Chapter 91

It was midday by the time David woke up the next day.

After getting up and washing up, he went to the Golden Leaf Hotel for a meal. While he was at it, he packed some food with high nutritional value for Paul and his mother before going to Champion Hospital.

While David was on the way to the hospital, two men in their thirties came to Paul's hospital room and began chatting with him.

"Boss, what happened to you? Who injured you?"

"Yeah, you've rarely suffered such serious injuries even when we were on the battlefield. With your physical strength, it will take at least a month for you to heal."

"Why? Do you want to avenge me?" Paul asked.

"No, if you can't defeat them, it'll be useless even if we went."

"Who says I can't defeat him? Neither side won, okay? He's not much better! I think he's lying in bed like me now!"

"Is he severely injured? Who are you talking about? Where? We'll go and f*ck him up!"

"Shut up!"

"By the way, how have you guys been recently?" Paul asked.

"I don't want to talk about it. I am uncultured and I only have a lot of energy. It's basically useless where I'm from. I can only move bricks on the construction site to make money, but at least I can sleep peacefully because it's more stable than working abroad."

"My situation's almost the same," replied another.

"If we didn't accept the last task, all twelve of us would be fine now," Paul said in a low voice.

"Boss, that was the unanimous decision from all of us. We all wanted to come home and buy a car, a house, and get married. I blame God for being unfair to us."

As they were talking about this, the three of them were a little silent. This was something that they still could not get over.

On the day before returning to the country, nine of the twelve brothers were gone in the blink of an eye.

Only the three of them came back alive. So, after they came back, they gave all the money they made in the past years to the families of their fallen brothers.

After a while, Paul said, “Now that you’re back, don’t go back there anymore. You’ll waste all of your talents!”

“What else can we do then? Our country can’t compare to other countries. Everything here is so strict and if we don’t pay attention, we might get ourselves locked up,” one of them said.

“Right now, I’m working for someone named Mr. Lidell. He’s studying here in River City. My main job is to protect his safety in secret. You guys should take over for me while I’m recuperating! Mr. Lidell said if you work for him, he’ll give you the best treatment.”

“Really? We’re the best at protecting the safety of our employers. Plus, our country is much safer than the other countries, so I’m sure it’s much safer. How much money will Mr. Lidell give us per month? I can only make eight thousand bucks a month on the construction site. I won’t say yes if it’s lower than that.”

“You must be dreaming. Do you still think you’re abroad? How is this more tiring than working on a construction site? It’s definitely less than that,” the other person interrupted.

“At least five thousand bucks then.”

“You’re such an embarrassment. Listen, Mr. Lidell is letting me drive a car that is worth millions. Are you still worried about your measly salary? This job has a monthly salary of at least ten thousand bucks!”

“Really? I won’t go back then. When are you introducing him to us?”

“What about this afternoon? I think he’s still resting now. I’ll call him later this afternoon.”

As the three were chatting, David entered the room.

“Mr. Lidell, why are you here?”

Paul wanted to get up quickly, but David stopped him. “Paul, rest well. I brought you some food. These must be the friends you were talking about.” “Mr. Lidell, let me introduce you.” Paul introduced the friends he had previously worked with to David. The slightly taller one was named Gordon Michaels while the slightly shorter one was Wayne Coulson. The two of them did not look very muscular, but their every move appeared powerful.

This was the display of extreme explosive power.

Those bodybuilders on television looked very muscular but they might not be too strong.

“Paul, you should rest first. I’ll take them to get lunch to welcome them,” David said.

“Mr. Lidell, we can take care of our lunch ourselves. You don’t have to go through the trouble,” Gordon said.

“Since we’re at this stage, you should just listen to me.”

I’ m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 92

Chapter 92

“You should just go with Mr. Lidell,” Paul said.

David drove his Benz G-Class and took the two to the Fuller Golden Sands Entertainment Center.

Then, David let them drive his Benz G-Class while he drove his Bugatti Veyron in front of them.

Since Paul was injured last night and could not drive, they left the Bugatti Veyron here.

Inside the Benz, Wayne drove the car as they followed David’s car.

To mercenaries who had been working abroad many years like them, driving was the most basic skill. Aside from cars, they could even drive tanks.

“Gordon, I think Boss is working for the right guy this time. Mr. Lidell is definitely a rich person. I think the car he’s driving right now is worth tens of millions. Plus, he's pretty nice too. He even brought Boss food," Wayne said as he was driving.

"Yeah, so we have to perform well and not embarrass Boss," Gordon replied.

"Of course!"

David led the two to the Golden Leaf Hotel.

Gordon and Wayne were stunned when they saw a hotel with such extravagant decorations.

Even though the two of them had been abroad for so many years, they were in war-torn countries so they were not familiar with such fancy places.

"Um, Mr. Lidell, we can eat at a random place. You don't need to take us to such a fancy place."

"It's fine. This is my hotel, so if you're ever free, you can stay and eat your three meals here. I'll bear all of the expenses."

"This is his hotel and we're eating and staying here from now on?"

The two were a little dazed when they looked at the eight-star hotel in front of them.

After they had lunch, they kind of wished that this would never end.

They had been alive for so many years and they had never had such good food.

They were living such horrible lives back then.

At night, Charles called David and asked him to go to the Fuller Golden Sands Entertainment Center.

When David arrived, he saw Harry and Six Camden kneeling in the private room.

When they saw David, they kept kowtowing to him.

"Mr. Lidell, I was wrong. Please forgive me! I will never dare to do that again."

Thump thump thump!

The two kept kowtowing until their foreheads started to bleed.

"Dave, I'll let you handle them both. You can do anything you want with them and I'll clean up after you," Charles stood up and said to David.

After he said that, he exited the private room.

David looked at the two and did not say anything.

This was the change brought about by strength.

If he was still a normal university student, what would happen to Patrick and his girlfriend?

David called the victims Patrick and Madison over.

When Madison got here, she was still scared.

Patrick immediately went up to Harry and punched him furiously.

The entire room was filled with Harry's screams of pain.

He had been holding himself back. He watched someone else bully his girlfriend in front of him, and if David did not get there in time, he would be traumatized for life.

In the end, Patrick finally stopped when Harry was beaten until there were multiple fractures throughout his body and was then sent to the hospital.

No one did anything to Six Camden. Even though he was Harry's boss, this incident had no direct relation to him.

So, they would just let Paul take care of him.

I' m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 93

Chapter 93

The Labor Day break ended just like that.

David walked on the campus of South River University on the first day of class.

"Wow, isn't that the Piano Prince David? If he sings 'Boy' to me, I'll agree to be his girlfriend!"

"Stop dreaming! No way he'd like you!"

"What if he likes someone like me?"

"I'm sure he likes someone like me!"

David looked at the two girls who were talking and could not help but shudder.

One of them was overweight and one of them had blemishes all over her face.

David walked quicker to his class and noticed that there were a lot of people talking about him while he was on his way. However, most of them were on the same level as the two girls who were talking about him earlier.

The girls in this university were incomparable with the girls in the Multimedia University. They were different on so many levels.

By the time he reached his class, most of the students were already there. When they saw David, they stared at him with strange expressions.

It was because David's performance was too shocking on the Labor Day talent show.

Not only did he write the song and compose it himself, he even sang it while playing the piano.

Moreover, the lyrics were so good.

David looked at the students in his class. When he spotted Ava, he felt much better.

He finally saw someone that was not horrifying.

Then, he went back to his seat.

Morning class ended just like that.

The classes in the afternoon were optional, so David was dragged to the indoor basketball court to play basketball by Patrick and a few of his roommates.

Back then, David would also be asked to go. He liked playing basketball and he liked to listen to the cheers of the students on the court. Of course, the most important thing was that Sarah liked to watch too. However, that was only in his imagination.

With his skills, aside from a few rounds with Patrick and the gang, he would not even participate in matches between classes because he was just not good enough.

Although he was 180cm tall, his body was too thin, and he did not have much strength. He would even stumble backward if someone bumped into him. Plus, he did not have time to practice his basketball skills.

However, that was before. Now, David's body had reached its peak, and he figured no one would be able to move him if they bumped into him now.

The four of them started getting into teams and soon competed with each other in teams of two.

Patrick and David were a team while William and Finn were another.

Patrick was on the university's basketball team.

Even though he was just a backup, most people could not compare to him. So, he could only guide an amateur like David so that all of them could play together.

David would be responsible for serving the ball.

After a while, it would basically be just Patrick against the other team.

When the four of them were having fun, Leo and a few of his people came over.

Since there was limited room in the indoor basketball court, everyone would have to fight for space.

There were a lot of outdoor courts, but since it was noontime and it was hot, no one would go out there to torture themselves.

Normally, no one would snatch a court that someone else was using unless they were willing to play together. If the people in the court refused to leave, then the other party could only leave.

Of course, that would be the normal situation. There were so many powerful guys on campus and whenever they were here, someone would have to give up their court to them.

For example, Mr. Howard Jackson, the president of the student council of South River University and the most handsome guy on campus. If he was around, no one would stubbornly refuse to give him their court.

Leo was not at that level yet.

David kept serving the ball while standing at the three-point field.

When Leo and his gang were not far away from him, one of them asked loudly, "Leo, I heard you got Sarah pregnant? Is that true?"

“Of course it’s true! Who asked her to be so weak? I only slept with her a few times and she got pregnant. Sigh, seriously,” Leo sighed and answered.

“What are you going to do then, Leo? Are you going to marry her?”

“Marry her? What am I going to do? I’ll give her some money to abort it, what else?”

“Leo, you’re the man. David has been dating Sarah for so long and he never got her pregnant. She only dated you for a few days and she’s already pregnant.”

“Honestly, Sarah was still a virgin when she got with me. I don’t like to play with other people’s old toys.”

“What? A virgin? Is it possible that David can’t get it up?”

“How would I know? But I think so.”

“Hahaha!”

Then, the gang started laughing.

Leo and his gang’s loud exchange caused some people around them to start discussing among themselves. Then, they started to talk about David vomiting blood and passing out again.

Sarah and Sophie were walking over at this moment. When they heard what everyone was talking about, Sarah’s face turned pale and tears started welling up in her eyes.

David turned his head to glance at Leo and his gang.

Naturally, Leo stared at David without showing weakness.

Patrick and the other two guys walked over as well.

“Leo, I can’t control what you want to say, but if you mention my name one more time, I’ll make you go out here on your knees, do you believe that?” David looked at Leo and said flatly.

He was a little mad. He could not control what Leo said about Sarah because it was a path Sarah chose.

However, this scumbag was telling everyone that he could not get it up.

This was extremely intolerable. ‘I was respecting her, what’s so wrong about that?’ When Leo was about to speak, he saw Sarah glaring at him with a pale face and red eyes.

“Leo, are you still human? Sarah suffered so much for you. How dare you talk about her like that in front of so many people!” Sophie said angrily.

Leo felt a little embarrassed right now as he was the one who made David so angry that he vomited blood and passed out.

So, when he saw David, he wanted to trigger him again to see if he could humiliate him like last time. There were so many people watching, so the effect would be better than before.

How dare David become so close to Amelia. Now, he had to be ready to accept Leo’s revenge, however, he did not expect Sarah to be behind him.

“Leo, tell me, why are you doing that to me? What did you tell me when we started dating? You told me that you’ll be with me forever and that you’d marry me after we graduate. How many days has it been?” Sarah asked as she wept.

Leo was in a dilemma now. However, it would be impossible for him to apologize to Sarah in front of so many people.

If that was the case, how would he continue to show his face in South River University?

So, he braced himself and said, “Sarah, I’m done with you. Don’t you just want money? Tell me, how much do you want? I’ll give it to you!” He could not lose his prestige in front of so many people. If worse came to worst, he would spend more money to buy some clothes or bags to coax Sarah.

“You...”

Sarah did not expect Leo to say something like that in front of so many people, so she did not know how to answer him. Then, she turned around and ran away in tears.

“Leo, you animal!”

After Sophie said that, she turned around to chase after Sarah.

I' m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 94

Sarah and Sophie left.

However, some people were arrogant and despotic at the scene.

There were four on David's side while there were five on Leo's side. One of them was even a starting member of the university's basketball team.

He was 190cm tall and he was at least 250 pounds.

On the surface, David's side was in a disadvantageous position..

The bystanders around them kept instigating both sides. Honestly, they did not care how big this matter became.

However, a group fight would be a major event on campus, and it would break the bottom line of the university. Aside from David, the rest of them did not dare to cross this line.

Even a rich kid like Leo would not dare to do so. If he was expelled, not only would his father would cut off all his financial support, he might even break his legs.

Thus, the two sides just stood there.

At this moment, someone suggested that they should have a 3 vs 3 street basketball match. This was the best way to resolve a conflict on the basketball court.

Leo immediately agreed as this was just up his alley.

David only had Patrick who was considered good as he was a backup for the university basketball team, the other two were just decent. David was even worse as he was just an amateur, so Leo was not even concerned about him.

There was a starting member on his side. A starting member was not on the same level as a backup. Plus, he was not weaker than Patrick, so he would definitely win.

“What do you think, David? Do you dare to do this? Don't back away if you're a man! If you don't dare, we will only send three of us to go against all four of you,” Leo said to David arrogantly.

“Dave, don’t fall for that. He’s purposely saying that to trigger you. Gorilla’s around and we won’t have a chance,” Patrick at one side whispered to David.

Patrick was not someone who would admit defeat easily. However, now that they were against the university basketball team’s starting member, Max ‘Gorilla’ Thompson, he had to back down.

Since they were all from the basketball team, they would always train together. Therefore, Patrick knew Max’s strength very well.

He would almost be invincible if they were to play half-court street basketball. They might only have a chance if it was a full-court because after all, he was big and he had limited stamina.

Leo saw Patrick talking David down and said directly to him, “Patrick, stop spewing nonsense, you coward.”

“Leo, if you have the balls, don’t make Max play. Just compete with us.”

“Not make him play? If that’s the case, why don’t I just fight you with my fist? You’re indeed a coward. If you don’t have the guts, you should just get lost!”

Patrick wanted to retort but David spoke.

“Alright, let’s do it.”

“Dave!”

At one side, Patrick quickly yelled out.

“Pat, I know what I’m doing.”

David’s basketball skills were bad back then, but it did not mean that he was bad right now.

He silently added basketball skills on the skills column and then, he spent 10 lavish points to upgrade it to Expert.

With his maximum physical strength as a backup, it was not an exaggeration to say that David was almost god-like in basketball.

Leo quickly said, “You’re the one who agreed to this, David. A word spoken can never be taken back.”

“Yeah, I said that. Leo, how do you want to do this?” David asked.

“Since it’s a match, how could we not have a prize? Whoever loses will have to go to the broadcasting room on campus tomorrow during lunch break and yell ‘I am a piece of trash’ in front of all the lecturers and students. After that, the losing side will have to host an apology feast in Golden Leaf Hotel, what do you think?”

“Alright, let’s do that,” David answered nonchalantly.

“Dave, we...”

Patrick wanted to say something, but Dave interrupted him, “It’s fine, Pat. Just do your best.”

“Alright, the rule will be a 3 vs 3 street basketball. Whoever gets 10 goals will win. A typical three-pointer will now count as 2 points. No problem with that, right?”

“Not at all.”

“Right, how many of you will go? Three or four?” Leo asked in a mocking tone.

“Just three of us will go.”

“You made this choice, so don’t blame me for bullying you.”

David and Leo were going to have a 3 vs 3 street basketball match. News of this was spread around by some nosy people.

If they lost, not only would they need to say ‘I am a piece of trash’ in the university’s broadcasting room, they would even have to host an apology feast in Golden Leaf Hotel. The stakes were high. 1

Aside from the humiliation, they stood to lose money. One table at the Golden Leaf Hotel would cost at least tens of thousands.

Soon, more and more students showed up at the gymnasium of South River University.

Some of the students even skipped class to come to watch.

When David’s classmates heard this, they naturally came over to observe. Some of them came to cheer for David and some of them came to watch David make a fool of himself.

“Wow, isn’t that Amelia, one of the Three Campus Belles? I didn’t expect her to come.”

I' m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 95

Chapter 95

“Haven't you heard? Amelia is dating David!”

“No way!”

“What do you mean no way? I saw them walk out of campus together with my own eyes.”

“Wasn't Leo pursuing Amelia this whole time? I didn't think that David would be one step ahead of him. No wonder the two of them would fight whenever they saw each other.”

“I heard Leo was the one who stole David's girlfriend Sarah, so that's why David took down Leo's goddess, whom he had thus far failed to pursue.”

“Damn, what a badass!”

“Look, isn't that Ava?” Another person yelled.

“Damn, yeah, it is!”

“Now, only Luna from the Three Campus Belles of SRU is not here. Do you think she'll come?”

“Probably not. Luna isn't nosy.”

Both sides were now ready.

Patrick, William, and Finn were on David's side.

David would not play yet. He wanted to see how they would do.

Meanwhile, Leo, Gorilla Max, and one of Leo's attendants were on Leo's side.

The referee was one of the players from the university's basketball team.

With a whistle, the match started.

Patrick was the first to serve the ball.

Patrick dribbled the ball skillfully and bent his body. The ball traveled between his legs while Leo stood right in front of him.

Then, Patrick sped up. He dribbled the ball with his right hand and moved quickly to the right.

Leo quickly followed behind him to stop him.

Then, Patrick stopped abruptly and used his left hand to dribble the ball to move it to the left.

Leo failed to follow him, and he let Patrick enter the restricted area.

When Patrick moved past Leo to get ready to jump on the restricted area and send the ball into the basket, a huge figure appeared in front of him.

Gorilla Max jumped in front of Patrick. With his height and vertical reach, Patrick's shot would definitely be stopped.

Patrick reacted resourcefully and passed the ball in mid-air to Finn, who was waiting at the wing.

Finn caught the ball and since there was no one guarding him, he did a layup and the ball entered the basket easily

Team David 1 vs Team Leo 0.

Thunderous applause could be heard at the scene.

“Amazing!”

“Good shot!”

“Perfect!”

Leo's face turned dark.

It was time for the second ball.

Leo faced Patrick while holding the ball.

The crowd screamed when they saw him showing off his dribbling skills.

However, Patrick stopped him when he feinted going to the left but was actually dashing toward the right.

Leo took a step forward and jumped in front of Patrick to throw the ball.

Thud!

The ball hit the basket and bounced up.

When everyone was going to fight for the rebound, a hand directly pushed the ball that had bounced away back into the basket.

Gorilla Max's strength as the university team's starting member was no exaggeration.

Then, he made another rebound shot.

“Damn, what a bad*ss!”

“Go, Gorilla!”

“Do another one!”

Various screams could be heard at the scene.

Team David 1 VS Team Leo 1.

I' m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 96

Chapter 96

Gorilla Max learned the lesson from the first point and was no longer passive because of Patrick.

He would stay in the restricted area and would not jump randomly.

That way, Patrick and the gang could not do anything about him and they did not dare to enter the restricted area.

Thus, they would only shoot from outside the restricted area.

However, their lucks were not that good that day.

They shot several times, but none of them went into the basket.

With Gorilla guarding in the restricted area, it could be said that Leo was able to shoot unlimited times. Although his hit rate was very low, there would be someone keeping an eye on the rebound.

Whether it was offensive rebounds or defensive rebounds, Gorilla Max was able to make all of those himself.

Thus, Leo shot without any pressure.

Soon the score came to 2 to 8.

Team David had only two points, while Team Leo had eight, and with just two more points, Team Leo would win.

It was time for David to play.

If he did not play now, the match would be over if Leo scored a three-pointer.

David motioned to the referee to call for a timeout.

After the timeout, Patrick and the gang returned to the rest area.

“I'm sorry, Dave! My skills are not that great today. I'm unable to make a lot of the outside shots,” Patrick said apologetically.

“Us too.”

Finn and William were also said.

“It’s okay. I’m the one who accepted this match. It’s good that you’ve done your best. I’ll go next. Are any of you tired? You can go take a break first.”

“I’ll go,” William said.

“Alright, Will, you should rest first.”

Time was up.

David walked onto the court with Patrick and Finn.

“Damn, they got a replacement.”

“Isn’t that the guy who sang ‘Boy’ during the Labor Day talent show? His name is David, right? Does he know how to play basketball?”

“No way. He’s just a noob,” Dean said from one side.

Ever since the Labor Day talent show, Dean had been mad at David. He was just a nameless pauper in class and now he’s suddenly the Piano Prince.

He should be in the limelight with Ava, but in the end, David stole it from him.

Dean’s answer pissed off a lot of the students from their class.

“Dean, it’s fine if you don’t want to cheer for your classmate, but how can you dampen his enthusiasm? You’re the class monitor!”

“Yeah, you’re just jealous. David is so much more talented than you. Not only did he write and compose his own song, he even sang while playing the piano. How can you compare to him?”

A few of the girls in class scolded Dean.

Now, David was the idol of a lot of the girls in David’s class.

Back then, they never noticed David. However, after the Labor Day talent show, they noticed that David was getting increasingly handsome day by day. Plus, he even became very classy.

Right now, David had some fans in South River University.

Ava was also staring curiously at David as the latter walked onto the court. She wanted to see what else David could do.

Amelia was also here to watch David. There was an affectionate glint in her eyes.

Leo watched as David walked into the court. “David, don’t forget 12 noon tomorrow. I’ll listen closely to piece-of-trash Lidell’s introduction.”

“The match is not over yet. You never know who’ll be the one listening to who’s introduction.”

“What? Do you think you’ll win? Do you think you can turn the situation around by coming onto the court? You seriously overestimated your capabilities,” Leo said sarcastically.

“We’ll know once this is over. Alright, let’s start.”

David did not retort. He much preferred replying with his skills. What was the use of just saying he was great?

The more Leo spoke, the more painful it would be if he failed.

The ball was in David’s court.

David stood at the three-point field and passed the ball to Patrick. Then, he hinted at Patrick to pass the ball back to him.

Patrick was about to dribble the ball to attack, but when he saw David’s hint, he hesitated before passing the ball back to David.

David caught the ball and used his right hand to lift the ball above his head. The person opposite him right now was Leo’s attendant. It was obvious that they were not worried about David at all.

More than 100 people at the scene could not take their eyes away from David. They wanted to see how he would attack

Then, they saw David pushing the ball with his right hand before it flew out.

‘What?’

‘Does he know how to play or not?’

‘He thinks the ball will go into the basket just like that?’

Everyone at the scene, including the people on the court, shared the same thought. The players even rushed under the board to snatch the rebound.

However, three seconds later, they were all stunned.

They watched the ball entering the basket without touching the net.

Team David 4 VS Team Leo 8.

“It went in? Can you believe that?”

“Damn, was he cheating?”

Even though a lot of them did not believe this, the ball indeed went into the basket.

“Go, David!”

“David, that looks so amazing! Do it again!”

Some of David’s fans started screaming for David.

The ball was in Leo’s court for the next shot.

David went up to defend voluntarily while Patrick went to the restricted area to stand opposite Gorilla Max.

“David, don’t think that you can change the situation because you got lucky. I’ll show you what real basketball is.”

Leo said and started displaying his fancy dribbling. He was now showcasing all kinds of fancy moves.

David was still standing in front of Leo, and he did not make any defense gestures.

“David, you’re provoking me. I’ll let you know the consequences of that.”

Suddenly, Leo sped up and moved past David’s right side. However, David did not react at all.

Leo was thrilled. When he got to the restricted area, he was about to jump and make a shot.

“Huh?”

“Where is the ball?”

“Where is my ball? Where did it go?”

Leo turned around and saw David holding the ball with his right hand at the three-point field. He then tossed the ball with the same movements as earlier.

The ball entered the basket without touching the net again.

Team David 6: VS Team Leo 8.

If the first time was luck, what was the second time?

There was an uproar at the scene.

“Damn, what a legend! How did he take the ball from Leo? Did you see it?”

“I didn’t. My eyesight went blurry for a bit and then Leo’s ball was taken from him.”

“Damn, he was too f*cking fast!”

“Who said David doesn’t know how to play basketball just now? He’s an expert in this!”

Leo’s face turned dark as he held the ball. This time, he did not say anything and he did not make so many fancy moves. He played steadily, and after he dribbled the ball causally, he intended to take the ball back and pass to Gorilla so that Gorilla could score another rebound.

However, before he took the ball back, he felt a breeze before the ball disappeared from his hands.

His ball was stolen from him again.

After David stole Leo’s ball, he walked past the three-point field and turned around before casually tossing the ball into the hoop.

Thus, the ball went through the basket without touching the net again.

Team David 8 VS Team Leo 8.

At this moment, the scene was silent.

Everyone was astonished.

This was the third three-pointer that went into the basket without touching the net.

This was not just luck now.

David was definitely an expert who was playing dumb to take advantage of his opponents.

Leo asked for a timeout.

He had no choice. If David made another three-pointer, he would be finished. He had to discuss with his team how they could stop David.

I' m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 97

Chapter 97

Leo called for a timeout and began discussing how to stop David.

Team David at the rest area.

“Well, well well, Dave, you’ve been lying to us all this while!”

“That’s right, you weren’t ever so serious when you played with us. Why? Were you looking down on us?”

Patrick and the gang were also making fun of David.

They did not expect David to be so powerful.

Although Patrick knew that David’s identity was somewhat mysterious, he did not expect him to play basketball so well.

“No, my friends, I just got enlightened recently.”

David said with a wry smile.

“How should I explain this?”

“Should I tell them I got a super cool system and I can just add points to whatever I want to learn?”

“Would they believe me?”

Amelia sat in the audience. She was watching David taking a break and was getting ready to go down and hand David the water in her hand.

However, before she could do that, she saw that several girls had already gone over to deliver water to David.

Hence, she could only puff out her cheeks and sit there angrily.

“David, you are so handsome! Come, have some water.”

A girl ran onto the court and handed David the mineral water in her hand.

“Drink mine! Drink mine!”

Before David could respond, another bottle was handed over to him.

“David, I adore you so much! Can you write a song for me too? I’ve already thought of the name, you can just call it ‘Girl’.”

David was quickly surrounded by several girls.

Only a few men sat at Leo’s side. There was not a single person who came to deliver water to them.

Although Leo was rich and a veritable kid from a wealthy family, his reputation was not very good.

He was a playboy who was always throwing his weight about.

Seeing that David was so popular, Leo was in a bad mood. He quickly walked onto the court with his two teammates and signaled at the referee to start the game.

Leo served the ball from the three-point field.

Gorilla Max did not stay under the basket anymore and instead went straight out to take Leo's pass. Then, he bowed his body, dribbled the ball with his right hand, and prepared to shoot the ball directly into the net. With his height and weight, the shot was already in the bag once he went under the basket.

Patrick was gradually being pushed under the basket by Max. He did not have a good solution either. His body and strength were too poor, so he could only desperately resist. However, it was useless, and he was quickly pushed under the basket.

Max jumped up forcibly, grabbed the ball with his right hand, and dunked the ball.

He was about to dunk with Patrick between him and the basket.

"Good shot!" Leo yelled.

This shot was definitely in the bag. Gorilla Max was second to none in South River University in terms of being an overlord under the basket. Just as Max was about to dunk the basketball, a figure suddenly appeared in front of him and slapped the ball out of his hand.

Slap!

The ball flew out.

This figure that suddenly appeared was David.

He had been keeping an eye on Max's actions at one side this entire time.

This was because he was waiting to block at the final moment.

Max 'Gorilla' Thompson, the starting member of South River

University's basketball team, was blocked?

After this, the students who knew about basketball at the scene could not sit still anymore.

The ones who came here to join in the fun did not know anything about basketball and they did not know what this blocked shot against Gorilla Max meant.

"Damn, Max's forceful dunk was blocked by David! Am I seeing things?"

"He's so amazing! That's so unbelievable! That's Gorilla Max! He's about 200cm tall but David who's 180cm tall managed to block his shot!"

Voices of discussion reverberated through the gymnasium.

They were not so surprised when David managed to make three three-pointers in a row. He only managed to cause an uproar among those people who came in to join the fun.

However, this blocked shot was shocking.

He dared to go head-on with Max, and even blocked his shot. David was so awesome!

Now, an even louder cheer reverberated through the gymnasium.

"Go, David!"

"David, I love you!" All kinds of screams could be heard at the same time.

Chapter 98

Leo felt as horrible as if he had eaten feces.

After Max landed, he was still standing there in a daze. He had not come back to his senses yet.

He was blocked?

And this happened in South River University?

He had never been blocked like this even when he went to compete with other universities.

This was a humiliation in his basketball career.

Max looked at David in front of him, who was about a head shorter than him. Then, he said the first sentence since coming onto the court.

“David, you son of a gun.”

However, it was clear that he said this with endless anger.

David shrugged and said, “You’re not bad yourself.”

Then, he ran back to the three-point field to catch the ball, leaving Max to stand there with a dark face that gradually turned pale.

When the ball was slapped out of Max’s hand, it coincidentally landed near Finn.

Then, David caught the ball Finn passed him.

Leo immediately pressed up against David to stop him from making another shot.

David shook from left to right, but Leo was still close behind.

In reality, David could just make the shot because Leo was not an obstacle to him.

However, he felt that it was not brilliant and shocking enough to win just like that.

‘Isn’t it just a dunk? I know how to do that too, okay?’

David passed the ball to Patrick and then quickly turned around to move past Leo.

At this moment, Patrick passed the ball back to David.

Without Leo blocking him in front, David quickly ran into the restricted area while dribbling the ball.

“Damn, what is David doing? Aren’t his three-pointers extremely accurate? He’ll win if he throws another three-pointer. Why is he running into the area?”

“Who knows? Maybe he wants to dunk.”

“What a joke! Max is still in there. Who dares to dunk on top of him?”

“Just now, Max was blocked by David, so what else is impossible?”

“That was an accident!”

The discussion among the audience did not affect David.

A moment later, he ran into the area and jumped up like an eagle. After that, he pulled his right arm, which was holding the ball, all the way behind his head.

Damn, he was going to make a Tomahawk Dunk!

Everyone in the gymnasium was watching David closely.

Max watched as David ran in and jumped up. He wanted to make the dunk above Max.

How could Max make that happen? Just now, he was humiliated when he was blocked by David, and if Max allowed him to make a Tomahawk dunk above him now, wouldn't he be utterly insulted as the number one center in South River High?

When David jumped and dunked the ball, Max immediately jumped up too, and just like how David blocked him just now, he slapped the ball away from David's hand.

Slap!

However, the ball did not fly away like earlier.

Instead, the ball was now trapped in the air by two hands.

A lot of people captured this scene with their phones.

This was an extreme confrontation.

David looked at Max in front of him. In reality, he was not exerting any force at all. Even if there were ten Maxes in front of him, he would not be afraid.

He exerted some force on his right hand that was holding the ball.

Max could not hold on anymore.

David's right hand pushed the ball, and the ball forced past Max's right hand into the basket.

Slam!

The basketball was dunked heavily into the basket.

Max pulled back his hand when the back of it touched the basket.

He knew that with his current strength, he could not stop David's dunk anymore. If he did not pull his hand back, his hand might have been broken if David smashed it against the basket.

He did not expect David to be so strong.

At this moment, David's body touched his body.

Max could only feel a strong force before he flew backward uncontrollably. After he landed, he could not stand still and fell to the ground.

On the other hand, David landed steadily. Everyone present was beyond shocked.

I' m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 99

Chapter 99

The audience was shocked!

David actually sent Max flying!

Everyone was in disbelief.

David was only 180cm tall and weighed slightly more than 60kg, but he managed to send Max, who was nearly 200 cm tall and weighed 150 kilograms, flying?

This simply subverted everyone's imagination.

Max was also a little stunned as he lay on the ground.

It was one thing to be blocked, but he was even sent flying!

He had no face to get up anymore.

At one side, Leo also widened his eyes, his face full of astonishment.

The audience burst into deafening cheers.

After being called the Piano Prince, David now had a new title.

The Basketball Prince.

It was pretty clear who would score the next shot.

After David caught the ball, he did a dashing back-to-the-basket shot.

The ball entered the basket without touching the net.

Team David 10 VS Team Leo 8.

Did David not need to look at the basket when he made the shot?

This was a little too much.

He had a total of four three-pointers and a Tomahawk Dunk. All of them went in too.

The most incomprehensible thing was that he did not even look at the basket when he made the last three -pointer.

The game was over.

David's name once again resounded through South River University.

In the evening, Leo bought a table of the cheapest dishes at the Golden Leaf Hotel.

David and his friend did not mind. They were fine with it so long as they had something to eat.

At noon the next day, Leo went to the broadcasting room and yelled 'I am a piece of trash', causing all the students on campus to burst into laughter.

Leo was completely humiliated. Of course, he now hated David even more. He began constantly thinking about how to seek revenge against him.

The next few days went by peacefully. Two days soon passed in the blink of an eye.

This weekend, David promised Tara that he would go back with her. Since he had promised her, he would not go back on his word.

On Thursday, David was in class when he received a message from Amelia.

Amelia: (David, are you free tomorrow? I want to buy you a meal.)

David thought about it, and since he had nothing to do, decided he would go. He found it embarrassing to reject a goddess' invitation.

Therefore, he replied.

David: (Okay, tell me the venue and I'll be there tomorrow.)

Amelia: [You promised so you can't go back on your word. I'll tell you the place tomorrow.]

David: (Okay!)

The next day, David received a call from Amelia. She asked her to go to a restaurant next to the Fuller Golden Sands Entertainment Center.

Since the Fuller Golden Sands Entertainment Center was the biggest in River City, there were a lot of restaurants surrounding it.

They could immediately go have fun after a meal. Wouldn't that be great?

David drove his Bugatti to the Fuller Golden Sands Entertainment Center and parked at the entrance.

When he got to the restaurant, he realized that there were a lot of people there.

There were three huge tables with at least 20 people.

Even Leo and the other playboys were here.

"David, I treated you to a nice meal a few days before. Why are you here for a free meal again today?" Leo would not give up on a chance to roast David.

"Leo, are you not unconvinced that you were defeated two days ago? Why don't we choose a time for a rematch?"

"David, we're not on campus so who wants to have a basketball match with you again? Plus, today is Amelia's birthday and you didn't even bring a gift. What are you doing here if you're not trying to get a free meal?"

David had no idea that today was Amelia's birthday.

If he knew in advance, he would not have come because he did not want to spend time with people like Leo.

Besides, he did not even know these people.

"Alright, stop fighting. Today is my birthday, so you have to listen to me. Sit down and eat."

Amelia spoke and Leo stopped insulting David.

"Everyone, thank you for coming to my birthday party. Everyone here is my best friend. Thank you for taking care of me in South River University. I'll finish my drink first to show my respect."

After Amelie said that, she lifted her mug and finished all of the beer.

Everyone at the scene also lifted their mugs to drink some.

“Everyone, eat. When we’re done here, there will be more entertainment waiting for you.”

However, Leo was fuming throughout this meal. Since David was the latest superstar in the limelight of South River University, naturally, there were a lot of girls around him.

There were a lot of girls coming over to propose a toast to him and of course, David did not want to reject them, so he would drink to all of them.

However, there was something strange. Before this, David’s alcohol tolerance was very low and he would collapse after two bottles of beer, let alone liquor. He basically would not touch the hard stuff.

However, he drank so much alcohol today, and yet nothing was happening to him.

Was this one of the benefits of his body getting better? Was he already immune to alcohol?

After dinner, Leo and Jacob, two of Amelia’s protectors, brought everyone to a private room in the Fuller Golden Sands Entertainment Center.

They had reserved this place in advance.

David wanted to leave, but Amelia was paying special attention to him so he did not get the chance to do so.

After he entered the private room, he saw a huge cake with 21 layers that was almost as tall as a human.

It was because today was Amelia’s 21st birthday..

“Wow! What an enormous cake! This is the first time I am seeing something like this.”

“How romantic!”

The girls were exclaiming in admiration.

“How is it? Amelia, I made this cake especially for you,” Leo said.

“Thank you, Leo!” Amelia said gratefully.

“Me too. I spent a lot of time and effort getting this private room! Fuller Golden Sands is the best entertainment center in River City and you can't book such a big private room without some connections," another one of the protectors, Jacob, said, taking credit for his achievements.

"Thank you so much, Jacob!" Amelia quickly thanked him too.

"Make a wish now."

Amelia closed her eyes and started making a wish.

Since they had just eaten dinner, they pushed the cake to one side after Amelia made her wish. They would only eat after everyone got hungry again after they had fun.

At this moment, Leo took out a box and placed it in front of Amelia. He said, "Amelia, today is your birthday so I prepared a simple present for you. I hope you can accept it."

Amelia took the box.

"Amelia, open it. Let's see what Leo gave you."

"Yeah, open it! With Leo's status, we're curious what he'll give you."

Amelia opened the box after a few girls incited her.

Then, they saw a crystal necklace lying quietly in the box.

"Amelia, I chose this necklace just for you. Do you like it?" Leo asked.

Amelia took out the crystal necklace and a receipt fell out from the box.

Leo did this on purpose. He wanted everyone to see the value of this crystal necklace so that everyone would be jealous.

"Wow, this crystal necklace is worth 280 thousand bucks? It's so expensive!"

"Let me see! Let me see! Wow, it's true! Leo, you're so generous!"

Everyone present was shocked that Leo could casually give out a 200-thousand-dollar necklace.

I' m A Quadrillionaire by Xiruo Huang chapter 100

Chapter 100

Leo was feeling pleased with himself.

He spent so much money this time. Sarah refused to talk to him these two days and he could not coax her even after he bought her a lot of presents. In the end, Leo was also a little angry. Hence, he gave her 50 thousand dollars so that she would abort the child. After that, the two went their separate ways.

He had his fun with her anyway. After the initial excitement faded, it was time to move on to his next target.

Now, his attention was back to Amelia again. Amelia was a flower, and everyone could smell her sweet fragrance. However, no one could pick her, so he was itching to do so.

Plus, he spent a total of a few million on Amelia, so he would not be convinced if he just gave up like this. He had to take down Amelia no matter what.

A few million was not a small amount to a rich kid like him. Since he had been a little tight on money recently, he had to use all kinds of excuses to get this money from his parents.

At this moment, Jacob said, “A necklace, old chap? Aren’t you a bit cheap? Amelia, come, look at what I’m giving you.”

After Jacob said that, he took out a delicate box and handed it to Amelia. When Amelia opened the box, she saw a key to a BMW inside.

What?

Was he giving her a car?

Amelia’s roommates and friends were so envious of her.

If they were the ones who received the car, they might immediately get into bed with Jacob tonight.

“Amelia, you’re not into the one I gave you, so now, I changed it to another better one. This is a convertible BMW Z4 so it’s definitely better than the last one.”

On one side, Leo’s limelight was stolen by Jacob, and he said angrily, “Old boy, what did you say last time? You said you won’t fight me for Amelia after you accept my 3 million bucks. Are you going back on your word now?”

Leo immediately exposed the fight between him and Jacob for Rank 1 and their promise that day.

What ?

Jacob accepted 3 million dollars from Leo and promised he would not pursue Amelia ?

What the hell ?

Wasn't he a kid from a rich family ?

Why would he accept Leo's money this way ?

It seemed that he was a fake rich guy. Therefore, it appeared that Leo was much better.

The discussion around them caused Jacob's face to turn dark and then pale.

He did not think that Leo would expose this. It was making him feel embarrassed. "Old Chap, how dare you tell everyone the thing about the ranking? You said you're worried that you can't win against me so you voluntarily gave me 3 million dollars. In the end, I quit and you didn't even get Rank 1. How embarrassing," Jacob retorted.

"You took my money. You have to keep your promise if you're a man, unless you admit that you're not!"

"I agreed that I won't fight for Amelia with you, but if I don't take action now, Amelia will be taken by that pauper David. Didn't you see them having dinner together? It's all your fault for being such a disappointment. I'm fighting with David and not you. I never thought of you as my opponent anyway."

"You..." Leo could not say anything after he heard this reply.

David was lost. "What does this have to do with me? Why am I suddenly getting hit with collateral damage?"

He finally understood.

These two idiots were the same.

"Alright, stop fighting. Today is my birthday, can you at least show me some respect?" Amelia said.

Amelia spoke and the two stopped arguing.

Then, Amelia said, "Firstly, I want to thank you guys, but your gifts are too expensive, and I can't accept them. Take them back, please. I'm sorry."
