David was insane.

Only David himself was secretly thrilled that he had added another 110 lavish points.

When the gang was racking their brains to try to get close to David and form a relationship with him, a man’s flustered and exasperated voice came from the place where people could practice golfing.

Slap!

“You b*tch, did I give you permission to do that?”

Then, they could hear a woman’s muffled sobbing.

A few of them went over and pulled the man back.

The man who was pulled back was still yelling at the woman as he walked.

“Do you believe that I’ll f*cking destroy your reputation tomorrow?”

The woman also followed behind him.

David felt that this woman was a little familiar.

I’ m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 46

Wasn’t that the celebrity Marie Kent ?

A few days ago, he heard Mr. Gomez say that he wanted to ask Marie to play the supporting female lead i in his movie and have Tara as the female lead. However, Tara rejected him.

David did not think that he would see this celebrity so soon.

However, she was not as bright and beautiful as she was on television.

Her left cheek was slightly red and swollen. It might be from the slap just now, which David could even hear from where he was seated.

David liked Marie back then. She was in a lot of television shows and movies, and she was regarded as the Geek Conqueror. Back then, David was one of these fans.

Looking at the goddess whom he used to worship right now, David was not that interested anymore.

Indeed, the goddesses who looked so beautiful and cool to the paupers were just playthings to those bigshots.

She was taken advantage of, slapped, and she still had to follow behind him obediently.

Unbeknownst to him, right now, David was also a big shot in the eyes of others.

Marie lifted her left hand to touch her slightly red and swollen face as she sobbed softly.

She felt aggrieved. Just now, that man touched her bottom and chest. She was only trying to stop him, but she was slapped.

However, she did not dare to leave because her agent told her that if she infuriated these men, her future would be ruined.

Not only would she be finished, but the company behind her would also be finished.

Thus, she could only stay here and see whether she could quell his temper.

“John, can you stop this?” Hugh said with his eyebrows furrowed.

“Greene, stay out of this. I only touched her a few times and she’s pretending to be so innocent. Listen, Marie, if you don’t wash up and wait for me tonight, I’ll ruin your reputation tomorrow!”

“I’m sorry, Mr. York,” Marie said softly.

“Sorry? What the hell can I do with sorry? Wash up and wait for me tonight, do you hear me?”

“I’m sorry, Mr. York.”

“I asked you if you f*cking heard me?”

“Mr. York, 1.”

“Do you want to be f*cking beat up?”

After John said that, he stood up and slapped Marie again.

Marie was scared stupid, so she did not dare to move.

However, this final slap did not land on Marie’s face.

David, who was sitting at one side, could not watch this anymore. She used to be the goddess he worshiped, so he could not watch as she was slapped in front of him.

So, he stood in front of Marie and used his hand to stop John’s slap.

John was also stunned. He did not think that someone would dare to stop him.

“Who the f*ck are you, kid? How dare you interfere? Are you tired of living?” “Your name is John, right? How can you slap women? Are you still a man?” When the two of them were about to fight, Hugh quickly stood between them and said, “John, Dave, we’re family, don’t do anything impulsive!”

‘Who the f*ck wants to be family with him? Do I even know him?’
John asked disdainfully.

At this moment, someone whispered into John’s ear.

John’s unpleasant expression from a second ago was now replaced with a huge grin. “Oh, it’s Dave! I’m so sorry. Of course, we’re family. Since you have your eyes on this chick, then I’ll give her to you,” John said generously. Just now, someone told him that David spent 11 billion to forcefully upgrade from a normal member to a high-tier member.

John was just a middle-tier member, and a high-tier member was one tier higher than him.

Plus, David directly spent 11 billion to upgrade his tier. SCC had been founded so many years ago, but this had never happened. However, two people did spend 1 billion to upgrade to the middle-tier.

How much money did he have since he dared to spend so much money to upgrade his tier? This level of wealth was no longer comparable to the upstarts. David was definitely from a super-wealthy family which John could not afford to offend.

Since John was starting to admit defeat, David did not pursue the matter anymore.

Everyone sat down and started chatting. However, they were all here for David because they wanted to have a good relationship with him.

Meanwhile, Marie just stood behind him the whole time.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 47

David spent his day in Lake Heart Club and talked about a lot of things with everyone. Then, he parted with the others in the evening.

After he got out of Lake Heart Club, David drove his limited-edition Bugatti Veyron to Hilton Hotel alongside his previous goddess, Marie.

Marie was staying in the Hilton Hotel and David wanted to send her back before going to find his cousin Lily.

In the car.

"Mr. Lidell, thank you!" Marie said gratefully.

If it were not for David, she would be finished because it was either get under John or get her reputation destroyed.

She did not once doubt whether John had that ability.

Even her boss was scared of this person.

She turned her head slightly to look at David's side profile and was mesmerized.

David's appearance, body, and personality were great, plus, he even had a background that would scare

John.

This kind of man was just like the star in the night sky. He would be the most dazzling figure no matter where he went

She wondered what kind of woman would be a match for such an exceptional man.

Perhaps only women who were on the same level as him. :

Marie could only hide her foolish crush at the bottom of her heart.

"It's fine, it's just a small matter. Miss Kent, I like the movies you were in," David said.

"Really? Mr. Lidell, do you really like my movies?" Marie asked in surprise.

She did not think that a big shot like David would pay attention to her.

This overwhelmed her with surprise.

David was stunned.

'Are you really so surprised about that?

'You're the new Geek Conqueror and one of the four rising stars.

'Is it strange that I like your movies?

'So many people in my university love your movies.

'Not only your movies, I even have two posters of you in a bikini in my dormitory!'

However, he could not tell her this.

"Yeah, I like it a lot."

"Mr. Lidell, which one of them do you like?" Marie asked.

"I like..."

David's phone rang in the middle of the conversation.

He stopped the car by the road and took out his phone to have a look, only to see that it was from his cousin Lily.

After he answered the phone, he said, "Hey, Lily, I'm in Lake City now. I'll go to find you soon."

"Dave, I'm in Dazzling KTV, please come and save me. I think I've been drugged and I'm so dizzy right now." Lily's weak voice came from the other end of the phone.

David was stunned and he immediately realized the seriousness of this matter.

"Send me your location. I'll come right over. Hold on."

After David said that, he turned around and said to Marie, "Miss Kent, I'm sorry. I have an emergency, so can you..."

Marie could tell that David was in a rush so she said, "You can go if you have something urgent to take care of, Mr. Lidell. The hotel I'm staying in is in front, I can just walk over."

"Thank you, Miss Kent. I'll buy you dinner next time." After Marie got out of David's car, David slammed on the accelerator and zoomed more than 10 meters ahead.

He was worried that his driving skills were not good enough, so he added 10 more lavish points on driving and upgraded it to expert.

Marie stood rooted to the spot, and watched David leave.

She murmured in disappointment, "He didn't even leave his contact number, but he's saying he'll buy me dinner. How insincere!"

However, when she remembered that her crisis had been resolved, she felt cheerful again. After that, she took out her sunglasses and hat from her bag. Once she put them on, she started walking toward the Hilton Hotel.

I' m A Quadrillionaire Chapter 48

Earth Private Room in Dazzling KTV

Lily was hiding in the toilet as she called David.

She wanted to come to the KTV with a few of her friends to relax. Unexpectedly, they ran into a few of the seniors from their university. In the end, everyone got into the same private room to have fun.

Then, some random people who looked like they were close with the seniors came in halfway.

With this, a gathering of only a few people became more than ten people. Moreover, she did not know most of them.

She and her friends planned to leave, but they were stopped a few times. At the end of the day, they were just weak girls and there were seven to eight guys on the other side.

If the guys did not let them leave, then they would not be able to leave. Finally, the girls were finally allowed to leave after they begged piteously.

However, they had to each drink a glass of alcohol before. The girls had no choice and just wanted to leave as soon as possible after they finished drinking.

However, after Lily finished drinking, she started to feel dizzy and her body started to feel weak. She was smart, so she knew she had been drugged. With that, she seized the opportunity to come to the toilet.

After she racked her brain, she figured she could only call David because he told her that he would come to Lake City today.

Right now, she could only wish for David to come faster. If not, she did not even dare to think about what would happen.

David was speeding toward Dazzling KTV. However, since he was in the city, he could not drive too fast.

He looked at the distance and calculated that if he kept driving at this speed, he would need about 20 minutes. He did not know whether Lily would be able to hold on for that long.

So, he called Hugh.

“Hey, Dave, what’s up?” Hugh’s voice came from the other end of the phone.

“Hugh, do you know the boss of Dazzling KTV? Can you contact them for me?” David asked anxiously. “Dazzling KTV? Yeah! Andy is Dazzling’s boss. You can call him...”

Before Hugh finished speaking, David hung up the phone. He did not have so much time to explain.

After he hung up, he called Andy.

“Dave?”

“Andy, listen to me, my cousin is in Earth Private Room in Dazzling, and she’s been drugged. I’m rushing there now but I will need about 20 minutes. I don’t know if she can hold on for that long. Can you ask the manager of Dazzling to take care of this for me first?”

After David finished talking, Andy knew this was serious.

“Dave, don’t worry. I’ll take care of this for you. I will not allow your cousin to get hurt.”

After Andy hung up the phone, he immediately called the manager of Dazzling.

After the manager got the call, he brought more than 20 security guards to head to Earth Private Room.

Dave, where are you? Hurry... They’re knocking on the door now,” Lily asked while sobbing. Lily, don’t be scared. There will be someone saving you soon. Hold on for 5 more minutes. No, 2 minutes. There will be someone saving you in 2 minutes.”

“Dave, I’m so scared... Hurry...”

Bang!

Before Lily could finish talking, the toilet door was forcefully opened by someone.

“Why are you taking so long? Your friends are waiting for you!”

Dave heard the voice of a strange man.

“Ah! I don’t know you! Go away!”

There was no more sounds on the phone.

“F*ck!”

David roared.

Now, he was boiling with anger.

He regarded Lily as his own sister.

He had been staying at her place for two years and her family was good to him. They never treated him as an outsider before.

Even when Lily’s brother was born, his aunt and uncle still treated David like he was their son.

What would he say to his aunt and uncle if something happened to Lily in front of him?

However, he was helpless now.

He could only hope that Andy was a man of his word.

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 49

After hearing his cousin Lily's screams on the phone, David did not care anymore.

Even if there were a lot of roads on the car, he started overtaking them.

He passed one after another car and he almost collided a few times, but he managed to avoid them using his expert driving skills.

In the Earth Private Room in Dazzling KTV.

Wally Leonard was knocking on the toilet door.

Lily just went in and had not come out yet. The drug should be working now, and he was ready to break in.

When he thought about how such a wonderful junior like Lily was about to belong to him, Wally became very excited.

He spent so much time and effort planning this just for the final moment tonight.

He knocked a few times but did not get any response.

Wally did not want to wait anymore, so he directly kicked the door open.

When he saw Lily on the phone, Wally quickly charged over and snatched the phone to hang up the call. Then, he grabbed Lily's hand and dragged her out.

After dragging Lily out from the toilet, he saw the others were starting to take action against their own targets.

Wally could not hold back anymore and he directly held Lily from behind.

Since Lily was drugged, her body felt weak and soft. She could not resist at all-even if she was not rugged, how could she win against a grown man?

She was feeling hopeless.

After she was pulled back to the private room, she saw her friends being harassed by the other men.

Even though they were conscious, they could not exert a single ounce of energy and could only be taken advantage of.

Lily could predict the fates of everyone including herself.

The man who dragged her out was already holding her from behind. She was fighting him with all her might, but it was no use.

At this moment, the door of Earth Private Room was forcefully opened from the outside.

Then, more than 20 security guards came in from the outside with electric batons.

“Don’t f*cking move. If anyone moves, I’ll break your head open.”

The manager of Dazzling KTV, Mike Holland walked in from the door.

Everyone in the room was shocked and no one dared to move.

“Which one of you is Miss Lily Greg?” Mike asked.

“Me! I am!”

Lily quickly got out of Wally’s grip and ran to Mike. She figured that this person must be the person Dave asked to save her.

However, after taking two steps, her knees gave out and she fell to the floor.

“Hurry up and help Miss Greg to the sofa,” Mike said to the security guards next to him.

Then, the two security guards nearest to Lily went over and helped her up.

Mike then walked to Wally and said, “You’re pretty bold, kid! How dare you do this kind of dirty trick in my place? And you’re even doing it to the boss’ friend? Tell me what I should do with you?” Wally was so scared his knees buckled and he knelt in front of Mike. Then, he slapped himself and said," Mike, I was wrong. Please have mercy on me. We had dinner before, my father is Tim Leonard."

He was terrified.

Even though Mike was only the manager of Dazzling KTV, he was also a popular savage among the gangsters.

Now, he was even working for the boss behind Dazzling KTV.

It was said that the boss of Dazzling KTV was very mysterious.

His father was just the owner of a company, and he was a far cry from the other party.

Lily was the friend of the boss of Dazzling KTV?

Those two kids were going to get him into so much trouble.

Wally felt that his life might go downhill from this day on. Not only would he not get out of his mess, but h e might also even get his father into trouble.

Mike looked at Wally, who was kneeling in front of him while furiously slapping himself. If this was a few years prior, he might not even have said anything before taking action.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 50

However, after working for his current boss, he learned a lot of things.

Sometimes, violence could not solve anything.

Also, as a leader, it was low of him to use violence to solve problems.

Right now, he preferred using his identity, background, and ability to suppress the other party, just like this person in front of him. Once he heard Mike's name, he directly kowtowed and apologized.

"Come here!" Mike told the rest of the gang.

The few of them walked over timidly and knelt next to Wally. After that, they started slapping themselves too.

If Wally did not dare to challenge Mike, then, of course, they would not dare to challenge him either.

After a few minutes, the faces of the people kneeling on the floor were swollen from the slapping. There was even blood on the corners of their lips, but they did not dare to stop

If Mike took action against them, it would not be as simple as a few slaps.

"That's enough. Stop it," Mike said.

"Thank you, Mike! Thank you, Mike!" They all felt as if they were relieved from a huge burden.

David finally arrived at this moment.

When he entered the private room, he saw 20 to 30 security guards with electric batons and a few people kneeling in the middle of the room. Their faces were swollen and there was blood on the corners of their lips. Meanwhile, Lily was sitting on the sofa.

"Lily!"

"Dave!" When Lily saw Dave, she wanted to cry.

Dave quickly walked over to pull Lily into his arms.

"It's over now. Everything's over now," David comforted her.

"You must be Mr. Lidell." Mike spotted David too.

"Hello, I'm David. Thank you for saving my sister."

"You don't have to be so polite with me, Mr. Lidell. I should apologize to you because this happened in my territory," Mike said courteously.

This was the person his bosses asked him to serve well. Of course, he did not dare to neglect David.

"Mr. Lidell, what should we do with them?" Mike asked.

The people on the ground did not even dare to breathe too loudly.

They could tell that David was not someone ordinary from the conversation just now, David should be the friend of the boss of Dazzling KTV!

David looked at the people kneeling on the ground.

If something happened to Lily, he might not be able to control himself from crippling these people. However, since Lily was fine, he calmed himself down.

"Lily, what do you think we should do to them?" David asked Lily.

"Dave, I just want to leave this place as soon as possible," Lily answered weakly.

"Fine, we'll just let Andy handle this." As David said that, he helped Lily up and was about to leave.

"Dave, those are my roommates. They came with me."

"Can you guys walk?" David asked Lily's roommates.

"Yes," the three of them answered at the same time.

"Let's go back together then."

David supported Lily in front while her roommates followed behind them.

After David left, Mike took out his phone to make a call.

"Is it done?" Andy asked.

"It's done. Mr. Lidell has left, and his sister is fine too," Mike answered.

"Alright, well done."

"However, Mr. Lidell said you should take care of these scoundrels before he left."

"Who are they?"

"They should be the kids of some company owners."

“Send them to prison, then you should decide what to do with their families.” “Yes, boss!”
