

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 496

David went back to his residence and saw that he still had about 6000 lavish points left. He wanted to cry but he did not have any tears.

The collection of the herbs needed for Mason should still take some time, and only after he had everything could David start to prepare them.

With the knowledge of Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine in his mind, since he was proficient in the medicinal properties of all these herbs, it was actually quite simple to prepare the medicine. The dosage needed to be very precise, but if he got the dosage correct, there should be no problems.

His current focus should be on lavish points, so all he needed to do was to raise his lavish points to 10000 as soon as possible and then first break through the extraordinary limit of his physique.

Otherwise, he would not feel safe doing anything now.

Mason killed one of the God Rank guardians.

That was to say, even if he entered the God Rank and became a guardian, he was still basically powerless to fight back when he encountered someone like Mason.

Who knew how many other powerful people were hidden in this world?

If it happened, wouldn't his life be over? He might not even be able to flee.

Therefore, it was not enough to just become a God Rank guardian, he needed to continue to improve, while becoming a God Rank guardian was only the first step.

David could not think about anything else at this time.

He called Hugo, the head of East League Capitals in Capital City

"Hello, Mr. Lidell, how are you?" Hugo said respectfully on the phone.

"Hugo, tell all of the regional heads and project heads of East League Capitals that we're having a video conference in an hour," David said straightforwardly.

He needed to put some pressure on these people.

After he heard those things Mason said, he felt very stressed too.

"Alright, Mr. Lidell. I'll do it now."

"Okay, I'll be there in an hour."

One hour later...

Inside the meeting room in the East League Capitals Capital City branch.

David was seated at the main seat.

The regional and project heads were all on the huge screen.

"Everyone's here, Mr. Lidell," Hugo said, standing at one side.

"Okay, start the video conference now."

"Alright," Hugo replied.

Then, Hugo said to the big screen, "Hello, fellow colleagues, we're hosting this video conference at the last minute today because the chairman wants to personally convey some instructions to everyone.

Everyone, please welcome Mr. David

Lidell, chairman of East League Capitals."

There was a round of applause from everyone in the video.

David stood up and said to the big screen, "Today I called everyone to this last-minute video conference because I need to tell you all something. You just need to listen quietly, and you don't need to talk.

"I'm very dissatisfied with the speed of development of the East League Capitals recently. Although we are very fast compared to other companies, it is still not enough, and it is far from my standards."

Everyone was shocked when they heard what David said.

Originally, they were quite satisfied with the development of their respective sectors. They also thought that the chairman would praise them and they were wondering whether they would be able to receive more bonuses at the end of the year, but they did not expect this to happen.

The people came to the meeting did not expect such an outcome because the development of East League Capitals was indeed fast enough compared to other companies.

They simply did not expect the boss' standards to be so high.

Chapter 497

"Next, I hope you can pick up the pace and speed up our progress. Just do whatever is beneficial to the development of East League Capitals, I don't care how much you spend and you don't need to report to me. Of course, the company will also check the accounts in the end, so you'd better not engage in any crooked means, especially since I treat you pretty well."

The reason why David said the last sentence was because once the money in his system was misappropriated by these people and was not spent on actual things, the system would judge it as a gift so his lavish points would not increase.

However, even David wanted to know how the system did it or how it came to the final judgment.

It was just that this was destined to be unanswered.

"I hope to build East League Capitals into a world class giant as soon as possible. The development of other companies is all about cutting costs, but I will never ask you to save money. Instead, I will only make you spend money like your life depends on it, which is also equivalent to giving you unlimited right to spend money. If you can't do it well, it'll prove that you don't have the ability for the role.

"If you don't have the ability, then I'll just replace you with someone else, someone who has the ability, someone who can spend money, and someone who can quickly encourage the development of the company. Meanwhile, you can just watch as others receive huge salaries and bonuses, live in huge mansions, and drive luxury cars. I believe you are not willing to let that happen, right?

“If you encounter any invincible resistances in the process of the development, such as the obstruction and threat of some local forces, just report it to me directly and I will personally take care of it.

“After today’s meeting, I hope to see some changes in everyone’s behavior. The deadline for this will be in half a month, whereby I will observe everyone’s results. If you meet my expectations, you will get 5 times your annual bonus at the end of the year. If you don’t, I’ll just get someone else to replace you.”

David’s words terrified the heads.

As far as they knew, the boss had never spoken in such a serious tone before.

It seemed that the boss was really dissatisfied with everyone’s work during this period.

They also started to feel a strong sense of crisis.

They had gained the envy of many of their colleagues for being able to hold high-level positions in East League Capitals.

It was because the treatment at East League Capitals was extremely good.

It was so good that they did not even bother to take advantage of their work.

They would even be wary when others tried to take advantage of it.

The salaries and bonuses they normally received were more than five times that of some of their peers. Additionally, they even received huge bonuses at the end of the year.

Now, the boss even said that if his expectations were met, the huge bonus would be increased five fold.

Everyone was always full of energy working under such a boss.

They would get more money here in one year than they would working ten years in their previous companies.

If they were discovered to be pulling cheap tricks, they would be putting the cart before the horse. No one would be stupid enough to do this.

“Okay, that’s it for today’s meeting. Although my tone is a little heavy, it is also to spur you on so that East League Capitals can enjoy better development. I hope you don’t take it to heart. Work hard to get a good result in half a month so that you’ll get five times your initial bonus at the end of the year and go home to enjoy a good new year.”

Clap clap clap clap!

A round of applause could be heard from the screen.

The video conference then ended.

David took a sip of his tea in the meeting room. He had said so many things in one breath and was parched.

Meanwhile, Hugo stood next to him quietly.

“Hugo, you heard what I said just now so I won’t repeat myself. I hope you can work hard. Capital City is the best platform available, and you have a far better starting position than them. I hope you won’t let me down.”

“I understand, Mr. Lidell. I’ll work hard to meet your expectations.”

“Alright, I’ll get going now. Continue to work hard. East League Capitals will not mistreat you in the future.”

“Yes, Mr. Liddell.”

Hugo walked David out of the front door of the East League Capitals Capital City branch respectfully.

Chapter 498

David left the East League Capitals Capital City branch.

The reason he started this video conference was not to build East League Capitals into a world-class giant as soon as possible as he claimed.

He simply wanted everyone to spend more money, so he could get more lavish points and improve his strength as soon as possible.

However, he could not tell them this because they would think that he had a few screws loose.

Therefore, he could only say that he hoped that the company would develop faster. If the company wanted to develop, it would naturally need to spend money.

Moreover, he had made it very clear that everyone had the right to spend unlimited money.

He felt that these people should be able to understand him.

David left the meeting as if nothing had happened, but the whole of East League Capitals could be described to be in great disorder.

The boss set a deadline of half a month, whereupon he would check everyone’s results. If they did not meet the standard, they would be replaced. This was not a joke.

All regional and project heads were taking the lead in working overtime.

Although David just wanted to spend money and did not want to see any results, no one thought the same as him.

In other words, normal people would think this way?

What boss would only ask their employee to spend money and not pay attention to the result?

How was this possible?

There was no such precedent.

They would only think that David wanted to see the results. However, if he wanted results, spending money was essential.

Thus, everyone was working overtime to over complete their tasks.

Even if they were not doing this for the five-fold bonus at the end of that year, they needed to at least keep their jobs.

Where would they find such a good job if they lost it?

It would be too late to regret by then.

It was only half a month, and it would be over if they clenched their teeth and endured it.

After the video conference, the entire East League Capitals went into overdrive.

The heads worked overtime day and night and the people working below them could only follow and do the same.

No one wanted to lose their lucrative salary from East League Capitals.

The day after David's meeting, the growth rate of his lavish points started to pick up a bit.

It was not huge, but it was obviously much faster than before.

This showed that everyone understood what he said.

He believed that in the next period, his lavish points would grow rapidly.

This time, David was also throwing caution to the wind, and he was ready to muster up his courage to do this regardless if he was exposed.

He would improve his strength first.

When he entered God Rank and became a guardian, in addition to his status as a member of the Somerland Parliament, how many people would dare to do anything to him?

Furthermore, once Mason got all the herbs, he could keep Mason alive for another five to ten years.

With Mason, an extremely powerful person who fought against nine God Rank guardians alone, as his backer, he would not need to worry anymore.

Judging from Mason's confidence, he should have no problems getting all of the herbs. Even if he could not find the ones that were a thousand years old, 500-year-old ones would do. At worst, he could still live for another five years.

Five years!

David did not need that long either. According to his plan, he would be able to reach the double limit of God Rank in one year at most.

When that happened, he would be able to put his abilities to good use in this vast world.

Mason should not be his opponent at that time, but David wanted to see how it would feel to fight more than ten God Rank guardians at the same time alone.

How domineering would that be?!

Soon, a week had passed.

During this week, David would accompany Celia most of the time as he observed the growth of his lavish points on the side.

His lavish points were now approaching the nine thousand mark.

Chapter 499

This delighted David.

When he saw that the 10000 mark was getting closer, he would be lying if he said he was not nervous.

God Rank guardian!

It was a realm that many people dreamed of, and he was about to reach it in just a few months.

One had to keep in mind that he just got into martial arts a few months ago, and now, only five months later, was about to become one of the top martial artists in the world and become a God Rank guardian.

This was unprecedented.

Of course, the frenzied expansion of East League Capitals had also caused a lot of problems.

David received a lot of calls from the heads. Except for in Springfield, a city where he had shown his prestige and the cities that Clinton had informed beforehand, his company had run into resistance everywhere else.

Even Capital City was no exception.

Hugo also encountered a lot of resistance.

However, David asked them to avoid those hurdles for now and that he would deal with them when he had time.

All he needed to do now was settle Mason's matter first.

Julia called him almost every day to tell him not to travel too far because they would get all the herbs soon.

This girl was undoubtedly the most attentive when it came to the matter of whether Mason could continue to live for a few more years.

As a result, David would receive several calls from

Julia when he was at Celia's house.

Celia did not react, but Mindy was a little suspicious.

On this day, David was eating and chatting at Celia's house.

Ring ring

The phone rang again.

David did not need to see who it was to know that it was probably Julia.

Mindy and the others lifted their heads to look at David, so he could only answer the call magnanimously.

They would only be suspicious of him if he tried to hide it.

After David picked up the phone, Julia said urgently before he could speak, "David, I got all the herbs. Come quick, my great-grandpa is getting weaker and weaker."

"Alright, I'll head over now. Don't worry," David said.

After speaking, David said to Celia's family of three who were still eating, "Mr. Young, Mrs. Young, Celia, I have something to deal with now. You should take your time with the meal."

"You should go and take care of your emergency first," Jon said.

"David, are you full? Would you like to take something to eat on the road?" Celia asked.

"No, I'm full."

"Alright, be safe."

"Okay, I'll head out now."

David left in a hurry.

He now needed to use Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine to allocate various herbs and combine their various medicinal properties to re energize the functions of various organs in Mason's body, so that they could continue to work.

Mason was in critical condition right now.

The last time he fought against the nine God Rank guardians alone, he had consumed the last remaining energy in his body.

Although he concluded that Mason would live for another month and he would be in a very sorry state during this time, it was just as Mason said, if he did not provoke this battle to deter the forces who wanted to take action against Somerland, he might not get the chance to do anything else in the coming year.

He managed to show his prestige in this battle, but at the same time, it accelerated his death.

Now, he might only be able to lie in bed now and might even have problems walking.

All of his organs' functions were declining, and this was not a joke.

If David did not learn the magical healing art that was Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine, Mason's death was basically a sure thing.

With that, David left the residence, got into his car, and sped forward.

Chapter 500

The moment David left Celia's house, Mindy put down her spoon.

"What the hell happened to the two of you? How could you let David go just like that? Don't you want to ask him what he's doing? Jon, you too! Celia might not be that smart, but don't you understand?

David is always answering the phone behind our back these days. Now, he even left right after answering the phone. Something fishy is clearly going on," Mindy said angrily.

"Then why didn't you ask?" Jon asked back.

"..." Mindy did not know how to answer for a while.

She could not speak to David in a questioning tone as before after she discovered David's current status and background.

However, as David's future mother-in-law, she could not stand seeing David, the super eligible bachelor, seemingly messing around outside.

She was deeply afraid that her daughter's boyfriend would end up getting stolen.

A handsome and rich man like David was simply the most eligible bachelor among the current crop. In today's society, there was probably not a single young woman who would be unmoved and did not want to wrap him around her finger after she meeting him.

"Mom, David is not that kind of person. He must have had an emergency, so don't overthink it," Celia said.

"Why are you still siding with him? Do you know what he's doing outside? You're always staying at home and you don't even know to follow him to see what's going on. You won't even know who to cry to when someone steals him from you," Mindy said, looking at Celia while feeling like she had not lived up to her expectations.

"Alright, you are so busy every day minding your multi-billion-dollar small company. David manages such a big company with trillions of assets, so of course, there will be a lot of things going on. Isn't it normal to have some emergencies?" Jon asked.

"Right, now that you've said that, I remembered that East League Capitals seems to be expanding a little fast recently and they seem to have encountered some trouble in Capital City," Mindy thought for a while and said.

"What kind of trouble?"

"What kind of trouble?"

Jon and Celia both asked at the same time.

"I don't know either. I just heard from others that they might have disturbed other people's interests because they expanded too fast. Now, they're being targeted and the other party seems to be a big family company that's no worse than East League Capitals. They're an old force in Capital City too."

"Is it serious?" Celia asked anxiously.

"I told you I'm not clear about that. It is difficult for small potatoes like us to understand the inside story of this kind of struggle between large capital groups. If you want to know, you can ask David when he comes back."

"I think I better not. I don't want to cause more trouble for him." Celia said.

"Oh, you! How did I give birth to such a soft-hearted daughter like you? Right, you have been with David for so long, so have you ever gotten pregnant?"

Mindy asked suddenly.

"Huh?" Celia was confused. She did not know why Mindy would ask her this.

"What do you mean huh? I'm asking whether you've gotten pregnant or not."

"N-No..." Celia whispered.

"No? Are young people taking such good precautions now?" Mindy asked curiously.

"I-It's true!" Celia said.

“Alright, let’s do this. Ask David to move in here or you can move out to stay with him. We won’t stop you. If you get pregnant, give birth to the child. A lot of people get pregnant or had given birth when they’re still in university. You can just get married after you graduate,” Monday thought about it and said.

“Mom! What are you talking about? How could I do this?” Celia said, her face turning red.

Chapter 501

Could she tell Mindy that she and David had not even gotten to that stage yet?

The two had never even kissed.

They only held hands and hugged at most.

She did not know what David had in mind either.

He could not expect a girl to initiate this kind of thing, right?

Jon could not stand this anymore and said, “Why is this getting more and more outrageous? How old is Celia? Is this what you should say as a mother? Everyone else is educating their daughters on how they should protect themselves but instead, you’re thinking about how to sell your daughter.”

Mindy was mad when she heard that. Thus, she stood up and said, “Jon, isn’t this your fault? Are you blaming me for the fact that our daughter has been with David since high school? Why didn’t you tell her to protect herself at that time? Isn’t it a bit too late to say it now? Aren’t I doing this for my daughter’s sake? Judging from her current situation, if she is separated from David, do you think she will be able to fall for others ever again? I’m pretty sure she will not even do anything at that time, and when that happens, you won’t even have time to regret it.”

Jon was left speechless by Mindy.

He thought to himself, ‘You’re the one who looked down on him and didn’t want him to be your son in-law.’”

However, he could not say this.

Besides, he initially genuinely did not have time to take care of Celia, and that was why it led to such a result. If he thought about it, he held an even greater responsibility than Mindy.

Moreover, Mindy was not wrong either.

Judging from Celia’s current situation, if she really broke up with David, it would be difficult for her to ever fancy other men ever again.

He had been involved in officialdom for so many years, and in his opinion, David was also the most excellent young man he had ever seen.

It was not too far-fetched to say that Celia might do something stupid then.

Therefore, he did not speak anymore.

Who would not want a son-in-law like David?

It was now or never.

When Mindy saw that Jon had stopped talking, she turned to Celia and said, “Celia, you should just listen to me. Either you ask David to move in with us or you go out and live with him. Keep a closer eye on him. If you get pregnant, just give birth to the child. You have been together for so long anyway, so what is there to be embarrassed about? What would you do if people move one step ahead of you?”

“Mom, David’s not that kind of person! I know him!
Can you just leave us alone?” Celia snapped.
How would she have the cheek to ask David about this?

They had not reached that step yet!

“You still don’t understand what I mean. David is so good, and he is also a big boss worth billions. He must need to engage in a lot of social niceties out there. If he gets drunk, gets targeted by some scheming women, and causes the woman to become pregnant, what will you do? Your relationship might be great now, but at that time, it will be impossible to tell.”

‘Um...

Celia had no idea what to say at that moment.

“Celia, just trust me. I have been engaging in business for so many years and have also been in the business world for so many years. I have seen too many of these things. A lot of women use that method to get to where they want to be. There are also a lot of them who drive the lawfully wedded wife away after they give birth to a son. Those are all married couples, while you’re just boyfriend and girlfriend.”

“I-I’ll try.” Celia said, her face red.

“What do you mean you’ll try? If you’re embarrassed to tell him, I’ll do it for you!”

“Don’t! Please don’t. Mom, I-I’ll tell him myself.” Celia hurriedly stopped Mindy.

Chapter 502

David was on his way to Mason’s place. He still did not know what Mindy had in mind yet, or else, he would have definitely given Mindy the thumbs up and compliment her.

His mother-in-law was so amazing.

David was a normal man.

They would be graduating from university soon, so many students had already moved in with their girlfriends while they were still in university.

He was envious and jealous.

When he was with Sarah, he also proposed renting a house outside several times, but Sarah ruthlessly rejected them.

Now that he and Celia were together and her parents had affirmed their relationship, would he not want to do this with Celia?

Naturally, he desperately wanted to do so.

With Celia’s temperament and dependence on David, she would not refuse if David proposed it to her.

However, David did not want to destroy his image in Celia’s heart.

There was also the fear that Celia would have difficulties convincing her parents.

It was because Celia was still a student, so Mindy must have told her to protect herself while she was outside.

David did not want to put Celia in a dilemma either. He did not want her to not be able to reject him but at the same time have no choice but to listen to her mother.

Therefore, he and Celia had always been respectful to each other, and the furthest they went was just holding hands.

If he learned that Celia's family had such an idea, he would not hold himself back

He felt uneasy that he could only look and not touch Celia, a gorgeous young woman, after spending all his time together with her.

Despite this, David's self-restraint was incredible, and that was how he could hold himself back.

Could you imagine if it was an ordinary person?

It might be very hard for the others to have endurance as impressive as him.

However, he still did not know the contents of Mindy's conversation with Celia.

Thus, he certainly would not go over the line with Celia.

Of course, if Celia was a little more proactive, then he might not care anymore.

It was already hard to hold himself back, so if Celia hinted at him a little, he would definitely explode with lust and desire.

Soon, David arrived at Mason's residence after driving past various obstacles.

Julia had been waiting anxiously outside the door.

When she saw David's car, she hurried over to open the door for him before pulling him forward.

David could tell how anxious Julia was. Therefore, he did not say any nonsense and followed Julia into the courtyard.

Indeed, Mason was in a horrible state.

Mason was sitting in the courtyard the first two times David came around, but now, he was not.

It should be just like he imagined.

Mason should have started to experience difficulties walking.

This time, David was able to feel just how amazing Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine was.

He could understand Mason's condition by just observing the outside of his body. Then, he could accurately determine what would happen next.

Julia pulled David into a room.

Mason was lying on a simple and unadorned bed.

It had been more than a week since David had last seen Mason and Mason looked even older now. The skin on his face was wrinkled and his body seemed to be covered in liver spots.

David looked at Mason using the Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine he had learned.

In addition to being old, the aura of death emanating from Mason's body was also growing stronger.

David was completely unable to relate the old man in front of him with the old man who fought against the nine God Rank guardians alone not long ago.

He was so high-spirited at that time, just like a god of war who had descended from the heavens. He blocked all the forces that dared to have ideas against Somerland and then taught them a profound lesson.

Yet, right now, he could only lie in bed quietly. If David had not learned Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine, then he would be forced to keep lying here, waiting for death to come.

A man who had reached the top of the world, who stood at the pinnacle of power and controlled Somerland, one of the two empires, had no choice but to wait quietly for the arrival of death.

Mason noticed someone entering the room, so he opened his cloudy eyes, and struggled to his feet.

Julia hurried over to help him sit up.

"Great-grandpa, slow down."

Mason sat on the bed. Then, he looked at David and said with a smile, "David, I've made a fool of myself in front of you."

However, his smile made David feel particularly sad.

If it were not for Somerland, Mason would have had no problem living another year or so.

Now, after successfully helping Somerland establish its prestige and shocking everyone, he had become like this.

A hero who has passed his prime.'

At this moment, David could only think of this description.

Mason had given everything for Somerland.

"Old Master Stefani, everything you did for Somerland will be remembered by all of us Somerlanders," David said.

"David, Somerland is a nation with a long history, and we have existed for thousands of years. During these thousands of years, we have been brilliant and we have also been dragged down. We have suffered many hardships, but at the same time, there have been many heroes who led us to this day after stumbling down a bumpy road. I am only one of those who are not very eye-catching. After me, Somerland will continue to go on. I hope that you will be the one who takes the lead, and I also believe that you can lead Somerland to regain its past glory."

“Old Master Stefani, please rest assured. Somerland is where I was born and raised. My family and friends are here so I will do my best to protect every inch of Somerland’s land,” David said seriously.

David only had growing admiration for Mason.

He was a noble old man with unquestionable integrity who was willing to give everything for Somerland.

“Great-grandpa, David, can you talk later? David, can you please look at the medicine to see if it’s the right one? If it’s not, we can change it. Great-grandpa’s body is getting worse with every passing day. You can talk as much as you want when he is healed,” Julia could not help saying at one side.

“Okay, where’s the medicine? I’ll take a look first.”

“Great-grandpa, please rest for a while. I’ll bring David to take a look at the medicine first.” “Go ahead.”

Chapter 503

Julia took David to another room.

There was a large round table in the middle of the room with many sandalwood boxes placed on it.

The herbs should be in those boxes.

David stepped forward, picked up one of the sandalwood boxes, and opened it. After this, a quaint fragrance wafted toward his face.

It smelled very refreshing.

David knew that this was definitely one of the rare treasures of heaven and earth before even looked closely at it.

He saw ginseng, not much thicker than a thumb, lying quietly in the box. Countless thin roots were casually lying beside it, seemingly numbering in the hundreds. Using Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine, David began to carefully observe the ginseng in the box in his hand.

He started with the shape and the smell...

Finally, he gently pinched a thin root with his hand and put it in his mouth to taste it.

“David, how is it?” Julia asked nervously beside him.

She was afraid that David would reject it.

Mr. Abe found these herbs with great difficulty.

If they were not the right ones, they would take a lot of time to find a new batch, and her great-grandfather’s health was getting worse by the day. She did not know how long he could hold on.

Every day, she would worry about this.

She was terrified that she would wake up in the morning and discover that her great grandfather had passed.

“Not bad, this is indeed the best ginseng that is more than a thousand years old. Moreover, this ginseng has reached 1300 years in age, so it’s the best of the best and it’s reached the standards required for the medicine this time,” David said.

After she heard what David said, Julia breathed a sigh of relief.

She would be happy as long as it met the standards.

“Please look at the others.”

Julia picked up another box and handed it to David.

David closed the box with the ginseng, put it aside, then took the box from Julia and opened it.

This was a bracket fungus.

After some inspection, he determined that it was more than a thousand years old.

Next, David checked all the herbs on the table one by one.

All of them were more than a thousand years old and they all met the required standard.

He was confident that he could make medicine that could activate the functions of various organs in Mason’s body, allowing him to continue to live for another ten years or so.

Furthermore, he would not just be surviving.

After the functions of his organs were activated , Mason could continue to maintain his peak combat power for several years.

However, if Mason were to engage in combat with someone, his lifespan would once again decrease.

Moreover, after he took this medicine once, it would have no effect if he tried to take it again.

Therefore, if Mason wanted to live longer, he should avoid fighting with others.

At the same time, David could not help lamenting.

Somerland was indeed a nation with thousands of years of history. These were all extremely rare herbs, and it only took them more than a week to gather everything.

It seemed that these hidden sects and families had a lot of good items hidden away.

When he became stronger, he would go to them one by one and ask for some.

These things were very beneficial and if he kept some of them around, they would eventually make a big difference.

These sects were not around when they were defending Somerland against foreign enemies, and now, they wanted to resurface to gain a foothold in Somerland.

If that was the case, they should pay a fee, otherwise, they would all be banished from Somerland just like how Mason banished the Haran family.

Those who dared to resist would be directly destroyed.

However, he could only execute these ideas when he reached the double limit in God Rank

After checking all the herbs, David started to put them together.

The next process was very cumbersome, and it would take a long time.

“Are the other tools ready? I’ll start working now. It’s better to tackle the problem with Old Master Stefani’s body as soon as possible,” David said to Julia after checking everything.

“They’re ready. They’re ready. They’re all ready. I’ll bring them to you right now.”

David began to make preparations on the table.

Dozens of treasures of heaven and earth that were more than ten-thousand-year-old combined were arranged in the order that he had in his head.

He could not mess up the order of the herbs while he was putting together and brewing the medicine. If he made a mistake, all of his previous effort would be wasted.

This was because when herbs were mixed together, new medicinal effects would be produced.

If the order was wrong, there might be huge differences in the final effect.

Soon, Julia brought a small stove, an earthenware pot, a precise scale, a bottle of spring water that had just come out of the spring in the mountains, a cutting board, and a knife.

David lit the small stove first before putting the earthenware pot on top.

He even weighed the water before he poured it in.

All ingredients should be added in fixed amounts, and he could not make any mistakes.

Then, he started cutting the herbs with a knife before grinding them into powder and weighing them on the scale.

Afterward, David put all the powdered herbs in the small earthenware pot.

The weight of each item was also different.

Therefore, it would require David to use his powerful mind power to help him get the weight down to the microgram.

After more than a dozen herbs were placed into the earthenware pot, David began to carefully observe the concoction inside.

After it had been simmering for about half an hour, David turned off the fire on the small stove.

Then, he just needed to wait quietly.

The whole process seemed pretty simple.

However, David had been cautious this entire time for fear of making a mistake.

If he were an ordinary person, he would not be able to do it even if he knew the exact measurements.

David could do it because he had a strong mind power, so he could perfectly execute every step.

Without the assistance of his strong mind power, he might not have been able to get through weighing all the herbs.

After waiting for about half an hour, David opened the lid of the earthenware pot and poured out the brewed concoction inside.

As David looked at the half bowl of black viscous concoction in the bowl, he compared it to the finished medicine in his mind.

There was basically no difference.

David was relieved.

Although he followed the steps recorded in Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine in his head, David had never done it himself, so he was not very confident.

However, it seemed fine now.

"Is it done?" Julia asked from the side.

Julia was watching the whole process, from putting the herbs together to brewing the medicine. However, she did not dare to say a word, for fear of disturbing David.

Now that she was seeing the medicine, she finally dared to speak.

"Yes, take this to Old Master Stefani and let him drink this. He should get better after taking it, but he needs to continue drinking this for seven days if he wants to completely recover," David handed the bowl in his hands to Julia.

"Okay, thank you, David!"

After Julia took the bowl from David, she hurriedly left the room and went to give the medicine to Mason.

David cleaned up the scene.

He had to do this again tomorrow as he needed to do this seven days in a row for Mason to fully recover.

Chapter 505 At this moment, there were also tears in his eyes.

He had to send his most beloved daughter away due to her health and she only came back twice in the past 20 years.

How could he not feel distressed?

However, judging from his daughter's face, she should have enjoyed a good life these years.

"Dad, Mom, where's grandpa?" Lorraine asked.

She remembered that her grandfather loved her the most since she was a child. The last time she came back, his grandfather came over as soon as possible, but this time he was nowhere to be seen.

"Your grandfather was seriously injured when he was fighting with others three years ago, and he is still bedridden. You can go visit him later. He kept talking about you every day, saying that he hoped to see you before he died. Now, he can finally fulfill his wish," Elliot said sadly.

His father was injured, and he could not do anything about it.

V

It was because their enemy was too strong.

If the Warner family and the Zimmerman family had not mediated for him, the Lovewoods might not have such a peaceful life right now.

Moreover, the reason why the two families came to help them was also because of his daughter.

When Lorraine heard what Elliot said, her expression changed instantly and her aura instantly blew up. Then, she asked with a baleful look, "Who was it? Who hurt my grandfather?"

As soon as Lorraine exuded her aura, Elliot looked at his daughter in shock.

'Her aura has completely surpassed mine!

'How can that be?

'How old is she this year?

'If I remember correctly, she should be exactly thirty years old.

'She reached this stage at only 30 years old. Even God is helping the family!'

"Lori, please calm down. We will definitely seek justice for your grandfather now that we're here with you," Lorraine's senior, Grant, said.

"Yeah, Lori. We're here with you so no matter who it was. We'll make them pay," Fred added.

"Thank you, Grant, Fred," Lorraine said, suppressing her aura.

At the same time, she said to Elliot and Eve, "Mom, Dad, I'm sorry. I was a little emotional when I heard that Grandpa was hurt. I couldn't control myself."

"It's fine. It's fine," Elliot answered with a smile.

The more powerful his daughter, the happier he would be.

It seemed that the Lovewoods were rising.

However, Eve asked in concern, "Lori, can we not seek revenge? Your brother is behind bars now and I don't want anything to happen to you."

"What happened to him? Right, where is he?" Lorraine asked.

"I'll explain to you slowly later. Can you introduce them to us?" Elliot asked.

"Mom, Dad, I forgot to introduce them to you. This is my senior, Grant Stone," Lorraine pointed at Grant and introduced him.

"Hello, Mr. and Mrs. Lovewood. This is a present I brought from the sect, please accept this," Grant smiled and greeted before handing a box to Elliot.

"H-How can I accept this?"

"Dad, just accept what Grant gave you."

"Yeah, please accept it, Mr. Lovewood."

"Well then, thank you, Mr. Stone."

"Mr. Lovewood, you can just call me Grant. My master calls me that too."

"Thank you, Mr. Grant."

Then, Lorraine pointed at Fred and said, "Mom, Dad, this is also my senior, Fred East."

"Hello, Mr. and Mrs. Lovewood. This is my gift to you."

Fred also handed them a box.

Elliot did not reject this time. He took the box and said, "Thank you, Mr. East."

"Mom, Dad, these are the seventh elder and ninth elder of the Krums," Lorraine pointed at the two elders and said.

"Hello, elders."

"Hello, Mr. Lovewood."

Chapter 506

David went to Mason's room after putting away the herbs.

Julia had just finished feeding Mason his medicine.

"David! Will this medicine help?" Julia asked nervously.

"We'll see if it works in a bit," replied David.

He was not 100% sure since he had not tested it himself.

However, David thought it should be okay because he trusted the system.

The system was too magical. If he did not achieve the result he wanted, it must be because he did not do a good job during some part of the process.

Both of them watched Mason carefully.

According to the introduction in David's mind, the first dose would have a great effect within an hour or so.

After Mason drank the medicine, he only felt a warmth and a fire burning in his stomach.

It was so comforting!

It made him close his eyes to enjoy the feeling.

Soon...

The warm feeling began to spread.

It started in the belly before quickly spreading throughout his body.

As a God Rank guardian, Mason was thoroughly in control of his body.

He could feel every organ and cell being activated.

It started with his internal organs, and soon every cell in his body was reawakened.

Under the stimulation of the powerful medicine, the almost exhausted body organs were rejuvenated.

It worked!

Mason was excited!

He did not have much hope before this.

Advanced as medical science was right now, it could do nothing to help him, who was pretty much on his deathbed.

To put it crudely, God was about to take his life.

The only way to prolong his life would be by some god-defying technique that existed only in ancient Somerland history.

However, he had no idea David knew these things!

It was incredible. David seemed to be more than just talented.

He might have inherited Somerland's ancient heritage which was thousands of years old.

How else could he know such god-defying technique?

Mason closed his eyes and felt warm all over.

Julia watched nervously.

She was afraid they would be finished if it did not work. Their only hope would be gone, and no one in the world would be able to save her great-grandpa.

David also observed the changes in Mason's body.

About ten minutes later...

David quietly breathed a sigh of relief.

His powerful mind power had detected Mason's subtle changes.

The decaying dead aura had faded.

Besides that, the age spots on his face began to fade, and the wrinkles lightened. Although such subtle changes were hard to see with the naked eye, David's mind power could detect them.

This change was also consistent with the notes recorded in Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine that he remembered.

An hour later...

Mason opened his eyes.

His eyes sparkled.

Mason was now a different person from the old man with gloomy eyes and was dying before taking the medication.

"Great-grandpa! How are you? Do you feel better?" Julia asked nervously.

She was only a regular person who did not see the subtle changes in Mason's body.

Therefore, she asked as soon as Mason opened his eyes.

Mason did not answer Julia. Instead, he looked at David with a smile and said, "Thank you. David!"

His voice was energetic now, not soft and weak like earlier.

Mason thanked David from the bottom of his heart.

David gave him a second chance at life.

He had done him a great favor!

Excited, he did not know what to say, so he could only utter the most sincere words.

Thank you!

"Don't mention it, Old Master Stefani. It's my honor to help you. Besides, I don't think it can top your contribution to Somerland," David said with a smile.

He was happy to do something for Somerland's legend.

“Great-grandpa! Have... have you recovered?” Julia asked in a trembling voice.

“Julia! I’ve recovered. Thank you for all your effort during the past few days,” Mason said with a chuckle.

“That’s great!”

Julia came forward and hugged Mason, tears streaming down her cheeks.

“Alright! You’re a big girl now. Don’t make a fool of yourself in front of others!” Mason said as he patted Julia on the back.

Julia then let go of Mason.

“Old Master Stefani! Now’s the first step. Next, you’ll need to take this medicine for seven days to wake up your body and restore your energy to its peak. You will recover completely by then,” said David.

“Thank you for the past days! By the way, keep my recovery between us. Troubled times are coming. Anyone might just jump out and hurt Somerland. They’re not even afraid of harming themselves in the process. Regardless, I’ll prepare something big for them,” Mason said bitterly.

“Old Master Stefani, I must remind you of something!” David said suddenly. “Go on!”

“You will fully recover after seven days, and this medicine is also of the highest quality since it’s made out of ingredients that are more than 1,000 years old. It can prolong your life by about 10 years.”

David paused and continued saying, “But if you fight others like last time, the decay of your body will speed up. You might have lived for another ten years, but a fight could decrease your lifespan to another nine or even eight years. It depends on the intensity of your fight. The more intense the fight, the longer it goes on, and the faster your body loses its function.

“And this medicine can only be used once. It will have no effect the next time you use it, which means that the next time the same thing happens to you, there is nothing I can do.

“So don’t fight if you don’t have to. Every time you fight, it will cost you your life which only has a few years left. Think carefully!”

David looked at Mason carefully after he finished.

He was not joking.

Mason had a life expectancy of about ten years at most, and there was no telling how long he could live once he fought.

There was nothing he could do.

Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine was medicine, not magic.

It could only help people live longer, not live forever.

Even in ancient Somerland, it was called a god-defying technique.

Many nobles and government officials scrambled for it.

They were all looking for someone who could change fate to work for them.
