

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3601-3604

Chapter 3601

In addition, the recent dramatic changes in that Middle Eastern country really worry Sayed and his leadership.

However, Charlie suddenly said that Dragon Hall could help them to coordinate defense.

Sayed's first thought was impossible.

He couldn't help saying, "Mr. Wade, the last time I met, you said it yourself that for Dragon Hall, only our country is constantly injured and lost blood, which is the most beneficial situation for Dragon Hall."

"Now you let us cooperate with Dragon Hall and let Dragon Hall assist us in defense. Is this a bit inconsistent?"

Charlie smiled indifferently, "What I said before, I naturally will not deny it, and I am still this point of view, for the Dragon Hall, the more turbulent you are, the more they can benefit from it, but have you ever thought that for you, the situation has changed drastically."

"The opposition, including Commander Hamid, was helpless to fight against you, so you could only shrink up and linger."

Speaking of this, Charlie said again, "But you also understand the current situation, and you have seen the changes in Commander Hamid with your own eyes."

"With Commander Hamid's level of defense, if he continues to oppose you, there's completely nothing you can do with him."

“What’s more, many colleagues who share the same interests with Commander Hamid are desperately copying his work.”

“When they build a solid defense base in the mountains, your situation will become even more passive.”

“If you want to attack, surely you won’t be able to; if you want to defend, you will have danger to defend in the city, so your situation will only become more and more passive in the future.”

Sayed heard this with a solemn expression.

Since Commander Hamid’s victory in two defensive battles, he has pointed the way for other opposition parties.

It was also in those two wars that Sayed and his leaders understood that the battle of fortifications was simply too difficult to fight.

It is a trivial matter that the target cannot be defeated in a battle.

A large number of casualties on one’s side have led to a disintegration of the military’s mind.

This is the most difficult problem.

This kind of war only needs to last two or three more times, and the soldiers in the army will definitely be extremely afraid of the fortified battle, and then, I am afraid that no one will dare to fight for the fortified battle.

Such a situation is indeed extremely passive for them.

Seeing that he did not speak, Charlie continued with a smile at the corner of his mouth, "My idea is actually very simple."

"Even if most of the tens of thousands of soldiers in the Dragon Hall are on missions overseas, they still need a fixed base to satisfy them."

"So I want to represent Dragon Hall to negotiate a solution with you."

Although Sayed did not speak, he kept looking at Charlie, as if waiting for the content behind Charlie.

Seeing this, Charlie said, "First of all, you provide one hundred square kilometers of land for the Dragon Hall as a rear base."

"In return, the Dragon Hall will not only coordinate with you to defend when you receive an attack, but also will help you train soldiers;"

Charlie said with a slight pause, and said with emotion, "I don't think I need to break the training level of your soldiers."

"I don't need my own equipment. If I can't keep up with the training, your situation will only get more and more awkward."

Sayed's expression changed slightly, and Charlie's words did indeed speak of their painful spots all the time.

The overall combat level of the grassroots soldiers is very hip, which is the key reason for their repeated defeats.

After all, their overall military level is very poor, the level of officers is not good, and the level of the soldiers trained is naturally worse.

Charlie continued at this time, "In my opinion, the combat effectiveness of an army generally depends on three aspects."

"The first is naturally the level of weapons and equipment, the second is the level of management's strategy and tactics, and the most important thing is the individual soldier."

"You must have heard of the combat strength and the individual combat level of the Dragon Hall."

"If they help you train soldiers, I believe that it will not take long before your soldier level will change qualitatively."

Sayed Suddenly there was some uncontrollable look forward to his face.

At this time, Charlie said again, "In addition, in order to show the sincerity of the Dragon Hall and to make you more at ease, I think you chose the site for the base of the Dragon Hall, which can be between your capital and the northern mountains."

"In this way, the Dragon Hall is in the buffer zone in the middle. For you, it is equivalent to an extra barrier."

At this point, Sayed's expression stretched a lot.

Since the current level of development in China is still very slow, the war between them and the opposition is basically in the category of close contact warfare.

Due to the lack of accurate long-range weapons, no matter who wants to attack each other, they must send troops to the city.

Therefore, if the base of the Dragon Hall is sandwiched between the two sides, it can indeed play a good buffer effect.

Sayed finally spoke at this time and asked Charlie, "Mr. Wade, how can we believe that Dragon Hall will help us to coordinate defense."

"If the Dragon Hall turns over and unites with the opposition, wouldn't it be more dangerous for us?"

Charlie waved his hand and said seriously, "This situation will never happen in Dragon Hall from now on!"

After that, Charlie looked at Wesley and said lightly, "Wesley, you come to the game. You explain why this is impossible."

Wesley nodded and said with a serious expression, "Dragon Hall has already begun internal transformation."

"From now on, our mercenary business will follow international laws and regulations."

"Legal government cooperation, other than that, any other orders will not be accepted."

Charlie looked at Sayed and asked with a smile, "Sayed, do you understand? Dragon Hall is going to be thoroughly prepared next whitewashed, so as long as he is in your country, he will definitely cooperate with you."

"If he cooperates with the opposition, it violates the legal principles."

“Dragon Hall will absolutely disdain to do such things.”

After speaking, Charlie said again, “And let me tell you the truth, among these opposition parties, except for Commander Hamid who has a pretty good life, which one is not tightening his belt and making a living?”

“Dragon Hall has a year’s revenue over tens of billions of dollars, what do you think this group of opposition uses to hire them?”

Sayed heard this and believed most of it in his heart.

However, out of the basic principles of the negotiation, he still wants to stand up, don’t show a very satisfactory signal so early, so that at least he can fight for other interests.

So he said to Charlie, “Mr. Wade, I think these conditions are not enough for us to give us a hundred square kilometers of land to the Dragon Hall.”

“What’s more, there are still 15,000 people in Dragon Hall in our hands. Dragon Hall will give us an explanation for this.”

Charlie nodded, waved a big hand, and said, “Sayed, you don’t need to play psychological warfare here.”

“I called everyone together to discuss this matter. I hope everyone can open their hearts and openly and honestly discuss each other.”

“All favorable solutions are not for satisfying one person alone.”

Speaking of this, Charlie said again, "Out of this room, I hope you, Wesley and Commander Hamid, will each have their own gains."

"What Commander Hamid wants is stable development, Dragon Hall wants a rear base, and what you want is to reduce a strong enemy and increase an ally."

Sayed subconsciously asked, "Mr. Wade, why isn't it adding two allies?"

Charlie smiled, "Then you have to see what Commander Hamid thinks."

Commander Hamid laughed at this time, and said, "What I want is to keep the water out of the river with them."

"Everyone does not interfere or attack each other."

"At the same time, I have to stay in the opposition camp, otherwise, if it has directly changed the nature, and the teams below are definitely not so easy to lead."

Chapter 3602

Charlie nodded, smiled and said, "In that case, you're my brother face opposition, but in reality the neutral."

"Yes, yes." Commander Hamid said with a smile, "You tell me that Brother Wade, after being so a little bit at the beginning, I am now addicted to digging a cave, and I don't want to fight at all!"

Charlie looked at Sayed and said with a smile, "Look, isn't this also good?"

Sayed silent for a moment, then asked, "How do you say with the prisoners?"

Charlie said with a smile, "It's simple. Dragon Hall will pay you 10,000 U.S. dollars in compensation for one person."

"For 15,000 people, that's 150 million U.S. dollars."

"With this money, it will be enough for you to expand the army."

"At the same time, the military's weapons and equipment will be upgraded."

Before Wesley even felt that this matter might take more than one billion U.S. dollars to get it done.

He didn't expect that Charlie only allowed 150 million to the other party.

Sayed was obviously also a little disappointed, and he also knew Wesley is very rich, and he has always wondered if he can take this opportunity to hit the Dragon Hall severely, but the amount of 150 million US dollars is a lot less, but if it is too much, it does not count multi.

So he coughed, opening, "Yep, one hundred and fifty million of this amount is not too little?"

"In addition, giving 100 square kilometers of land to the Dragon Hall. How much is the rent for the Dragon Hall?"

"Otherwise, we won't be able to explain to the people..."

Charlie said generously, "Let's say Sayed, go back and tell your leaders that in addition to the compensation of 150 million U.S. dollars, after you allocate the land to Dragon Hall, Dragon Hall will settle 100,000 tons of wheat for you!"

“Isn’t it inconvenient for you to buy grain? I happen to have my own shipping company.”

“When that happens, I will purchase grain in China, deliver it directly to your port.”

Charlie knows that for Sayed and their leaders, the current problem is not only war, but also basic people’s livelihood.

Originally, they were the only food exporter in the Middle East, but the continuous war has caused their food production to continue to decline, and food shortages have become a big problem for them.

The cost of 100,000 tons of wheat is no more than two billion yuan, which is less than 40 million in US dollars.

But for them, it is not the price to import food overseas.

Moreover, their current financial situation is very bad.

To them, they can solve 100,000 tons of wheat in a year.

For them, it can really make the most of it. Feeding more than 200,000 people is not a problem.

After Sayed had beaten all the conditions in his heart, he had already made his own judgment deep in his heart.

He felt that this transaction was very cost-effective, and for himself, not only did he get a lot of benefits, but also more.

A strong ally is definitely a good thing.

And he also knew very well that he could capture the soldiers in the Dragon Hall, not how strong he was, but relying entirely on Charlie's help.

Therefore, at this time, he was too embarrassed to continue bargaining with Charlie, so he said, "Mr. Wade, I need to ask the leader for instructions."

"If the leader has no opinion, then we will cooperate!"

Chapter 3603

Sayed took his satellite phone and stepped out of Commander Hamid's conference room inside the mountain.

On the phone, he truthfully reported the situation to his leader.

The coordinated defense of the Dragon Hall, assistance in training soldiers, and active requirements for living in the buffer zone made Sayed's leadership very satisfied.

After all, this can really improve their safety, and at the same time alleviate their current anxiety.

The compensation of 150 million U.S. dollars and the annual clause of 100,000 tons of wheat made him even more delighted.

Moreover, there is a bonus clause in this, that is Commander Hamid's actual neutrality.

Commander Hamid is currently the strongest in the opposition. If he can not take the initiative to attack, then the government will defend.

The pressure will be a lot easier.

Therefore, he immediately decided on the phone and agreed to Charlie's terms.

Sayed got his approval, returned to the conference room happily, and immediately said to Charlie and Wesley, "Mr. Wade, Mr. Drake, our leaders have agreed to the terms just now."

"If there are no other questions, please follow me. Let's go to Damascus to sign an agreement!"

Charlie looked at the time and smiled, "I want to go back to China, so I won't go with you."

After all, he said to Wesley, "Wesley, you go and set up the specific terms with them and when to pay, how to pay, and when to release people."

"As for the food issue, you don't have to worry about it."

"Let them see which port is more appropriate to receive the goods."

"Then I will directly arrange for a freighter to deliver the grain."

Wesley hurriedly said, "Mr. Wade, how can you bother with the grain, let me solve it!"

Charlie waved his hand, "100,000 tons of grain is neither for you nor me."

“Whatever it is, I have ready-made shipping companies here, and there are more domestic friends.”

“By then, it should be easier to purchase or ships, so you don’t need to mix it up.”

“After Sayed gave you the land, you will definitely have to spend a lot of financial, material and energy on construction, you just need to do a good job of this.”

Wesley nodded gratefully, and then asked, “Mr. Wade, would you like to go over the site selection?”

Charlie waved his hand and said casually, “You must know more about warfare than I do, so be specific. The location of the problem, it is solely up to you now.”

“Okay!” Wesley said without hesitation, “Then if any progress, will promptly report to you in time.”

Wesley said this sentence, Both Commander Hamid and Sayed looked stunned.

They themselves were curious. Charlie was originally on the opposite side of the Dragon Hall.

He first helped Commander Hamid to severely damage the Dragon Hall, and then helped Sayed capture 15,000 soldiers in the Dragon Hall.

Why did Charlie suddenly start to help Dragon Hall solve the problem of the rear base today?

Suddenly listening to Wesley claiming to be a subordinate, both of them were shocked. According to this, Dragon Hall should have become Charlie’s subordinate!

When the two were extremely horrified, Charlie said to Wesley, “You can go directly to Damascus with Sayed on his plane, and I will go directly to Beirut after a few conversations with Brother Commander Hamid.”

Wesley respectfully said, “Okay, Mr. Wade! Then the subordinates will go first!”

Sayed then came to his senses.

Although there were countless questions in his heart that he wanted to ask Charlie, he knew in his heart that it was not the time to ask.

Chapter 3604

With these words, he took the initiative to say to Charlie, “Mr. Wade, then I will go back to Damascus first.”

“Thank you for always helping us and I look forward to see you next time!”

Charlie nodded and smiled, “Okay. Sayed, see you next time!”

Charlie and Commander Hamid escorted them to the door and watched the helicopter take off.

Commander Hamid exclaimed, “Brother Wade, you are really amazing...”

“How could the famous Dragon Hall suddenly become your subordinate?”

Charlie asked him with a smile, “Have my brother heard about the actions of the Dragon Hall some time ago?”

Commander Hamid scratched his head, "The information in my place is relatively blocked."

"Until you said that you would bring Wesley to negotiate, I specifically inquired about the current situation of the Dragon Hall."

"I heard that they had destroy one of China's top big family and, forcing that family to give up half of its assets, I don't know if it's true or not?"

Charlie proudly said, "In fact, they didn't destroy that family, they were destroyed by that family, and I am, the Patriarch of that family."

After that, Charlie turned his head and looked at Commander Hamid with a shocked look.

Commander Hamid returned to his senses and hurriedly said, "Brother, to be honest, I really don't understand how to develop in the future, can you show me a clear path?"

Charlie smiled and said, "What's wrong with this? Given your current situation, I will give you words."

Commander Hamid asked hurriedly, "What words?"

Charlie put his smile away and said solemnly, "Sitting on the mountain and watching tigers fighting, making a fortune in a muffled voice!"

Commander Hamid muttered these ten words in his own mouth, it seemed that he could see the sky a little through the clouds, but it seemed a little unclear.

So, he asked humbly, "My brother, I have no objection to let me be neutral, but I am afraid that they will defeat my colleagues one by one, and I will be left in the end."

“They will definitely not tolerate me by then!”

Charlie nodded and said, “So, that’s why I want to chat with you alone.”

Commander Hamid knew that Charlie must have something else to confess to himself in private, so he said hurriedly, “Brother, I would like to hear more!”

Charlie said, “I just said that you are actually neutral.”

“I just told Sayed to listen to it. In fact, the positioning of you and Wesley should be completely mirrored.”

“Wesley is neutral to the government army, and you should be those colleagues who are neutral to you.”

“In the future, Wesley will only help them to defend, and will not help them to attack.”

“The same is true for you. You must help your poor buddies to help defend, but you can’t do this blatantly, and you must never directly when they are fighting.”

“The best way to intervene is to help them strengthen their defenses before the war.”

“If they really fight, then you will carry out the words I just said and never intervene.”

“So, in order to prevent these poor buddies to be defeated one by one.”

“You have to make your poor buddies stronger, but you also have to remind them that since they have chosen you as their king, they must not be too greedy and manage your own one-third of an acre.”

“Don’t think about fighting with them, it’s best if both of you can stay in a stalemate for a long time.”

“This is actually the best situation for you.”

Commander Hamid nodded gently and said, “I understand you. I mean brother!”

As he said, he said a little anxiously, “But to be honest, my poor buddies don’t have much money. Let them carry out infrastructure construction, I’m afraid they can’t afford it.”

Charlie asked him, “For armed forces like yours, where does the daily funding come from?”

Commander Hamid explained, “Most of the funding depends on overseas aid, and a small part depends on some resources and output in the controlled area, such as food and oil.”

“We can make some money by selling these materials.”

Charlie nodded and said, “Then you can use your engineering team to trade with them, and help them with infrastructure construction at a lower price.”

“If they don’t have money, let them trade food and oil.”

Charlie said, “If your engineers help them build a base, remember to pack them into a civilian construction enterprise, so that Sayed’s face will be better, and some superficial work should be done.”

“I understand!” Commander Hamid said with some excitement, “I will immediately proceed with this matter!”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3605-3608

Commander Hamid admired Charlie extremely.

Not only because Charlie healed his legs, it was also because Charlie guided him to resist the attack of the Dragon Hall, and also because of Charlie’s ability to easily turn things around in a big situation.

Prior to this, the country had frequent wars, and both sides of the war were furious, and the intervention of the Dragon Hall put Commander Hamid and his camp at stake.

However, after Charlie instructed the situation, the two sides had actually ceased fire for a long time.

During this time, everyone was completely relieved.

Now, Charlie re-inserted the Dragon Hall and placed him in a coordinated defense position.

This just made up for the weak defense of the Sayed side.

He knows that if this problem is not resolved, Sayed’s side will be more eager to eliminate all the opposition in the face of huge survival pressure and defensive pressure.

But now, the joining of Dragon Hall immediately relieved their mood.

Recalling that the Dragon Hall had already made allegiance to Charlie, Commander Hamid admired him even more in his heart.

At this moment, Charlie asked Commander Hamid, "By the way, what happened to the guys I sent the other day?"

Commander Hamid smiled and said, "They are all arranged to dig fortifications in the mountains."

"Before those students including Miss Scott, I gave them to organize classes boring gone, which is responsible for day to do hard labor in the forefront of the roadway. "

"Just then, they heard inside the nearby mountain suddenly sounded muffled, followed by an earthquake-like shaking of the earth."

Commander Hamid hurriedly explained, "My brother, this is the blasting in the tunnel. Punch a hole on the rock wall to transport the blasted stone out, and then anchor the tunnel."

"The tunnel is basically finished."

Charlie nodded, smiled and said, "Your place is really good. You don't have to worry about someone running in this place."

"Even if they run, they can't run out alive."

"Yeah!" Commander Hamid smiled, "There are mountains all around, it is really not easy to run out, and even the farmers around here are all my people, there are still my watchers everywhere, as long as the people you sent here, I use my head to guarantee that they will never be able to run away, and absolutely no one will be able to find them here."

Charlie smiled satisfied, "That's good, if I encounter something again in the future, I'll send them to you as free laborers."

Commander Hamid patted his chest and promised, "Don't worry, brother, I'll take as much as you come!"

"Yeah." Charlie nodded slightly, looked at the time and said, "Brother, I have to rush back to China, so I won't talk to you more, I will come back when I have a chance."

Commander Hamid said unwillingly, "Brother, at least have some lunch?"

"Let's have a good drink! I also asked someone to buy some Chinese Moutai a few days ago, just waiting for you to come and talk to you!"

Charlie smiled and said, "No, brother, I take it with my heart. I have more than four hours of flight to go back."

"I will be late to China at night. After Dragon Hall has made a prototype of the base, I will often come here, you can also communicate more privately with Wesley."

Commander Hamid nodded and said, "That's OK, since you are in a hurry to go back, then I won't keep you much. If you come next time, we must drink two cups that time!"

"Okay!" After a few minutes, Charlie returned to Beirut by helicopter alone.

When he arrived at Beirut Airport and was about to transfer to the Concorde to return home, he received a call from Wesley.

Since Charlie had made the terms very clear to Sayed, Wesley signed all the agreements smoothly after meeting them in Damascus.

Moreover, the leader of Sayed personally placed the map in front of Wesley and asked him to directly select a suitable location from the map.

Wesley also complied with the agreement and chose a relatively regular piece of land in the middle area between Damascus and the opposition gathering area to prepare to use it as the rear base of the Dragon Hall.

Although the total area of that piece of land was nearly 150 square kilometers, Sayed's leadership still agreed very readily.

For him, this piece of land happens to be the best choice for building a buffer zone.

Chapter 3606

After the Dragon Hall is stationed there, his life will be much more at ease.

In addition, about the issue of prisoners.

Wesley has arranged for the financial staff of the Dragon Hall to complete the transfer immediately, and Sayed has also personally begun to prepare for the release.

It is expected that all these people will be transported to Damascus as soon as this evening.

Wesley intends to let these soldiers in the Dragon Hall take a one-week vacation and let them fly back from Damascus to their respective countries with permanent residency rights to take a good rest, and then reschedule their next plans a week later task.

Charlie didn't have any opinion on his arrangement, so he let him arrange it all by himself.

Since then, important issues in the Middle East have been satisfactorily resolved.

As for the height of the Wesley can bring the Dragon Hall, the future depends mainly on himself.

.....

On the other side of the earth, Liam Weaver hurried to Washington with twenty boxes of Healing Salve Pill.

After getting off the plane, he immediately contacted the public relations company responsible for the matchmaking and had an appointment with the head of the FDA for dinner.

The other party only agreed to come out for a meal, and did not promise to solve any problems. Liam Weaver paid US$50,000 for this.

The public relations company earned 20,000 for the 50,000 US dollars, and the remaining 30,000 US dollars went into the pockets of the person in charge.

This kind of thing is a very common gray operation in the United States.

It is in an ambiguous zone between normal and illegal, so it is also a means for American public officials to generate income.

What Liam Weaver has to do is to push Healing Salve Pills to the other party as much as possible during this meal, and then try to persuade the other party to do a drug test for it to determined that there are no toxic side effects.

They can do clinical trials on a small scale, and then they will be able to see the effects of Healing Salve Pill soon.

Once they are sure that Healing Salve Pill are indeed effective in treating cancer, they will naturally realize the great value of this medicine, and at the same time, they will increase their recognition of Oracle Pharmaceutical.

In order to reduce the risk as much as possible, the public relations company chose the place to eat in a small restaurant they opened.

This small restaurant is located in the suburbs of Washington.

It advertises that it is a full membership restaurant, so it only provides services for its own members.

It also permanently closed the so-called new member registration channel to facilitate the public relations company to organize and arrange this special meeting. .

When Liam Weaver rushed to the restaurant, the person in charge who will meet him had not yet arrived.

A public relations officer dressed as a waiter said to him, "Mr. Weaver, Mr. Smith has been delayed a bit."

"It will take about 20 minutes to arrive. Please sit down for a while."

Liam Weaver nodded gently, and went to the other party. Under the arrangement, he sat down first.

Twenty minutes later, the other party still did not appear.

The public relations staff told him that it may take about twenty minutes for the other party.

Although Liam Weaver was a little anxious, he still agreed, but unexpectedly, after waiting for an hour and a half, the other party still did not show up.

After waiting for two hours, the other party finally arrived late.

The public relations staff brought the other person to Liam Weaver and introduced, "Mr. Weaver, this is Mr. James Smith."

The man called James Smith was a middle-aged white man in his forties.

He saw Liam Weaver and said with some embarrassment, "I'm sorry, Mr. Weaver, for keeping you waiting, there are some things at home that I need to deal with."

James Smith looks quite embarrassed, his hair is a bit messy, and the first button on his shirt had disappeared, only a short thread remained, and the tie seemed to have been torn apart and wrapped crookedly in the suit.

Liam Weaver was a little surprised.

He feels that a figure like Smith is definitely a member of the upper class in the United States, and is likely to be a member of some top circles.

After all, he has a lot of power and a high social status.

People like this all regard themselves as gentlemen, so they pay great attention to personal appearance, dress and behave very well, and even one strand of hair will not be messy, and this James Smith looks like a downfall, Insurance salesman.

This led Liam Weaver to speculate that something difficult had happened to him.

Chapter 3607

It was because he realized that the other party might have really encountered a lot of difficulties that Liam Weaver was not angry at all because of the other party's lateness.

Instead, he nodded very understandably and politely said, "It's okay, Mr. Smith. I have nothing else to do. Don't worry."

"Thank you!" James Smith thanked him and smiled politely before sitting in front of Liam Weaver.

The two ordered some meals at will, and James Smith asked Liam Weaver, "Is there anything important for Mr. Weaver to come from China so far away?"

Liam Weaver laughed and said, "Mr. Smith, you should have heard of Oracle Pharmaceutical?"

"I've heard of it." Smith nodded and said, "Do you have a drug under review by our FDA?"

"Yes." Liam Weaver said quickly, "It has been a long time since the review cycle, and it has not entered the next stage, so I want to ask if there is any way to speed up."

Smith said in a dilemma, "Now the FDA's review of imported drugs is very strict."

"This process is indeed very long, and I can't clearly tell you whether it meets our standards and can be approved for listing after going through all the processes.”

Liam Weaver explained, “Mr. Smith, the ingredients of our proprietary Chinese medicine are very safe, without any toxic and side effects, and the effect is very good.”

“It can be said that it is immediate. Will this medicine also be rejected by the FDA?”

Smith nodded and said, “In recent years, we have been receiving applications for drugs from Eastern countries, and the vast majority of them are proprietary Chinese medicine you mentioned.”

“Not only China, but also Japan and South Korea have submitted a lot, but the vast majority have been rejected.”

Liam Weaver asked puzzledly, “Why is this?”

Smith said very seriously, “Mr. Weaver, our Western requirements for drug testing and auditing are very different from traditional oriental medicine.”

“One of the most important points is that there must be clear pharmacokinetic tests.”

“You must clearly tell us what the effective ingredient of this drug is, for what reason, and what role it plays.”

“You must also tell us whether this drug has toxic and side effects in the body, especially the liver and kidneys, and how long the metabolic cycle of its ingredients in the body.”

“If I don’t know this, we can’t allow it to enter our market for sale.”

Liam Weaver said quickly, "Many Chinese prescriptions have very complex prescriptions, so their internal ingredients are also very complex."

"Unlike Western medicine, most of them are chemicals, there is often only one active ingredient, such as penicillin and aspirin."

"One molecular formula can reflect its actual composition and composition, and all proprietary Chinese medicines are difficult to reach."

"This kind of request from the West, but shouldn't it be like this to seek common ground while reserving differences?"

Smith shook his head and said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Weaver, we can't seek common ground while reserving differences."

"The rule is that all drugs that want to enter the U.S. market must in principle comply with all our rules, otherwise they cannot be sold on the market."

Liam Weaver said quickly, "Our medicine works very well, which is recognized by all patients and are best-selling drugs in many countries."

"As far as I know, many American patients buy our Nova Dias through purchasing agents, but this method is not only long, but also much more expensive."

Chapter 3608

"They also hope that the FDA can approved the medicine to enter the U.S. market."

Smith shook his head and said, "Many patients themselves can't tell whether your medicine has a clear therapeutic effect or a strong superficial symptom relief effect."

“If it’s the former, it’s okay, but if it’s the latter, it’s likely to delay the treatment of the actual lesion.”

Speaking of this, Smith added, “This is like a very popular hemorrhoid suppository in China.”

“Some patients in the United States bought it through online shopping and black market channels, and it feels good to use it.”

“Moreover, it has always hoped to pass the FDA review, but we have not passed its application. Do you know why?”

Liam Weaver asked puzzledly, “So why on earth?”

Smith said, “Because in our opinion, some cool and analgesic ingredients are used in that hemorrhoid suppositories, which can relieve pain, but they can only relieve pain.”

“In our opinion, these ingredients not only fail to really treat the lesion, but are likely to cover up the disease, thus It delays the scientific treatment of patients, so we also issued a warning some time ago reminding patients who use this medicine to pay attention to screening and not to ignore the core issues because of the alleviation of superficial symptoms.”

“In addition, we have also studied a certain combination tablet that used to be very popular in China.”

“It is said that it is a special cold medicine made of honeysuckle and forsythia combined with some Western medicine ingredients.”

“It can be found through our research that in that drug, there are two Western medicine ingredients that really play a therapeutic role.”

“One is a commonly used drug to reduce fever and analgesia, paracetamol; the other is a drug specially used to relieve allergies, rhinitis, sneezing, runny nose and other symptoms, paracetamol, which combine. It can just treat fever, cold and runny nose.”

Speaking of this, Smith spread out his hands and said seriously and helplessly, “Mr. Weaver, I’m not deliberately targeting you or traditional medicine in the whole East.”

“But think about it, if your Oracle Pharmaceutical also casually use some plant ingredients, match metformin, a Western medicine ingredient that can control blood sugar, and then declare that it is a proprietary Chinese medicine that can effectively reduce blood sugar, do you think it is possible for us to approve the market of this drug?”

“That’s why we have always been very cautious about oriental medicine.”

“Medicine is a very rigorous discipline. We must be clear and we can’t put together irresponsibly and wantonly.”

Liam Weaver also felt a little embarrassed and said bravely, “Mr. Smith, I don’t deny that there are a few so-called Chinese prescriptions or medicines that combine things.”

“It is indeed suspected of hanging sheep’s head and selling dog meat, but I don’t think you can put all oriental traditional medicine drugs just because you have such a case.”

“They are all killed with one stick. There are still many excellent drugs in traditional oriental medicine.”

Smith nodded, “Of course I don’t deny this, but what I want to say is that even excellent traditional oriental medicine drugs must meet all the requirements of our FDA before they can enter the Chinese market.”

“Therefore, if your drugs want to enter the American market for sale, we must first understand all its ingredients, as well as the use and potential dangers of each ingredient.”

Liam Weaver asked rhetorically, “Well, as you just said, the ingredients of many proprietary Chinese medicines are too complicated.”

“Maybe not be able to explain them clearly with a few ingredients, even dozens or hundreds of them, how can they be determined one by one?”

Smith shrugged his shoulders, “If we can’t confirm one by one, we can only fail.”

Liam Weaver asked again, “Even if you know that this medicine is very effective, do you refuse to sell it on the market because you can’t fully determine the ingredients and effects?”

“Yes.” Smith said firmly, “That’s our attitude. Even if the medicine really works, it will never go on the market until we figure it out.”

Liam Weaver couldn’t help asking, “Then don’t you think this is also a loss of the American people?”

“Loss?” When Smith heard this, he said in a somewhat contemptuous tone, “Mr. Weaver, to be honest, we in the United States have a large number of substitutes for all the oriental drugs I know so far, and they are safer and more efficient!”

“Whether it’s about headaches, brain heat, or all organs, blood vessels and nervous system, including heart, liver, spleen, lungs and kidneys, there are all organs, blood vessels and nervous system in your traditional oriental medicine, and we have all Western medicine, and our Western treatment methods are much better than your Eastern treatment methods!!”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3609-3612

At this point, Smith turned his words and said, "And! Many of Western medicine that cures diseases like psychopsychological diseases and viral diseases, such as AIDS, an immune system disease, and hyperthyroidism, an autoendocrine system disease, but you don't have any oriental medicine for it at all..."

At this time, Smith shook his head and laughed, "There are too many similar examples, so I won't list them all. In a word, I don't think it's a loss for our people to refuse your drugs to enter our market for sale, because we have better choices in our country!"

Liam Weaver's self-esteem was deeply tingled by Smith's pride in his bones.

He knew very well that Smith's attitude seemed to respect each other on the surface, but in fact, he had contempt and disdain for Oriental medicine in his heart.

Seeing that he indiscriminately belittled oriental medicine, Liam Weaver couldn't help asking him, "Mr. Smith, you said that Western medicine is better than oriental medicine, so I want to ask you, can the Western medicine effectively treat advanced cancer now?"

"ADVANCE CANCER?" Smith's expression suddenly stunned and then said, "Cancer is a medical problem all over the world. If there are targeted drugs and have not yet developed drug resistance, it may prolong life for several months, but if it has reached the end of systemic diffusion, and even God can do nothing."

Speaking of this, a trace of sadness flashed between his eyebrows. He immediately shook his head and smiled, saying with a little sarcasm and disdain, "However, even so, Western medicine is absolutely authoritative in the field of cancer!"

Liam Weaver nodded angrily and said seriously, "I admit that Western medicine, as the most mainstream treatment method in the world, does make great contributions to the whole human society, but this is not the basis for you completely denying oriental medicine.”

With that, he asked Smith rhetorically, “I don’t know if Mr. Smith has heard that a well-known Chinese entrepreneur suffered from advanced pancreatic cancer some time ago, but now he has completely recovered?”

Smith said disdainfully, “How can this be possible? It is the biggest joke in the history of medical history that pancreatic cancer can still recover in the advanced stage! Don’t tell me that this patient was cured by traditional oriental medicine?”

“That’s right!” Liam Weaver held his head high and said, “All Western doctors sentenced to death for advanced pancreatic cancer, which was cured by Oriental Medicine!”

Smith sneered, “You’re just kidding me! I have been studying medicine for more than twenty years. Do you look like a mentally retarded person?”

Liam Weaver took out two boxes of Healing Salve Pills that had been prepared for a long time, put them on the table, and said to Smith, “Mr. Smith, this is the Healing Salve Pills we just developed. This medicine is specially developed for cancer and has a very good therapeutic effect on cancer. Even end-stage cancer patients only need to take this medicine. Things can also maintain life, and they can even be cured after taking them for a long time!”

With that, Liam Weaver raised the volume a little and said firmly, “If you don’t believe it, you can find a terminally ill cancer patient to have a try. With your medical level, as long as a volunteer is willing to try one, you will definitely see the changes in his body. At that time, you will know whether I am I’m kidding!”

Smith’s expression gradually cooled down. He pulled his tie, stared at Liam Weaver, and said harshly, “Listen, I don’t mind if someone spends thirty thousand dollars calling me out for dinner, or sitting here and listening to you talk nonsense like cow shit all night, but don’t joke about end-stage cancer patients in front of me!”

Speaking of which, Smith roared with a distorted expression, "My son! My lovely, twelve-year-old son! He was diagnosed with glioma five years ago and undergone many craniotomy operations. Now it has developed to the fourth stage!"

"In the past five years, he has suffered endlessly from many people in their lives!"

"I'm also exhausted the best treatment that can be found in the world!"

"It is because of the top medical technologies that he can live to this day!"

"Otherwise, he may have left me three years ago!"

"So, if you can guarantee to put away your unidentified garbage medicine, and from now on, I can maintain my gentlemanliness and sit here to accompany you to dinner!"

"Otherwise, I'll leave now!"

"and I won't refund you a penny of your thirty-ten thousand dollars!"

Liam Weaver didn't expect that there would be such a thing in the other party's house, and he felt a little empathetic for a while.

So he said apologetically, "Mr. Smith, I'm sorry to hear that. I take the liberty to ask, how is your son's condition now?"

When Smith heard this question, the aggressiveness just now disappeared, and replaced it with a kind of despair and helplessness from the bottom of his heart.

He sighed and muttered, “Half a month ago, he just received $47 million T-cell immunotherapy from Novartis Pharmaceutical, but with little effect...”

“Now, his tumor has recurred and spread all over the body...”

“Just three days ago, the largest tumor in his brain had compressed his optic nerve, so he is now blind...”

“The reason why I was late just now was that an hour before I got off work, my wife told me that his hearing was also affected and he couldn’t hear others clearly...”

“So I rushed to the hospital. The doctor told me that his current situation has lost its meaning of treatment, and there is still one month left in his life at most.”

Speaking of this, Smith clenched his fist and said unwillingly, “But I also want to try T-cell therapy again. Once it doesn’t work, maybe two or three times can work. Even if it can only make him live two or three more, I’m willing! Because only if he is alive can miracles happen...”

Liam Weaver pushed the two boxes of Healing Salve pills to him again and said seriously, “Mr. Smith, since your son’s condition is so critical, I hope you can put aside your prejudice against traditional oriental medicine, take these two boxes of medicine back, and give him a try. Miracles will definitely happen!”

Smith’s ferocious expression reappeared. He roughly swept the two boxes of Healing Salve Pills to the ground and roared angrily, “I have told you! Put away your garbage! Even if you kill me, I won’t use my precious son to experiment with your backward traditional medicine!”

Liam Weaver has always maintained excellent cultivation and has always measured Smith’s mood, but he didn’t expect that even if he knew so well, Smith was still full of hostility to traditional oriental medicine.

What's more, Charlie is his benefactor and his most respected person. But seeing that Charlie's own refined Healing Salve pills was hit to the ground by the other party, he couldn't stand it anymore!

Then he stood up and said angrily, "Mr. Smith! I have been forbearing your contemptuous attitude many times, but your extremely proud and world-first attitude is too excessive and lacks cultivation! Do you think I flew more than half of the globe and spent fifty thousand dollars on public relations just to tease you? Then you take yourself too seriously!"

With that, he bent down, picked up two boxes of Healing Salve pills, gently wiped the dust on them, and carefully restored the shrunken parts of the box.

Then he said to Smith very seriously, "Mr. Smith, I ask you to remember this medicine. Its name is Healing Salve Pills! It is made by a top master I admire! It doesn't matter if you don't believe this medicine. One day, I will let you know how stupid you are today! In my opinion, your so-called pride and self-confidence are just like a frog in the well, sitting in the well and watching the sky!"

As soon as he heard the words, he immediately pulled up his suitcase and said coldly, "There is no need to continue this meal! There is no need to refund the money! Goodbye!"

Smith was a little stunned, but he still said hard, "In that case, I won't give you away!"

Liam Weaver turned around at this time and looked at him. His heart softened a little. He put one of the boxes of Healing Salve pills back in front of him and said lightly, "Although you are arrogant, the child is innocent after all. This box of medicine is left to you. You can use it or not. Take care of yourself."

Chapter 3611

"There is not much time!"

After saying this, Liam Weaver pulled the suitcase and strode away from the hotel.

At this time, Smith felt as if he had been humiliated.

Just for a moment when he was stunned, Liam Weaver had left the hotel.

He looked down at the box of Healing Salve pills on the table. He was extremely angry. He raised his hand and threw the box of medicine into the garbage can. He said angrily like venting, "What bullshit! Healing Salve pills are all fucking shit! I spent millions of dollars to try all kinds of cutting-edge technologies to treat my son! Even if the president has cancer, he will never get more treatment than my son! After exhausting so much painstaking efforts, he can't be cured. How can this kind of proprietary Chinese medicine be cured well!"

At this time, the public relations staff who had been hiding behind and did not come out to disturb them, hurried out and asked, "Mr. Smith, what's going on? Is Mr. Weaver gone?"

Smith said angrily, "He's already gone!"

The public relations staff asked awkwardly, "The meal is almost ready, or I'll serve you first?"

"You fart!" Smith scolded impatiently, "I have long wanted to tell you that your chef cooks ten thousand times worse than shit! If it hadn't been for making money, I would have stuffed all his cooking into his ass!"

The public relations staff were stunned in an instant, and they never dreamed that Smith, who had always been a gentleman, would be so angry.

But he also knew that Smith must be in a very bad mood. At this time, he can't touch his mold at any time.

So he hurriedly smiled and said, “Mr. Smith, don’t worry, we will definitely replace the chef next time. At that time, we will hire a French Michelin-star chef from New York to serve you in person.”

Smith shook his head and said coldly, “No need.”

Speaking of this, he turned depressed and said with red eyes, “This is the last time I have cooperated with you. If there is such a thing in the future, don’t look for me again...”

Smith is now deeply aware that his son is hopeless.

Although he just told Liam Weaver that he still hopes to continue to do the $47 million T-cell immunotherapy of Novartis Pharmaceutical for his son, he knows very well that the so-called cutting-edge technology is far from the nemesis of cancer. It only has a good therapeutic effect on blood cancer and lymphoma, but not on solid tumors.

In front of end-stage patients with solid tumors, this $47 million-dollar immunotherapy is as effective as playing with little.

To make an inappropriate metaphor, it’s like the wind can easily blow away a fart, but it is difficult to blow away a piece of shit completely.

In addition, he is now in the house, and it is difficult to make up $47 million for the next treatment.

Smith usually earns a high income, and the family also has very complete medical insurance. However, medical insurance covers treatments that have been officially put into commercial use and included in the medical insurance objects.

Chapter 3612

In order to keep his son’s life, Smith has been using his convenience to contact the world’s top medical technologies, and even many medical technologies that are still in the experimental stage.

That kind of medical method is extremely expensive, and medical insurance does not care at all, and it is not borne at all.

So, over a few years, Smith smashed millions of dollars in assets.

Moreover, at least half of them are gray incomes like today.

At present, he can no longer afford it.

What's more, he was also very clear that his son's situation had begun to take a sharp turn, followed by blindness and deafness.

According to this trend, a month is already the best situation.

It's a little worse. Maybe it can't even survive a week.

Under such circumstances, it is really unnecessary for him to continue to earn such extra money.

The publicist was still thinking about how to persuade him, and he had already stood up and turned around to go out.

However, after taking a few steps, he suddenly remembered what Liam Weaver said before he left.

Therefore, he also asked himself in his heart, "That Chinese man seems to be right. Why does he spend a lot of money flying halfway across the earth and spending fifty thousand dollars to tell me a lot of shit?”

After a moment of hesitation, he hurried back.

Seeing that the public relations staff was about to take away the garbage can, he blurted out in a hurry, “Don’t move! Put down the trash can!”

The public service staff asked in surprise, “Mr. Smith...what’s wrong with you...you?”

Smith strode to him, grabbed the garbage can from his hand, then took out the box of Healing Salve pills, turned around and left the restaurant with the box of medicine.

At this time, Liam Weaver had disappeared outside the restaurant.

Just a minute ago, Liam Weaver took a taxi to a booked hotel in downtown Washington.

He knew in his heart that a stubborn person like Smith probably couldn’t take it down.

Therefore, he must quickly find a way to implement Charlie’s second plan.

That is, to find a star that is well known in the United States, and it must also be a star who is already suffering from cancer.

In the taxi to the hotel, he has begun to search for relevant information on his mobile phone, hoping to find the most suitable medicine tester.

While looking for it, he was still indignant at Smith’s attitude just now. He couldn’t help complaining in a low voice, “This man is really eyeless. He doesn’t even believe the magic medicine refined by Master Wade himself. I flew more than ten thousand kilometers and wanted to bring him a long-appetization, but he just don’t want it. I really don’t know how he will regret coming...”

At the same time, James Smith had also got into his car. Instead of starting the car in a hurry, he took Healing Salve Pills in his hand and checked them repeatedly.

Because he couldn’t see why, he took apart the medicine box and found that it was a plastic tablet. Through transparent materials, he could see seven black and round pills in it.

He subconsciously pulled out one of the pills from the plastic board, and when the aluminum foil was cut out, a strong herbal fragrance suddenly rushed out of it.

Smith was startled by the fragrance, but his first thought was uncontrollably muttering, “With such a heavy aroma, is there any flavor or aroma added to it?”

Thinking of this, he couldn’t help but be disappointed, sighed, put the medicine on the co-pilot, and drove to the hospital.

When he arrived at the hospital, his wife was sitting outside the ICU ward crying. Across the huge glass window, he could see his son lying in the hospital bed full of pipes.

When his eight-year-old daughter saw him coming back, she hugged him and asked, “Dad, is my brother dying?”

Smith comforted quickly, “Don’t think nonsense. Your brother won’t die.”

Speaking of which, he couldn’t control his nose from soreness.

Then he found that his son in the ward was actually using a ventilator.

Although his son's condition is relatively serious, there is no big problem with the respiratory system, so it is not serious enough to need a ventilator.

Moreover, when he left just now, his son broke down because of deafness. The doctor gave him a little safety sedative. He fell asleep before leaving by himself, so he didn't understand why the child had to go to the ventilator while falling asleep.

So he hurriedly asked his wife, "Jenny, why did Jimmy use the ventilator?"

His wife Jenny Smith choked and said, "The doctor said that his body function declined rapidly and his blood oxygen fell, so he used a ventilator."

With that, she couldn't help it and cried, "James...the doctor said that Jimmy may not have much time..."

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3613

When the cancer is in the terminal stage, any part of the patient's body maybe in danger at any time, and then life-threatening.

Because the entire body system, like building blocks that are constantly piled up, is already on the verge of collapse, and may collapse at any time.

What's more, James Smith's son is only twelve years old, and his body has been overdrawn to the extreme in the course of years of fighting cancer.

In addition, the tumor in his brain was getting bigger, and his vision and hearing were affected, and his emotions were very intense.

The doctor also injected him with tranquilizers. All these factors are speeding up his withering.

James Smith looked at his son on the hospital bed through the window, and he was completely desperate.

He knew that after so many years of hard work, he still lost.

At this moment, a doctor walked up to him and said with some respect and sympathy: "Mr. Smith, Jimmy's situation is really bad."

"I'm afraid he will not survive tonight, you see. Do we still have to prepare rescue measures?"

Since James Smith is a senior FDA and he is in charge of drug review, he has a very strong relationship in the national medical system.

Therefore, he can continuously use the world's most cutting-edge anti-cancer technology on his son.

It is precisely because of this that the doctors in the hospital attach great importance to his son.

At the moment, the doctor also knows that his son has no chance of survival, but in view of James Smith's long-standing beliefs, he still has to seek James Smith's advice to see if he wants to rescue his son again.

No matter what their status or background, once they become a critically ill patient, they have no dignity.

Not only do they have no dignity, but they may also have to endure the strongest pain in the world.

Many rescue methods are very harmful to the body.

For example, during cardiac arrest, strong cardiac resuscitation may break the patient's ribs; cardiac defibrillation may also cause skin burns; when breathing is difficult, the doctor may even need to treat the patient the trachea of the patient is intubated, and even the whole body is filled with the tube, and then the patient uses various equipment of extracorporeal circulation.

Some patients, after this series of rescues, have a chance to regain a new life, but for terminal-stage cancer patients, undergoing such a large-scale rescue, it is likely that they will only continue to live without dignity for a few days.

The hospital where James Smith's son is admitted, called the Mayo Clinic, is the best oncology hospital in the entire United States and even the entire world.

The Washington campus is the latest and most cutting-edge that they just opened this year and invested huge financial resources.

The doctors here have extremely rich experience in rescue, almost representing the peak level of medical treatment of cancer, and a great reputation all over the world.

The evaluation of Mayo by medical institutions around the world is very high, and the various rumors can be summed up in one sentence, 'Hades asks who is dead for the third watch, and Mayo keeps him until the fifth watch.'

Therefore, Mayo's doctor is also sure to save James Smith's son a few more days by rescue at all costs.

However, all this depends on James Smith's wishes.

After all, in the doctor's opinion, this child has already experienced too much pain.

At this time, there is no need for him to continue to suffer a round of hellish torture before leaving.

James Smith's eyes were already red from crying at this time, and big tears were streaming down.

He hesitated and sighed again and again, and said, "Forget it...just let him spend the last time quietly..."

Chapter 3614

"I don't want him to suffer any more..."

The doctor nodded gravely, and said, "Mr. Smith, you made a very correct decision. I believe Jimmy will thank you for it."

James Smith choked up and asked, "Can he wake up?"

The doctor said, "The dose of the sedative we gave him is very small. If there is nothing unexpected, it will take another hour to wake up."

"Your family can go in and accompany him more."

James Smith nodded with red eyes, the doctor patted his shoulder and comforted: "You can go in now."

“I won’t be here to disturb your family anymore.”

“If you have something to do, just press the call bell and I will come over as soon as possible.”

“Okay...”

The doctor is gone, and the ICU, which originally required a very high sterile environment, no longer imposes any restrictions, which means that the patients in the ward have begun to let the flow go.

James Smith walked into the ward with his wife and daughter.

His son on the bed was still unconscious, but he could see that he was in a very poor state now.

There was no blood, pale and thin.

James Smith’s wife was a little out of control, crying and she lay on the edge of the hospital bed.

She shook her son’s hand hard and choked up and said, “Jimmy, promise mom you must get better, mom can’t live without you...”

James Smith quietly wiped with a tear, choked and said, “Jenny, we are losing Jimmy, you have to accept this reality...”

“No...” Jenny Smith shook her head and said, “I don’t accept it!”

“No one has the right to take my son away from me. Not even God!”

James Smith said helplessly, “Jenny, we have exhausted all the methods available in this world...”

“What better solution is there if you don’t accept it?”

Jenny seemed mad in general, blurting out, “My good friend know that a psychic live in Arizona, said she is not only psychic, but also proficient in a certain Church in Mexico, I will ask her to come here!”

As she said, Jenny immediately took out her mobile phone.

James Smith hurriedly stopped her and said, “You are a top student from the University of Pennsylvania.”

“How can you believe in psychics that have no scientific basis at all?”

Jenny asked him, “Then you tell me! What do you say I should believe in?”

James Smith blurted out without thinking, “Of course I believe in modern medicine!”

Jenny pointed to her son on the hospital bed, crying and asked, “Jimmy is dying! Tell me, how can modern medicine save him?”

James Smith covered his face, took a deep breath, and said, “If it weren’t for modern medicine, Jimmy might have been gone three years ago.”

“Now the cancer cells in his body are all over his body, no matter how good medical technology is, it is impossible to save life.”

“He is also my son, and I also hope that miracles can happen, but we still have to be realistic, otherwise, you may not be able to come out in your life...”

Jenny yelled like crazy, “I don’t care! I don’t care about anything now!”

“I just want to keep my son alive! I can’t stay here and watch him die!”

“We have to do something! If you don’t want to do anything, then don’t stop me!”

As she said, Jenny remembered something, and then said, “I heard people say that there is a Chinese doctor in Chinatown who is very good.”

“I will ask a friend for contact information now!”

James Smith also suddenly thought of Liam Weaver’s own box of medicine, and subconsciously said, “Someone just gave me a box of medicine, it is impossible to try it, if this medicine does not work, you did not need to ask what the Chinese medicine.”

Jenny Asked hurriedly, “Where is the medicine?! Bring it here and try it!”

James Smith said, “In the car, I’ll get it right now.”

Chapter 3615

Two minutes later, James Smith returned to the ICU ward with the box of Healing Salve pill.

As soon as Jenny saw that she really had a box of medicine in her hand, she grabbed it and blurted out and asked him, “Is this medicine taken orally?”

“The person who gave me the medicine didn’t tell me.”

Jenny took the medicine in her hand and looked at it.

Fortunately, there were Chinese and English text instructions on the back of the medicine box.

Looking at the simple line above, she said in surprise, “There is only one sentence on it, which says, ‘Cancer patients take one on an empty stomach every day, insist on taking it to cure it, and at the same time, it can quickly help the body recover...’”

“D*mn...” James Smith scolded, gritted his teeth and said, “I fucking have never seen such a loose anti-cancer drug!”

“Even children eat bubble gum, which means more than this!”

“D*mn it, there is no credibility!”

After saying that, he curled his lips contemptuously and said, “What kind of vitality does it have to restore?”

“I hate what Chinese people say about vitality, yin and yang theory most.”

“Those things are all shit in my eyes! Let’s throw away this box of garbage quickly!”

Jenny shook her head and said firmly, “No! I’m going to give Jimmy a try!”

James Smith blurted out, “This medicine doesn’t even write about its ingredients, taboos and side effects.”

Jenny stubbornly said, “It doesn’t matter whether what it writes or not.”

“What’s important is that it is written that it can cure cancer. Since this is the case, I’m going to have a try!”

James Smith’s head was as big as he could, and his contempt and disdain for the bones of traditional oriental medicine made him really unwilling to let his son try this untrustworthy proprietary Chinese medicine during his son’s last end.

However, Jenny doesn’t care about this anymore.

She is now like a drowner who is on the verge of death.

The box of medicine in her hand has become her last straw!

So she took out the pill James Smith had previously picked out, carefully picked up her son’s head, took off the mask of the ventilator, and put the pill into her son’s mouth.

James Smith blurted out and shouted, “Are you crazy?! You took his oxygen mask now, he will die!”

“And even if you want him to take this kind of junk pill, you have to wait until he wakes up, otherwise what if he chokes?”

Jenny couldn't take care of this anymore.

She stuffed the pills into her son's mouth and then prepared to take some water from the head of the bed to help her son deliver it.

When she took the water in her hand, she found that the pill had entered her son's mouth, and then disappeared.

After all, this is a panacea refined by Charlie himself, and it is also mixed with Life-Saving pill, so at the moment of entering the mouth, the reaction with saliva immediately turns into a pure medicine and flows into the abdomen along the patient's throat.

Jenny smelled the medicinal smell from her son's mouth and subconsciously muttered, “This pill melts quite quickly...”

James Smith covered his forehead with one hand and said dejectedly, “I really can't believe that I have concentrated Jimmy's top anti-cancer technology in the world, but at the end of his life, he was forced to take this so-called proprietary Chinese medicine of unknown origin.”

“What a shame to me!”

Jenny couldn't help complaining, “Since you entered the FDA, your personality has become more extreme and harsh.”

“Modern medicine is not the only effective in the world. Why do you have to attack other medical methods?”

James Smith said very seriously, "I don't want to attack anything else, but any treatment must stand the test and test of perfection!"

"This is the principle of science!"

Jenny asked him rhetorically, "Then do you believe in God?"

"I..." Smith was speech-spersed.

In the United States, if a person publicly says that he does not believe in God, he will definitely be excluded by the whole society.

Because this country, even the president takes office, has to say God bless America in the last sentence of the oath of office.

Therefore, believing in God, political correctness here.

Even if you really don't believe it, you can't deny its existence.

Therefore, James Smith was also embarrassed and hesitantly said, "God is more of faith and guidance for us."

"How can God be compared with a loose Chinese medicine?"

Jenny said coldly, "I know that there is no God in your heart at all, because you don't believe in God at all."

“No!” James Smith said hurriedly, “You know, I go to church with you every week and pray to God every day.”

“How can I not believe in God? I just don’t believe in this proprietary Chinese medicine.”

Jenny said meanly, “Don’t think I don’t know. Every time you go to church with me, your heart is always perfunctory!”

“I have never seen your fear of God in you! You have been like this for so many years!”

James Smith wanted to refute, but just then he suddenly heard a boy’s voice and asked, “Dad and Mom, what are you arguing about?”

He subconsciously looked at his son in the hospital bed.

Seeing that his son had woken up, he blurted out, “Your mother said I don’t believe in God. When did I not believe in God?”

After saying that, he came to his senses and blurted out, “Oh, my God! Jimmy! You’re awake! It must be that the effect of the sedative has passed. How are you doing now?”

Jenny also subconsciously turned around and saw that her son was awake.

She quickly reached out and touched his forehead.

She asked, “Jimmy, how are you feeling? Don’t be afraid. Mom is here. Mom will always be with you...”

Jimmy whispered, "I feel so thirsty and a little hungry..."

Jenny quickly handed the straw from the glass to his mouth and said, "Jimmy, drink some water quickly!"

Chapter 3616

With that, she suddenly stared at her eyes wide and asked like a burst, "Jimmy, you...can you hear me?"

James Smith was also stunned. Before his son was injected with sedatives, he was a little excited because he lost his hearing.

The doctor was afraid that his life would be in danger, so he injected with a sedative.

However, the son can now talk to his wife, which is enough to prove that his hearing has been restored!

Jimmy nodded and said, "I can hear you, and...and..."

The husband and wife hurriedly asked, "And what?"

Jimmy tried to blink and said, "And I feel... I seem to see a little light now..."

"What?" James Smith was stunned and blurted out, "You...can you see us?"

"Not yet..." Jimmy said, "It's just that in front of me has changed from dark to a little bright."

“I can faintly see some outlines, but this outline is very blurred...”

James Smith quickly said, “Dad will turn on all the lights!”

After saying that, he quickly turned on all the lights in the ward to the brightest, and blurted out excitedly and asked, “Jimmy, how are you feeling now?”

Jimmy was also a little excited, and his voice trembled and said, “I seem to see the outline of things more clearly... Dad... I see you!”

“I can see your outline! But I can’t see your facial features clearly now...”

Jenny immediately covered her mouth with her hands and choked uncontrollably, “Oh, my God... This is a miracle!”

“A miracle appeared!”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3617-3618

James Smith was also a little horrified.

However, he was a little more calm than his wife, so he immediately stretched out two fingers, gestured in front of his son and asked, “Jimmy, can you see how many fingers I stretched out now?”

Jimmy nodded, “Two fingers , I can see it.”

James Smith was ecstatic, replaced with three fingers and asked, "Now?!"

"It's three..."

James Smith was excited with tears and choked, "Oh God, you can really see..."

Jenny on the side was even more excited, looking at the Healing Salve Pill in her hand, she said, "This medicine is simply amazing!"

Jimmy just only took it a minute or two but not only did his hearing recover, also his vision began to slowly recovery...this...this is really incredible..."

James Smith couldn't help but said in surprise, "But it shouldn't be."

"If this medicine is really effective, then it shouldn't be effective so soon, right?"

Jenny questioned him, "This is a fact! The fact is right in front of you, do you still want to deny it?"

"I didn't..." James Smith hurriedly explained, "I don't want to deny it, I just don't think it seems to be in line with common sense."

"Could it be an illusion? Or the effect of the previous treatment has just started, and it happened to be caught up by this medicine?"

Jenny said indignantly, "You are hopeless!"

After all, thinking of something, she pointing to the indicators on the instrument, blurted out, "Didn't you find out. Your son's blood oxygen indicators and blood pressure and heart rate indicators are much stronger than before?! Before this, your son's oxygen is low enough to use a ventilator!"

James Smith remembered this detail and said in horror, "This...this is really incredible...I will call the doctor over!"

So he immediately pressed the call bell , Blurted out, "Doctor, please come here as soon as possible!"

Soon, several doctors rushed over.

They thought that the patient's condition must have deteriorated.

But after they arrived, they found that the patient was talking to his mother at this time.

Moreover, looking at the posture of his words, his body has indeed recovered a lot, after all, he had already been overdrawn to the extreme before that.

Seeing the doctor's surprise, James Smith hurriedly said, "Jimmy's hearing has recovered, his vision is slowly recovering, he can see the outline, he can see a few fingers clearly, and his various indicators have been greatly improved."

"I will trouble you to help us look at his current situation!"

Several doctors were also a little surprised.

They have been focusing on cancer for many years, and they can be regarded as the world's top cancer experts, but they can't understand why James Smith's son can make such a big change in such a short period of time?

Theoretically speaking, the tumor compresses the optic nerve and auditory nerve, and there are only two possible recovery possibilities.

One is to remove the tumor directly by surgery, and the other is to use chemo-radiation to significantly reduce the tumor.

However, Jimmy's physical condition has been extremely poor, not to mention the operation of such a big craniotomy, even if it is an anesthetic for general anesthesia, he can't bear it.

Not to mention chemotherapy and radiotherapy, his body has long been unable to bear it.

Therefore, in the doctor's cognition, his condition will only get worse and worse, and there is absolutely no possibility of turning around.

Chapter 3618

However, all this in front of them completely subverted their cognition.

As a result, they can only hurried forward to conduct detailed investigations.

After their tests, the patient's hearing has indeed recovered, and the degree of visual recovery continues to improve.

Jimmy could only see an outline vaguely before, but now the clarity and brightness of things have improved to a certain extent.

And his physical function indicators have indeed made great progress.

He had entered a dying state before, but now, there is basically no life-threatening.

The attending doctor called the husband and wife out of the ward, and said in confusion, "Mr. and Mrs. Smith, although I don't know what the cause is, according to Jimmy's current physical index assessment, his life is temporarily out of danger, we may also have a more optimistic assessment of his next life cycle."

As he said, he himself didn't understand, he held his chin and said, "This matter is too hard for me to understand."

"When I tested him ten minutes ago, I guessed that his life was only left, no more than 24 hours, but now, the whole body has taken a big step forward."

"As long as the cancer cells do not spread too fast in the next few days, then his life should not be in danger in the next few days."

Jenny raised with Healing Salve in her hand, she said, "I just let Jimmy take this a few minutes ago."

"What is this?" The attending doctor looked at the box of Healing Salve in surprise, and asked politely, "Mrs. Smith, can I take a look at the box of things in your hand?"

Jenny hesitated for a moment, or passed the box of medicine.

However, her eyes were fixed on the medicine box, for fear that the attending doctor would say that she would use this box of medicine to do some research.

Because she now firmly believes that this box of medicine is the only hope for saving her son.

The attending doctor took the Healing Salve Pill, looked at it before and after, and said awkwardly,

“This...Is this medicine?!”

“Does it mean that it is too sloppy and rigorous?”

Then, he looked at James Smith, asked puzzledly, “Does it write about which cancers he specifically applies to?”

“And, if it is a targeted drug, shouldn’t it write about it’s related gene targets?”

James Smith finally heard the same point of view as himself, and repeatedly agreed, “Yes! I agree with you!”

“The instructions for the use of this medicine are simply a joke in the medical field! Oh no! It is a disaster in the medical field!”

Jenny Suddenly the fire became angry and roared in anger:, “James, you have enough! You have to know that your son has just been declared out of danger, and the danger that takes your son out of his life is this.”

“You think it is a joke medicine!?”

Speaking of this, Jenny was even more excited, “Not only did you have no feeling of gratitude, you even mocked and questioned it in such an arrogant tone!”

“If you still have this arrogant attitude next, please stay out from my eyes and disappear!”

James Smith hastened to apologize, “I’m sorry Jenny, that’s not what I meant.”

“I mean to say, although I don’t understand what kind of medicine it is, but you have to admit that it’s explanation is indeed a bit too sloppy, right?”

“Sloppy?” Jenny sneered, “The reason why people didn’t say that it is used to treat any cancers may be because it is used to treat all cancers!”

As she said, she said again, “Also! The reason why it did not say what gene target it belongs to is probably because it doesn’t need a gene target at all!”

“You think is the targeted drug you study really powerful?”

“Only patients who find a gene target can have the opportunity to take the targeted drug you researched.”

“If there is no such target in his gene, then this target to drugs for it not the slightest effect! “

“But you look at this medicine, it didn’t need to find what targets! Direct will be able to take effective immediately, than you much good!”

She continued, “Furthermore, as they have said above, it can quickly help the body to restore vitality!”

“In Chinese, vitality is the root of a person?”

“Look at Jimmy’s current state, more than a minutes ago, isn’t this a sign of recovery?!”

“Facts speak louder than words, why are you embarrassed to continue to question it?!”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3619-3620

Chapter 3619

Not only James Smith, but also the attending doctor were a little ashamed to be scolded by Jenny like this.

He looked at the medicine carefully and couldn't help saying, “Can I take one for a test?”

“Don't think about it!” Jenny grabbed the medicine back and blurted, “This is my son's life-saving medicine. No one can take it!”

Seeing that the medicine had been robbed, the attending doctor quickly explained, “Mrs. Smith, don't misunderstand what I mean. I want to test the ingredients of this medicine to see what's special about this medicine. To analyze whether Jimmy's improvement is caused by this medicine. Since it's science, we must be strict, what do you think?”

Jenny said angrily, “I said you get out of here! I really hate the faces of you so-called science people more and more!”

“The facts are in front of you, but you still don't believe it! Is the so-called science more convincing than reality?!”

With that, she immediately turned around and returned to the ward.

James Smith and the attending doctor quickly followed up, but saw that Jimmy was struggling to sit up slightly at this time.

Jenny had quickly walked to her son and asked concernedly, "Jimmy, how are you feeling now?"

Jimmy said, "My body feels a little easier and has some strength than before, but the look is still blurred. I still felt that it is getting better just now, and now it's gone."

Jenny hurriedly said, "Jimmy, don't worry. Maybe the effect of the medicine has been exhausted. Mom will give you another pill tomorrow. I believe your condition can continue to improve!"

Jimmy asked excitedly, "Mom, am I about to recover?"

Jenny cried with excitement and hugged her son's head. He choked and said, "Yes, Jimmy, you're getting better!"

Jimmy also said happily, "When I get better, I'm going to play baseball! I'm going to play the roller coaster! I still want to go to Ocean Park!"

Jenny said without hesitation, "Okay! No matter what you want to do, mom will accompany you then!"

James Smith couldn't help bursting into tears at this time. He subconsciously asked the attending doctor beside him, "Is that medicine really effective?"

The attending doctor said blankly, "I... I'm not sure...but judging from my experience, the treatment plan we have used Jimmy, and it is really impossible to produce such an effect, so if we use the exclusion method, it is likely to be the effect of this medicine."

"Holy Motherfucker!" Smith cursed with a shocked face, pulled off his tie, and blurted out, "It seems that the Chinese are going to shock the world this time..."

After saying that, he immediately took out his mobile phone and called the public relations manager who arranged to meet Liam Weaver.

When the phone was connected, he said in the first sentence, "I want Liam Weaver's contact information. Immediately, right away!"

Although the other party was surprised, he immediately agreed and said, "Wait a minute, Mr. Smith, I'll send you his contact information."

Soon, Smith got a string of phone numbers starting with +86.

He called Liam Weaver directly without thinking.

Chapter 3620

At this time, Liam Weaver, who had just checked in at a hotel in downtown Washington, was preparing to continue to search for a celebrity with cancer in the United States.

Suddenly, he received a call from a strange number.

Liam Weaver hesitated for a moment and still pressed the answer button.

James Smith's voice immediately came from the other side of the phone, "Hello, Mr. Weaver, this is James Smith!"

Liam Weaver frowned and asked him, "What's wrong Mr. Smith?"

James Smith bravely said, "Mr. Weaver, well, I gave my son the medicine you gave me. Now my child's condition has improved significantly, so I want to ask you, if you take one every day, how much can the child's condition be improved, and whether this medicine can completely cure cancer?"

Liam Weaver said, "I can't tell you very clearly, because different conditions have different effects of use. However, no matter how serious the condition of cancer patients is, as long as they start taking Healing Salve Pills, the condition will definitely continue to improve. Even if it is very serious, long-term use will definitely cure it."

With that, Liam Weaver said again, "I suggest you observe the child's medication first to see how much your child's condition will improve after taking this box of Healing Salve pills."

James Smith was about to ask Liam Weaver if he could give him another box of Healing Salve pills, but Liam Weaver deliberately said at this time, "I'm sorry, Mr. Smith, I have something else on hand. Let's talk about it later."

With that, he hung up the phone directly.

Liam Weaver hung up the phone and called Charlie as soon as possible.

At this time, Charlie happened to wait for a return trip back to China in Lebanon.

After receiving Liam Weaver's phone call, he asked, "Liam Weaver, is it going well in the United States?"

Liam Weaver said quickly, "Master Wade, it didn't go well at the beginning. The person in charge of the FDA has a great resistance to our traditional medicine, and his attitude is very arrogant."

Speaking of this, Liam Weaver told Charlie the details of his meeting with James Smith, and then told Charlie about James Smith's phone call.

After hearing this, Charlie laughed and said, "It's really another really fragrant case."

With that, Charlie said again, “I guess he called you to ask more Healing Salve pills.”

“Yes.” Liam Weaver smiled and said, “I guess he also has this intention, so I hung up the phone without waiting for him to say it.”

Charlie said, “I guess he will continue to beat you tirelessly. In this way, when he hits you again, you can tell him that Healing Salve pills have no side effects. If the situation is serious, it is not a problem to take seven or eight pills a day.”

“Of course, if you eat too many pills, the part of supplement may be a little excessive, which will cause a little waste, but it doesn’t matter. It’s better to let him give his son one every half an hour and eat all seven tonight, so as to ensure that he can live at least two or three months.”

There are only two components of Healing Salve Pill, one is Medicinal mud, and the other is Life-Saving Pill.

These two drugs, one is a big tonic and the other is a cure.

There are indeed no toxic side effects.

If the patient is really too weak, take a few more pills at a time to quickly consolidate the foundation and improve quickly, it is no problem at all.

Charlie also has another consideration. Since James Smith used to be so pretentious, he should quickly see the magic of Healing Salve Pill now.

Since it’s a slap in the face, it’s really not good to slap him in the face a day. It’s satisfying to slap his face in one breath.

Liam Weaver hurriedly asked, “Master Wade, if he comes to me for medicine, how would I reply to him?”

Charlie laughed and said, “Didn’t he say that proprietary Chinese medicine will not be allowed to be listed in their country? Since it is not allowed to go public, of course, we can’t give it to him again. Giggling him a box is a violation of their laws and regulations. Let’s do business honestly. Since we have made mistakes inadvertently the first time, we will definitely not make mistakes knowingly again.”

With that, Charlie said again, “Aren’t he so proud and pretentious? Then put his face on the ground thoroughly and rub it. Rub it to him!”

“So you don’t have to stay in the United States anymore. Just go to the airport now and fly back directly to Aurous Hill, but don’t tell him first and give him a playful indulgence!”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3621-3624

After hearing Charlie’s words, Liam Weaver gave initiation.

He hurriedly smiled and said, “Master Wade, you always have the best way to deal with this kind of person!”

“If I leave now, I think this James Smith must be chased to China!”

Charlie smiled and said, “Let him come if he want to but don’t wait for him when he comes. If he comes to see you, don’t pay attention.”

After that, Charlie said again, "By the way, you also had to find a public relations company and spent a lot of money to see him."

"Then we should also let him go to the public relations company to make an appointment with you."

Liam Weaver smiled, "Master Wade, we don't have such a company in Aurous Hill."

Charlie smiled, "It doesn't matter, let Don Albert come out for a part-time job."

Charlie said again, "How much did you spend to see that James Smith?"

Liam Weaver said hurriedly, "Fifty thousand dollars."

Charlie said, "Well, when the time comes, if he want to find you in Aurous Hill, let him make an appointment with Don Albert."

"Then I will ask Don Albert to quote him a price of 5 million U.S. dollars."

"He must spend 5 million U.S. dollars before he can meet you for dinner."

Liam Weaver subconsciously said, "Master Wade, I feel James Smith's economic situation should not be very good, he would not get so much money."

Charlie smiled indifferently, and said, "Do not worry, when he comes to China to look for you, he didn't just come for his son alone, he must have come on behalf of the entire FDA, and the FDA will definitely give him this part of the funding at that time."

Liam Weaver suddenly realized that and said self-deprecatingly, “It seems that my horizons are still too narrow.”

“You are right. As long as his son takes Healing Salve Pills, it means that the entire American medical system knows about it.”

“I’m afraid this will be a sensational news in the United States!”

Charlie smiled and said, “This thing is of course the more sensational the better, the greater the influence, the greater Oracle pharmaceutical fame.”

When he finished, Charlie and said, “Well, you heard me, hurry up and come back here.”

“Okay Master Wade!”

Liam Weaver hung up the phone, only to find that there were 11 missed calls on his mobile phone at this time.

These missed calls, without exception, were all from James Smith.

Seeing so many missed calls, Liam Weaver knew in his heart that this James Smith had been completely grasped by Healing Salve Pill.

However, instead of calling James Smith back, he took the time to pack up and prepare to leave.

At this time, James Smith called again.

Liam Weaver smiled, connected the phone, and asked impatiently, “Mr. Smith, is there anything I can do for you?”

James Smith quickly said, “Mr. Weaver, I want to apologize to you!”

“No need.” Liam Weaver said without mercy, “You are the person in charge of the FDA, in charge of the life and death of all drugs in the United States.”

“Why should you apologize to such an unknown person like me?”

James Smith said embarrassingly, “Yes. I’m not good with Mr. Weaver, I’m too ignorant. I just want to apologize to you.”

“I don’t know which hotel you are staying at now...”

Liam Weaver said lightly, “You don’t need to apologize. To be honest, I don’t want to see you now.”

“I don’t know if you have heard of it. There is an old saying in China, called out of sight and out of mind.”

James Smith’s face was hot.

He smiled embarrassingly and said, “Mr. Weaver, I was really bad in attitude before, I’m really sorry...”

Then he checked and asked, “Mr. Weaver, I know you don’t want to see me now, but can you please give me another box of Healing Salve Pill? My son may have to rely on this medicine to save his life...”

Liam Weaver did not answer his question, but asked him, “How is your son’s situation?”

James Smith was busy and said, "He has been significantly improved, the doctor said to have been temporarily out of danger."

Chapter 3622

Liam Weaver asked, "How many pills did you give him?"

"One!"

Liam Weaver replied, "There are no side effects our Healing Salve Pill, and if his condition is more critical, you can give him a few more pills, one every half an hour, and take all seven."

"This way you can at least guarantee that he will not be in danger in the next two or three months."

"Otherwise if the cancer cells continue to spread and grow, he may soon fall into a critically ill state again."

James Smith hurriedly asked, "If he finish all the medicine today, what will we do tomorrow?"

Liam Weaver said. "I have already said that taking all the medicine today will ensure that his life will last for at least two or three months."

"If the cancer cells are controlled well, it may be impossible to live for another half a year."

"As for the remaining medicine, we will have another day."

After speaking, Liam Weaver said again, "Mr. Smith, I'm going to rest now, goodbye."

Then, Liam Weaver didn't wait for James Smith to respond, and again hung up his phone.

As soon as the phone hung up, Liam Weaver immediately called the crew members, asking them to apply for routes, prepare for take-off, and rush to the airport immediately.

After calling the crew, Liam Weaver turned off his mobile phone and packed all his belongings.

He didn't even go through the check-out procedures, so he took a taxi and left the hotel and headed straight for the airport.

And James Smith, who was in the hospital at this time, still did not give up another box of Liam Weaver's Healing Salve Pill.

He hesitated again and again, and once again bit the bullet and called Liam Weaver, but he didn't expect that the other side of the phone actually heard the tone that the other party had turned off.

James Smith felt very regretful in his heart.

He had known this a long time ago. He didn't dare to pretend to force Liam Weaver to kill him.

He had to take all the two boxes of Healing Salve if he said anything.

Unfortunately, now he has no time for regrets about taking medicine, so he can only refocus his attention on his son Jimmy first.

James Smith recalled what Liam Weaver said. Liam Weaver said that he could give his son seven Healing Salve Pill, and James Smith felt a little unbearable immediately.

So he immediately said to his wife, "Jenny, you give Jimmy one more pill, and then remember the time, and give him one pill every half an hour."

"I just asked the person in charge over there. He said that the critically ill patient can take more at once, so that the situation will get better sooner."

Jenny couldn't wait to let her son take the second pill tomorrow, and immediately couldn't wait to take out another pill when she heard this.

As she was about to hand it to her son, she remembered something, and hurriedly asked, "What if the box of medicine is finished and there is no more medicine?"

James Smith hurriedly said, "I will find a way later, he said, as long as today the consolidation is good."

"Jimmy will definitely not be in danger for the next two or three months."

"If we are lucky, there is hope for more than half a year!"

Jenny breathed a sigh of relief and hurriedly said to Jimmy, "Jimmy, take this medicine soon."

At this time, James Smith's career-related sensitive nerves also tightened immediately.

He immediately said to his wife, "Jenny, wait a minute! Wait a few minutes before giving Jimmy medicine!"

Just when Jenny was surprised, he quickly said to the attending doctor, "Hurry up and call all your people over."

"From now on, you will closely monitor all the changes in Jimmy's body and record them all verbatim."

"By the way, I will arrange for someone to prepare the camera to record the whole process."

"I want to take a closer look at how powerful this medicine is!"

"Okay!"

The attending doctor couldn't wait.

He missed the whole process of taking the medicine for Jimmy just now, and only saw one result when he arrived, so now he also wants to witness with his own eyes how amazing this medicine is!

Chapter 3623

Soon, Jimmy's ward was crowded with doctors in white coats.

The top oncologists from the entire Mayo Center gather here.

Those who can enter the ward, without exception, are the heads of the various departments and the laboratory leaders, and those with lower ranks can only stand in front of the large glass windows outside the ward and watch.

Everyone has heard that a huge miracle has occurred in the ICU.

The son of FDA executive James Smith has obtained a huge therapeutic effect because of a Chinese traditional Chinese patent medicine, and it is said that he has to monitor all the process of continuing to take the medicine, so no one wants to miss this opportunity to witness the miracle with their own eyes, or witness the rumors with their own eyes.

At this time, with the help of his mother, Jimmy swallowed a pill in his mouth.

The pill melts in the mouth again.

Jimmy said in surprise, "Mom, that pill melt in my mouth...faster than cotton candy!"

James Smith said with a look of surprise, "This medicine should not have such a good water solubility, how can it melt after taking it?"

Jenny ignored him and couldn't wait to ask her son, "Jimmy, how do you feel?"

The attending doctor also said quickly, "Yes, Jimmy, try to describe what you feel as clearly as possible to us."

Jimmy thought for a while, and said, "I feel a little hot after the medicine has been taken into my stomach, and then I feel that the pain in my body is a little better than before, and my head is not so painful..."

At this time, the attending doctor's assistant stared at the various data and indicators on the instrument, and said in surprise, "Doctor, Jimmy's various physical signs have been significantly improved, and his blood oxygen, blood pressure, and heart rate have increased a bit."

"Basically reaching the lowest value of normal children."

The attending doctor swallowed and blurted, "What kind of medicine can work so fast? Adrenaline is not so fast too..."

With that, he asked an expert in pharmacy around him, and said, "Dr. Matthew, based on your professional level, would this medicine contain any hormones?"

James Smith was suddenly enlightened, and blurted out, "Yes! It's very possible! Their China Pharmaceutical Factory likes to add chemical drugs or other effective ingredients of modern medicine to Chinese herbal medicine ingredients!"

As he said, he hurriedly said again, "I think we should quickly take a sample from the pill and send it to the laboratory for a good inspection!"

The pharmacy expert named Matthew held his chin and said with a puzzled face, "Judging from such a fast effective cycle, it is indeed possible to contain some hormones, but my understanding of it seems to be no hormones."

"It applies to Jimmy's current physical condition."

"If we wanted to have this hormone, we would have used it... I won't wait until now..."

Everyone looked solemn.

Because what Matthew said seemed to make a f*cking sense.

They had thought about all the treatments and rescue methods that they could think of, and they had used all the methods that could be used more than once.

There are indeed no hormones that can play such a good positive role.

James Smith asked again, "Could it be that they discovered some kind of hormone that we haven't found yet?"

Matthew said embarrassingly, "It stands to reason that it should not be possible."

"If they really discovered or invented a new hormone with such a good effect, they could directly register a patent and export this hormone to the world."

Chapter 3624

"This is enough for them to make tens of billions of dollars a year, so why bother to pack this hormone in this pill? It doesn't make sense!"

"F*ck..." James Smith scratched his head and blurted out, "I have to admit, this thing confused me..."

At this moment, Jimmy on the hospital bed said in surprise, "I can see things more and more clearly! Mom! I can probably see your face clearly, Mom!"

"Really?!" Jenny was instantly overjoyed when she heard this, and she burst into tears.

Although she is not a doctor, nor an expert in the field of medicine, she is also a top-notch student who graduated from the Ivy League after all.

She knew that the reason why her son couldn't see things was because the optic nerve was oppressed by the tumor.

So she is also very clear now that since her son has gradually recovered his vision, this proves that the tumor that oppresses his optic nerve has a high probability of being relieved!

She choked and said, "It's great! It's great!"

Jimmy and the strength of his hand have also been greatly improved, so he raised the right hand with the infusion tube and the blood oxygen monitoring probe with difficulty, gently wiped the tears from the corner of his mother's eyes, and comforted, "Mom, don't cry, it's alright, you should be happy!"

Jimmy was able to lift his arms and wipe the tears from the corners of Jenny's eyes with precision, which made everyone stunned.

The attending doctor patted his face and said to himself, "Did I have any hallucinations..."

James Smith was so excited at this time, he rushed to the front, squatted in front of his son and asked him, "Jimmy, can you see Dad's face clearly?"

Jimmy said, "Dad, why is there a red bump on your nose..."

James Smith subconsciously touched the bulge on his nose, just like his wife, he couldn't help but burst into tears, and choked up, "Dad may have some endocrine disorders in the past two days."

"It doesn't matter, it will be fine in a few days."

As he said, he grabbed his son's hand and cried and said, "Jimmy, you can finally see the faces of mom and dad...I thought you would never see us again in your life..."

At this time, the whole ward was almost fried.

All the experts lowered their heads in twos and threes to communicate, and their faces were filled with shock and disbelief.

The attending doctor murmured, "How did...how did the pill do it? Even if it is really hormones, it can make a person's state rise, but it is never possible to make the oppressed optic nerve?"

"He also recovers as well! The vision recovery must be caused by the reduction of tumor size and the reduction of pressure... But this is too fast..."

Other experts were even more surprised.

These are people who have struggled with cancer for decades.

Their respective targets cover various types of cancer. From head to toe, front to back, and inside to outside, they have extremely rich experience in cancer.

But the richer they are, the less they can understand all this.

Because this has subverted all the relevant experience they have accumulated for decades.

At this time, the attending doctor hurriedly said to the assistants around him, "Hurry up and notify the Nuclear Medicine Center, so that the doctors in charge of PET-CT will be prepared to do a full body scan for Jimmy!"

PET-CT is different from ordinary CT in that it can scan the patient's whole body up and down, and can obtain tomographic images of every aspect of the whole body at one time.

It is the best choice for checking the condition of cancer patients' whole body tumors.

Only through this method can the doctor thoroughly see the tumor in Jimmy's body in the shortest possible time and what is going on right now.

In addition, most of Jimmy's treatment is in this hospital.

This hospital has his CT image data at every stage over the past few years.

The most recent scan was more than half a month ago.

Therefore, as long as they quickly take another full-body scan of him, and then compare the results with the result half a month ago, they can find out what changes have taken place in the cancer cells in his body!

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3625-3626

Soon, the young Jimmy was pushed to the Nuclear Medicine Center by doctors and nurses.

After the contrast agent was injected, he was sent to the CT room for a full scan.

Half an hour later, the scan results came out, and a lot of doctors gathered around the computer, checking Jimmy's latest CT images.

The attending doctor also opened the image data from half a month ago, and after the comparison, he exclaimed, "This is incredible! The large number of lesions in Jimmy's body have actually shrunk!"

Because Jimmy's cancer has reached the terminal stage. So there have been multiple metastases, lymph, bone, liver and lungs, all have tumor foci, and they are not small in size.

The largest of them is even the size of a baby's fist.

Moreover, due to the exhaustion of treatments, Jimmy's cancer cells spread faster and faster, and the tumors are also growing.

Normally, according to the trend, after half a month, the tumor must have increased relatively.

Now, instead of increasing, these lesions have become smaller!

Especially the huge tumor in the skull that previously compressed the optic nerve and auditory nerve, and its diameter has shrunk by one millimeter!

Don't underestimate this millimeter, because it is this millimeter that compresses the nerve.

The doctors are boiling!

Previous drug expert Matthew exclaimed, "We have to study what is this anticancer drug, which is the best in the world of anti-cancer drugs!"

Side of the doctor can not help feeling, "Yes! This medicine for Cancer has such a good therapeutic effect. If it can really cover the world, we oncologists can also be laid off. "

James Smith is also completely convinced!

He really couldn't understand why Chinese traditional medicine has such a powerful effect.

At this time, Jimmy's mother quickly took out another medicine and said excitedly, "It's time to take the third one!"

Everyone came back to their senses and urged, "Hurry! Take a look at the third medicine if what miracle will happen!"

Tonight, the entire Mayo Center doctors spontaneously worked overtime in the hospital overnight.

Even if nothing happened to them at all, they were reluctant to leave.

Because they know that they are witnessing a medical miracle.

Jimmy, who has been studied as an alien by a large group of top doctors, has indeed lived up to expectations.

Every time he takes a Healing Salve Pill, the tumor in his body shrink substantially. This shrinkage is almost visible to the naked eye on the image data.

Moreover, his physical fitness is indeed improving rapidly.

As stated on the packaging of Healing Salve Pill, his vitality was quickly restored.

After taking the seven pills, he was able to sit up by himself and walk down to the ground staggeringly.

Jimmy has had a history of cancer bone metastasis for more than a year, especially the leg bones of his legs, so he has been in bed for a whole year.

It takes a year to walk again, even if it was only a difficult walk of more than ten meters, it is already a miracle in the eyes of these professional doctors.

This situation has never happened in their medical history. It was as if they had never seen any patient with high paraplegia who was able to walk down the ground again.

The Smiths stayed up all night with excitement.

In addition to excitement, James Smith's wife, Jenny, was faintly worried.

So, she couldn't help asking James Smith, "My dear, you must find a way to get a box of Healing Salve Pill for Jim today."

"I saw his current trend. If he takes another box, he should be able to go home and rest!"

Speaking of this, she couldn't help but choked up, "Jimmy hasn't slept at home for three years..."

Chapter 3626

Since Jimmy has already entered the critical stage, he has never left the hospital's 24-hour monitoring, even when he went to Europe to receive treatment, it is also directly from the hospital to the airport, and then take a special medical charter flight directly to Europe.

Therefore, for Jenny, she hopes to be able to take her son home.

And in her opinion, as long as the follow-up guarantees that his son can take Healing Salve Pill, he can completely leave the hospital and recover well at home.

After all, in her eyes, the credibility of Healing Salve Pill far surpassed that of the hospital.

That night, the Mayo Center stayed up all night.

The miracle of Jimmy and Healing Salve Pill has rapidly spread from here to the nation's medical system.

By dawn, almost all top hospitals, medical research institutions, and pharmaceutical research companies in the United States had heard this shocking news.

However, at present, they have only heard the rumors and have not seen the complete information, so everyone is still skeptical.

After all, cancer has been conquered for so many years, and no one has been able to save the end-stage patients.

Once the end-stage cancer can be cured, it means that the cancer has been truly conquered!

James Smith had gone through this night's personal experience, and at this time, he had completely changed all his previous opinions.

At this time, he could not wait to find Liam Weaver to knock himself twice, then slap himself a few times, and then ask him for more Healing Salve pill.

He checked the time and saw that it was already six o'clock in the morning, and he muttered, "I guess Mr. Weaver should also be awake. I will call him now!"

After that, he immediately took out his mobile phone and dialed Liam Weaver over.

Like last night, Liam Weaver's phone still showed that it was turned off.

He put down the phone and said embarrassingly, "That Mr. Weaver's cell phone is still off. I guess he might have been angry with me yesterday."

Jenny said angrily, "Anyone who does this will be angry with you."

"Liam Weaver sent you such a good medicine, you didn't know what to do, and you ridiculed him."

"If it was me, I would just add your phone to the blacklist!"

"Damn..." James Smith was panicked and said, "Could he really added me to the blacklist?"

Jenny was also anxious, and asked hurriedly, "What should we do?! Jimmy's follow-up treatment and recovery are all dependent on this medicine!"

James Smith paced back and forth with his chin, the more he thought about it, the more anxious he got.

He was most afraid that Liam Weaver would stop paying attention to himself in a fit of anger.

If this were the case, his son would not be able to take medicine in the future.

So he hurriedly said, "I'll ask a friend from the police station for help, and see if I can find out which hotel he is staying in."

"I will personally go to the door and apologize to him!"

Jenny also felt that this was the only solution, so she said, "Then I will go with you!"

James Smith hurriedly said, "Don't go, Jimmy will be anxious if he wakes up and he can't see us, you can stay with him here, besides, your daughter still needs someone to look after her too."

Jenny looked at her sleeping little daughter on the sofa next to her, and said helplessly, "Then when you go to the hotel to apologize, you must put away your usual arrogance, let alone show off your so-called professional knowledge in front of others."

"You must use the most humble attitude to ask for forgiveness from the other party, understand?"

"Understand..." James Smith said without hesitation, "I swear to God that I will never despise Oriental traditional medicine anymore..."

Jenny said again, "That's right! I heard that the most important etiquette among Chinese people is to kneel down on your knees!"

"You'd better kneel on the ground and beg for forgiveness the moment you see each other!"

James Smith's expression was extremely depressed, and he blurted out and complained, "Jenny, you are such a good wife! You even let me kneel for others!"

Jenny said coldly, "Someone saved your son's life and I only asked you to kneel for others. What's wrong?"

"I tell you, if Jimmy can't get the follow-up treatment medicine because of your reasons, I will definitely divorce you, because I have had enough with you who are hopeless!"

James Smith said in embarrassment, "Yes! I'll do what you say, I will do it! When I see Liam Weaver, I will kneel down for him the first thing!"

Jenny quickly added, "Yes, you must kneel down. Don't forget to kowtow again, I think the etiquette is popular in China!"

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3627-3628

Chapter 3627

James Smith didn't even know at this time, Liam Weaver didn't even leave him an opportunity to kneel and kowtow to apologize.

At this moment, Liam Weaver was flying back to Aurous Hill on the route.

Although Charlie's private jet is not as fast as the Concorde, the decoration inside is no worse than that of the Concorde.

At this moment, Liam Weaver is resting in the room on the plane that is more luxurious than the five-star.

There is no hardship during the journey.

James Smith, on the other hand, started looking for his connection with the Washington Police Department early in the morning, investigating Liam Weaver's hotel everywhere.

Later, friends from the police department used the screening method to count all the data of all Chinese male travelers who checked in yesterday in Washington.

Brighten the actual hotel and room number.

A friend from the police station helped make a phone call, then patted James Smith on the shoulder and said with a smile, "Don't worry too much. I have already asked about the hotel."

"This guy named Liam Weaver has booked a room for a week, so he certainly will not leave Washington."

James Smith relieved, and said, "Thank you Peter, I ask you to drink another day."

Peter smiled and said, "Do not be so polite, do you want me to accompany you to the hotel?"

James Smith waved his hand, "No need, If I am going to apologize and bring a police officer over, the other party probably thought I was going to threaten him with this."

"Okay." The other side nodded and said, "Then I will say hello to the person in charge in order to let you in to the hotel."

"Okay!"

James Smith left the police station, drove into his car, and hurried to the hotel where Liam Weaver was staying.

When he arrived at the hotel, he informed the security personnel of his name.

The security personnel who received the police officer's message in advance immediately helped him swipe his card to the elevator in the guest room.

When he came to the door of Liam Weaver's room, James Smith was very nervous.

He was afraid that Liam Weaver would close the door directly when he saw him, maybe even through the cat's eye, he would not even open the door when he saw that he was outside the door.

After hesitating for a long time at the door of the room, he could only bite the bullet and press the doorbell of the room.

The doorbell rang three times and there was no movement inside.

James Smith kept staring at the little light in the cat's eyes.

If you look at the cat's eye from the outside, you can't see anything clearly, but you can see the light inside.

James Smith also wanted to use this change in light to determine if anyone was walking inside.

It's just that the doorbell has been pressed several times, and the light in the cat's eyes has not changed.

James Smith was a little surprised, thinking, "Is that Liam Weaver still sleeping?"

"I have pressed the doorbell so many times, even a pig should wake up."

Thinking of this, James Smith could only continue to ring the doorbell and knock on the door hard at the same time while shouting, “Mr. Weaver, it’s me James Smith, have you gotten up yet?”

There was still no response in the room.

James Smith said his chin, “Weird...it doesn’t make sense to pretend to be inaudible in the room? Isn’t that too naïve?”

Chapter 3628

Being helpless, James Smith continued to knock on the door hard.

At this time, the next room door opened, a bare-chested brawny curse, “You are courting death early in the morning for knocking so loud. Believe it or not I will crack your skull!”

Face with the bearded macho with this typical cowboy style, James Smith can only apologize again and again, “I’m sorry, I’ll be quiet...”

The strong man pointed at him and gritted his teeth and said, “Be quiet? From now on, if you dare to make any noise, I’ll shoot your shit!”

James Smith shut his mouth quickly, and kept reaching out in salute, his expression was very conscientious.

The other party then let him go and turned back to the room.

James Smith had no choice but to sit cross-legged in front of Liam Weaver’s door, muttering in his heart, “If I can’t knock and call at the door, I can always sit here and wait for Liam Weaver, right? I don’t believe that Liam Weaver can avoid me.”

“Don’t come out for breakfast? It’s the f*cking 22nd floor, and he certainly can’t climb the window to escape...”

After making up his mind, James Smith waited at the door of Liam Weaver’s room, even if he was hungry, he didn’t dare to growl.

At the same time, while he was sitting, he kept calling Liam Weaver with his mobile phone. It was a pity that it was turned off no matter how he called.

During this period, he also asked the hotel attendant to call Liam Weaver’s guest room, but the reply was still no one answered.

James Smith waited until noon, when Liam Weaver’s plane finally landed at Aurous Hill Airport in the dark.

There is a 12-hour time difference between the two places, so it is already 12 o’clock in the morning in Aurous Hill.

After Liam Weaver landed, he immediately turned on the phone. He wanted to send a letter to Charlie, but when he thought it was too late, he didn’t bother.

Just when the plane hadn’t stopped, his cell phone suddenly rang, and the call was from James Smith.

At this time, James Smith had been sitting at the door of Liam Weaver’s room for four hours.

He couldn’t wait to make hundreds of calls, but he didn’t know that Liam Weaver had returned to China, thousands of miles away.

Liam Weaver answered the phone and asked indifferently, “Mr. Smith, why did you call me again?”

James Smith stood up suddenly, and said excitedly, "Mr. Weaver, I'm sorry! I was wrong before. I apologize for all my actions and remarks."

"I'm at the door of your room. Please open the door and let me say sorry to you in person!"

At this time, James Smith is ready. Once Liam Weaver opens the door, he will talk to himself. Not to mention kneel down for him first.

Liam Weaver asked in surprise at this time, "What room door?"

James Smith blurted out, "It's the door of your room, Hilton Hotel 2208. I'm at the door. I've been waiting for you at the door all morning."

"Mr. Weaver, please open the door and let me apologize to you in person."

Liam Weaver smiled and said, "But I'm not at the Hilton Hotel, I have already returned to China."

"What?!" James Smith was dumbfounded, and he blurted out, "Mr. Weaver, you still don't kidding me, you just came to the United States?"

"Why are you back to China again?"

Liam Weaver snorted and said, "I was really going to the United States to do business."

"The main thing is to ask Mr. Smith to help solve the difficulty of Oracle Pharmaceutical's medicine listing in the United States."

“But you also know that you rejected me, so what am I doing in America? I can only return to my boss.”

“No...” James Smith thought Liam Weaver was playing him.

He hurriedly said, “Mr. Weaver, I know you must be very angry with me in your heart.”

“I really feel very sorry! You are right. I am indeed a frog in the bottom of the well.”

“I am now aware of my own mistakes. Even if you hit me, I don’t have any problems or scold me.”

“I just ask you not to be familiar with people like me, and give me a chance to correct my mistakes...”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3629-3632

Chapter 3629

Upon hearing James Smith’s sincerity in apologizing, Liam Weaver threw his smile away and said seriously, Mr. Smith, although I am very dissatisfied with you, I don’t need to lie to you. I have indeed returned to China. Can’t you hear the aircraft engine sound? The plane I was riding just landed.”

Afterwards, Liam Weaver placed his phone by the window, and James Smith on the other end of the phone immediately heard the roar of the machine.

James Smith heard the engine sound at the end of the phone, combined with the fact that there was no movement at all in the room in front of him, Smith soon realized that Liam Weaver had completely gone.

At this moment, his emotions collapse completely, and he covered his forehead and sighed, "Mr. Weaver... you... why did you leave without greeting, at least... give me a chance to apologize to you..."

"You don't have to apologize." Liam Weaver said lightly, "Everyone has different cultures, different backgrounds, different personalities, different cultivations, and different knowledge. So, you don't have to apologize anything to me. That's all. I went off the plane."

James Smith freaked out, and quickly said, "Mr. Weaver, don't hang up, I... I have one more thing to ask, please help me..."

Liam Weaver asks, "What's up?"

James Smith hurriedly said, "This... about Healing Salve pill. My child ran out of medicine yesterday. The effect is very good, so I want to beg you to give me more..."

"No way." Liam Weaver said earnestly, "Healing Salve pill is precious. I kindheartedly give you two boxes before you don't want them. I also left a box for you because I pity your son. No more medicine for you."

James Smith slapped himself hard and surprised Liam Weaver on the phone side.

Afterwards, James Smith said quickly, "Mr. Weaver, I don't know what's good or what's wrong! I implore you to sell me a little more. You just need to make a price, no matter how much it is, I'll try to find a solution."

Liam Weaver smiled and said, "Mr. Smith, are you kidding me? Healing Salve pill has no clear ingredients, no clear pharmacokinetic, and no comprehensive clinical trial report. There is no way this medicine is sold in the United States!"

"I gave you a box earlier. I believe that I have accidentally violated your country's relevant regulations, so I am very embarrassed on my way back. How can I sell you this kind of product?”

“Besides, how can a law abiding citizen like me do something that knows the law and breaks the law!”

Afterwards, Liam Weaver asks again, “Mr. Smith, are you the law enforcement of fish arrest?”

When James Smith hears this, his heart feels worse than eating dirt.

He knew that the things Liam Weaver said were the things he said to Liam Weaver before.

Now, Liam Weaver uses this to dispute him, every word is like a big mouth licking his dog’s face.

Extreme embarrassment make him feel hot on his face, and stinging temperatures makes his eyelids unable to open.

What kind of pride, damn it flies away.

Now even the last bit of pressure on the face is totally crushed by these tooth changing words.

Chapter 3630

He has never been humiliated so much in his life, but thought about it carefully, he also knows, “What the hell is anyone else embarrassing me, it’s all my own humiliation...”

He was so depressed, for his son, he could just bite the bullet and say, “Mr. Weaver... I was wrong... everything was my fault! It’s my fault because I have no eyes, and I am the one who looks up to the sky. I don’t know whether good or bad...”

“Overall, I’m just a piece of garbage. Don’t be like me, I just ask you to have mercy on my child that has cancer. Give him a chance to survive. He’s only 12 years old.”

Liam Weaver said earnestly, “Mr. Smith, there are thousands of children with cancer in this world, and many of them younger than your son, and your son is currently the only one who has received Healing Salve Pill. So I think you should know how to be grateful and satisfied! Countless children like your son can only die of pain because they can’t get effective treatment. Instead, your son has been too lucky.”

James Smith knows well in his heart that the Healing Salve pill box given by Liam Weaver has made his son much better, and his life could last at least two or three months or even longer, this has been very lucky.

But for any parent, times like this are definitely never satisfied.

He has spent all means of Western technology before, and now he finally finds a miracle cure that has the opportunity to heal his son completely. How can he give up?

Even if he’s killed, he needs to get this medicine so his son’s life can be extended.

Although Eastern and West cultures are very different, but they are generally the same in terms of family affection, especially when parents give their children selflessly.

Therefore, he rushed to say, “Mr. Weaver, don’t you want this medicine to be marketed in the United States? I will help you speed up the progress! Today I was able to issue a special order of approval for this drug to be supplied on a small scale. For use by designated medical institutions!”

“At that point, we’ll add actual use effects and announce them. I’m sure it will cause surprises around the world. At that moment, Oracle Pharmaceutical will soon be known worldwide. In this case, Oracle Pharmaceutical will definitely be the best-known pharmacy company in the world...”

He thinks that as long as he throws this, Liam Weaver will definitely approve it soon.

Anyway, this is Liam Weaver's biggest attraction. The reason why he travel all the way to the United States is also to solve this problem.

And this problem, he can help him solve it.

As an FDA, he still has this right.

Furthermore, this medicine is absolutely incredible, if he make an exception and introduce it to the United States quickly, he will definitely be praised and searched by people across the country.

James Smith, however, did not expect that Liam Weaver said in a flat tune, "Sorry, Mr. Smith, our boss has changed his mind and will not put this drug on the market in the United States for now, because the drug production is very limited, and we still plan to collect it. I understand your kindness but no need."

After speaking, Liam Weaver said again, "Mr. Smith, I have been flying for over ten hours and I'm a little tired, so I won't talk to you for now, see you soon."

Once that voice fell, Liam Weaver immediately ended the call.

At this point, the complaints squeezed in Liam Weaver's heart finally disappeared.

In front of James Smith, he was questioned and humiliated in every possible way, and he held his breath in his heart.

Now, when he thinks of James Smith who is so anxious on the other end of the phone, he feels an explosion of joy in his heart.

Thinking about it, he couldn't help but not to whisper to himself, "If he really wants to talk about the whole person, he should be Mr. Wade and kill me. James Smith who wants to come is definitely more uncomfortable than dead!"

Chapter 3631

James Smith really felt bad.

Liam Weaver's obscure humiliation just now has trampled on his self-esteem worthless.

But even so, he still failed to get more Healing salve pills.

His reputation doesn't matter but the safety of a son's life is the most important thing.

Therefore, James Smith made a decision, he immediately prepared to set out for China to kowtow in front of Liam Weaver and knocked back the medicine.

Then, he immediately got up and left the hotel.

At the same time, he called his wife and said, "Jenny, Liam Weaver has gone back to China last night. Take good care of Jimmy. Now I'm going home to pick up my passport and go to China to meet him!"

Jenny said quickly, "Don't worry. The reason why he went back last night must be to hide from you. If you go out so early, he won't see you."

"What should I do..." Smith said incomparably, "If I don't beg him, Jimmy will be even less likely to get the follow-up medicine..."

Jenny blurted out, "Why are you so stupid... Think about it carefully, why did he come to the United States to find you thousands of miles?"

Smith said quickly, "He wants me to help him speed up the launch of drugs in the United States..."

Jenny immediately said, "Then you can help him finish the matter first and then see him. It's a little sincere. Otherwise, if I were him, I would never have seen you again if I had been provoked by your arrogant attitude before!"

James Smith came to his senses and blurted out, "I know what you mean. I'm going to the FDA and give them a special approval first!"

Jenny was relieved.

James Smith asked her, "How's Jimmy doing?"

Jenny said, "The situation is stable, but it has not improved again. Doctors say that if the specific drugs do not continue to work, the tumor is likely to make a comeback."

James Smith also knew very well that the treatment of cancer was not to build a building. Even if the work stopped halfway, the progress would only stagnate and not retreat.

On the contrary, treating cancer is like storing water in a running pool.

Only when the speed of water storage is greater than the speed of running water can people be ensured to live.

If the water storage suddenly stops, there must be less and less water in the pool.

So James Smith said anxiously, "I'm going to the FDA now, get down to business first, and then book the earliest ticket to China!"

"Okay!" Jenny told, "Darling, for Jimmy, you must do everything possible to get Mr. Weaver to promise you and give you some more medicine!"

"I know..." Smith answered and said, "Don't worry, I'll fight for it with all my strength."

After hanging up the phone, James Smith immediately drove to the FDA headquarters where he worked.

It's not difficult for him to give the green light for the Healing Salve pill.

Because the FDA claims to be a very neutral and fair scientific research institution, in fact, they also have many shady gray transactions.

Chapter 3632

Over the years, the FDA has selectively released water on many drugs and medical devices, either in pharmaceutical enterprises controlled by big chaebols or related companies inextricably linked to the FDA.

As James Smith, he has no problem with sensitive prescription drugs, not to mention an over-the-counter drug that can be sold at will in pharmacies.

The reason why he have been suppressed before is nothing more than that his resistant to traditional oriental medicine, and he always feel that those things in the East are dross.

But now, he can't take care of that much.

No matter whether Healing Salve pill is good or bad, he must immediately pass the approval process of it to show his goodwill to Liam Weaver.

Only in this way can he have a chance to re-engine Liam Weaver's line.

At present, Healing Salve Pill is of great significance to him.

At a young age, it can save his son's life.

At the top of that, he can become a hero of the U.S. health care system.

After all, whoever introduces this magical specific drug into the United States will become the object of gratitude to the people.

Therefore, he was determined to get the Healing Salve pill.

On his way to the FDA, the video of Jimmy taking Healing Salve pill last night, as well as Pet-CT-related information, were all submitted to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services by the Mayo Center.

In the United States, the FDA, also known as the Food and Drug Administration, is a relatively independent agency directly authorized by the U.S. Congress and is also the highest law enforcement agency in the field of food and drugs.

However, hospitals in the United States are not under the control of the FDA. All hospitals, public or private, are under the U.S. Department of Health.

After all, what happened last night was an unprecedented miracle in the field of cancer treatment. Naturally, the Mayo Center will report this matter to their superior authorities in a timely manner.

The head of the hospital system in charge of the Ministry of Health, after reading all the materials submitted by the Mayo Center, was scared to spill coffee all over the keyboard without knowing it.

He ran into the minister's office in a panic and blurted out, "Your Excellency, the Mayo Center sent a message that a Chinese pharmaceutical company has found a specific drug to effectively treat cancer! After their monitoring, this medicine has more effective than all known cancer treatments today!"

"What?" Rodrik, Minister of Health and Human Services, said in surprise, "Is there such a thing?"

"It's true!" The person in charge quickly said, "I have read the information. If you just look at the results, it will even make people think that Jesus has appeared!"

The minister immediately said, "Take your computer here and report it to me carefully! In addition, I want to view all relevant information!"

An hour later.

The Secretary of Health called Smith directly on his mobile phone.

Just half an hour ago, James Smith just processed the approval documents of Healing Salve pill and stamped all the approved seals on all the relevant documents.

After finishing all this, he immediately asked his secretary to book a ticket to China for him.

The latest flight will take off in two and a half hours, so James Smith immediately went home to get his passport. Before he could go to the hospital to see his son, he hurried to the airport.

Just as he was sitting down on the plane, he suddenly received a phone call from the Minister of Health.

Looking at the information on the caller ID, he couldn't help but be a little surprised.

Although he and the Ministry of Health are both medical-related departments, they only overlap with each other in part, so there is not much communication on weekdays.

When the Minister of Health called, he immediately realized that it must be related to Healing Salve Pills.

So he hurriedly answered the phone and asked, "Mr. Rodrik, what can I do for you?"

The other party asked excitedly and eagerly, "James, I heard that you got the Healing Salve Pill?"

James Smith was not surprised at all. He replied directly, "Yes, it was a sample given to me by a Chinese pharmaceutical company. Did the people at the Mayo Center report the situation to you?"

The Secretary of Health said hurriedly, "The situation has now arrived at the White House! White House staff instructed that the drug should be introduced to the U.S. market no matter what, and as soon as possible! Do you have a rough time node?"

Smith was stunned and blurted out, "Mr. Rodrik, I'm not surprised that the news came to you. Why did it arrive at the White House so soon?"

The Secretary of Health said, "The White House gave us a special line three years ago. Once there is any breakthrough in the major diseases with the highest mortality rate, we are required to report to the White House as soon as possible.”

Speaking of this, he hurriedly asked, “James, I have organized experts to read the records of the Mayo Center. That medicine is really amazing. If it is introduced to the United States, it means a lot to us. Do you have a plan when and how to price it will come in?”

James Smith said awkwardly, “Now these problems are not up to me, but to Oracle Pharmaceutical. I’m on the plane now, ready to go to China to have a good talk with them.”

The Minister of Health hurriedly said, “Then if you want to do something, you must meet with the top person in charge of Oracle Pharmaceutical and ask him how much money he can transfer the technical patent of this drug! As long as he is willing to transfer, let him make the price at will!”

James Smith said in surprise, “If this medicine can really be mass-produced, its market prospect may sell at least hundreds of billions of dollars a year. No one has such a patent, I’m afraid it is impossible to be willing to transfer...”

The Secretary of Health said seriously, “You let him open the price casually. The White House is not afraid of his bid, but afraid that he won’t sell it!”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3633-3636

Chapter 3633

James Smith’s view that the White House wants a patent for Healing Salve Pill is both unexpected and reasonable.

Once the health department reports this news to the White House, it is naturally impossible for them to miss this good opportunity.

However, whether they can get the patent or not is not up to them.

This kind of medicine is like a super money printing machine. As long as there is a little farsighted person, it is impossible to sell the patent.

But James Smith didn't pour cold water on the other party, but readily agreed and said, "When I meet the person in charge, I will try my best to push this matter."

With that, James Smith added, "However, I'm afraid I can't deal with such a big thing alone. Should the White House send some negotiators?"

The Secretary of Health immediately denied, "This kind of thing is not easy for the White House to come forward directly. Rumors will mislead people for the White House's intention to control the medical field. Once governments around the world start to intervene, this matter will not be easy to promote."

With that, the other party told him, "You go there this time and explore the other party's words in private. If the other party is interested in taking action, but needs more money, I will call the person in charge of Johnson & Johnson and ask them to come forward to buy this patent."

Smith was secretly tonguing and thought, "The White House is really good at operating this kind of thing. They first learned the news, and then wanted to pick the fruit for a top company like Johnson & Johnson to eat. Once Johnson & Johnson got the patent for this top drug, wouldn't it fly?"

At this time, the other party continued to tell him, "Mr. Smith, you must try your best to promote the implementation of this matter. Once the patent is successful in the United States, Johnson & Johnson will give at least a few percentage points of sales in a year to do something about it, including you and me. This is a huge cake!"

James Smith couldn't help but feel shocked.

Once the drug has a full market, the annual sales of one trillion dollars will be easy, and if a few percentage points are given to him, it will be at least billions of dollars.

If billions of dollars are used to do something about it, even if you are just divided into corners, I'm afraid they have to calculate them in billions.

Thinking of this, he couldn't help but be excited and said quickly, "I will try my best to promote this!"

The other party answered with satisfaction and said, "Mr. Smith, there are instructions from the White House that if the patent of this medicine cannot be retrieved, you must crack the formula. However, all seven drugs you got before were eaten by your son without leaving any samples, so this time you must get some Healing Salve pill."

James Smith asked in surprise, "If we can't get the patent authorization, we will directly crack the other party's formula, which must be devastating to the credibility of our entire medical patent system. Isn't it too risky to do so?"

"What are you afraid of?" The other party said without care, "We will definitely not do this kind of thing ourselves. After conquering the formula, we will hand over the formula to the Indian pharmaceutical company we control to produce. Anyway, India does not recognize pharmaceutical patents."

James Smith instantly understood the other party's intention.

If you can't buy it, just steal it secretly.

After stealing, put it in India for production, which can avoid legal risks.

India's generic drugs have always been world-renowned.

The reason why they can brazenly imitate various drugs is that the country's laws do not recognize pharmaceutical patents, so this kind of thing is not illegal in India.

James Smith was more or less resistant to this strategy.

After all, he is academically professional and has great respect for medical patents, just as the author respects copyright the most.

Letting him participate in pirated drug patents is tantamount to plagiarizing an author who has been working for many years and has a deep affection for creation.

He really doesn't want to participate in this kind of thing.

So he could only deal with it, "I know. I will try my best to promote the patent. I'll let you know the news as soon as possible."

The other party didn't say much, and told him, "If you have any news, please contact me as soon as possible."

"Okay."

....

Chapter 3634

At noon the next day of Eastcliff time, James Smith's flight landed in the largest city in southeast China.

Then, before he had time to take any rest, he transferred directly to Aurous Hill by high-speed rail.

As soon as he arrived in Aurous Hill, he immediately took a taxi to Oracle Pharmaceutical's headquarters in Aurous Hill, but in the process, he did not contact Liam Weaver.

Because he was afraid that Liam Weaver would not want to see him, he planned to visit Liam Weaver directly at Oracle Pharmaceutical.

After nearly twenty hours of travel, Smith finally arrived at Oracle Pharmaceutical at six o'clock in the afternoon.

As soon as he arrived at the gate of Oracle Pharmaceutical, he was stopped by the security guard in the gate because he did not have a pass.

So he could only say to the security guard fluently in Chinese, "Hello, my name is James Smith. I came from the United States to visit your general manager Liam Weaver. Please help me inform me."

The security guard picked up the walkie-talkie and reported the situation to the security director of the office building.

Subsequently, the message was transmitted layer by layer by Liam Weaver's secretary and finally conveyed to Liam Weaver.

Liam Weaver couldn't help laughing when he heard that James Smith had arrived at the door of the factory.

From this time point, James Smith chased after learning that he had returned to China by plane in a few hours.

He remembered Charlie's previous instructions and said to his secretary with a smile, "You ask the security guard to tell James Smith that I am sensitive now and can't see anyone interested in the medical field casually. If he really wants to see me, he needs to make an appointment through the master of Heaven Spring Mansion."

The secretary did not hesitate to go on with this matter.

Soon, James Smith got the news from the security guard's mouth.

He obviously went to the door of Oracle Pharmaceutical, but Liam Weaver insisted on making an appointment through a third party, which made James Smith realize that Liam Weaver was retaliating against himself.

The first is to revenge on his previous arrogance, and the other is to revenge on his previous practice of asking him to make an appointment through a public relations company.

He really wanted to ask Liam Weaver for help and tried to meet Liam Weaver first, so he could only pick up his mobile phone and call Liam Weaver again.

However, Liam Weaver's mobile phone has long been turned on the firewall. Except for his acquaintances added to the whitelist, no other calls can be called.

At this time, Liam Weaver called Don Albert. As soon as he came up, he smiled and said, "Don Albert, I'm Liam Weaver. Master Wade asked me to introduce you a good deal!"

Don Albert asked curiously, "Master Wade asked you to introduce me to a business? What kind of business is it?"

Liam Weaver smiled and said, "Someone wants to meet me, but Master Wade asked me to pose well and ask the other party to ask you to help me have dinner first. You will charge him an agency fee then, and don't worry about the rest."

Don Albert smiled and said, "I'll go. Is there such a good thing?! Then how much is the agency fee for me?"

Liam Weaver said, "Master Wade said that you should charge him five million."

"What did you say?" After hearing this, Don Albert fell to the ground with surprise and blurted out, "If you have to eat dinner, do you have to pay five million?"

Liam Weaver smiled and said, "Yes, five million, and it's still US dollars."

"Five million US dollars?!" Don Albert was stunned and blurted out, "Good boy... Liam Weaver, the price of having dinner with you is more expensive than Buffett!"

Liam Weaver said modestly, "Don Albert, don't make fun of me. The reason why I quote such a high price is entirely Master Wade's plan. As you know, I just do things for Master Wade, just pretending to be powerful..."

Don Albert nodded and said quickly, "I see. Wait for me to call Master Wade and ask him what he specifically ordered."

"Okay!"

Chapter 3635

After Charlie rushed back from the Middle East last night, he didn't leave home all day today.

Because today happened to be Saturday, Claire didn't go to the company, so the couple reorganized their small vegetable garden.

Elaine, her mother-in-law, also beat her hand with crutches, but because of the inconvenience of legs and feet, she basically couldn't help.

The two of them worked hard all day until it was dark that the vegetable garden was finally cleaned up.

Claire picked some fresh beans and took the initiative to make a stewed noodles with beans for Charlie.

She, a southern girl, doesn't know how to cook pasta from the north. She just browsed other people's tutorials on the short video platform. In addition, the beans in her vegetable garden were just ripe, so she wanted to give Charlie a hand.

Therefore, Claire took his mother Elaine to the kitchen to do a good job, while Charlie stayed in the small vegetable garden and put the tools used today neatly.

At this time, Don Albert called.

As soon as the phone was called, Don Albert said respectfully, "Master Wade, I heard Liam Weaver that you wanted to introduce me to the work of an intermediary?"

"Yes." Charlie laughed and said, "Did he tell you?"

"Yes, he called me..." Don Albert smiled and said, "He said that a foreigner wanted to invite him to dinner, and then asked me to be an agent and charge the foreigner for five million dollars. He said he was afraid that he would remember wrongly, so he came to confirm with you."

Charlie casually laughed and said, "He remembers correctly. When the foreigner finds you, you can tell him that if you want to ask Liam Weaver to dinner, you will get five million dollars first."

Don Albert said in surprise, "Do you really want five million dollars? The other party won't think I'm here to kill people, will they?"

Charlie laughed and said, "It's okay. Just tell him that today's quotation is five million, and then increase it by one million every day, so that he can consider it for himself."

Don Albert guessed from Charlie's tone that Charlie must be punishing again, so he hurriedly said, "Good Master Wade, I remember. After the other party pays, I will transfer it to you as soon as possible."

Charlie said, "No, you can share half of this money with Liam Weaver alone. Just think of it as pocket money."

Don Albert said quickly, "How can this be... Master Wade saved my bad life. Whose money do I take? I can't take your money..."

Charlie laughed and said, "You are my subordinates. If you don't take my money, who else would?"

In a word, I don't know how to answer the question correctly.

Charlie casually said at this time, "You two usually worry a lot. This money is regarded as a little care to reward you, so you don't have to be polite to me. Besides, this money is not paid by me. I have a big deal of injustice."

Don Albert quickly thanked him and said, "I see. Thank you, Master Wade!"

Charlie hummed and told him again, "After the other party pays, you can take the opportunity to arrange his accommodation and arrange him to Shangri-La Hotel."

Don Albert asked, "Master Wade, what if he doesn't pay today?"

Charlie laughed and said, "No, he will definitely pay today."

Don Albert said, "Okay, Master Wade, I'll arrange it."

.....

Chapter 3636

On the other hand, James Smith spent until dark at the gate of Oracle Pharmaceutical, and failed to get through Liam Weaver's phone.

In desperation, he had no choice but to drag his tired body and stopped another taxi, asking the other party to take him to the Heaven Spring Mansion in the mouth of the security guard.

After arriving at Heaven Spring Mansion, he explained his intention and was invited to the top floor of Heaven Spring Mansion by the waiter who greeted guests at the door.

The top floor of Heaven Spring Mansion is the same as the private room, and the decoration is extremely exquisite.

However, the top floor is Don Albert's territory alone. He alone has a tea room of nearly a hundred square meters. The environment and conditions are extremely luxurious, which is not comparable to that of a dog farms.

Don Albert usually regards this place as his own office. As long as he doesn't go out on business, he will stay here.

James Smith was taken to Don Albert's tea room. As soon as he saw Don Albert, who was full of atmosphere, he hurried forward and said politely, "Hello, Don Albert! My name is James Smith, and I'm from Washington, D.C.!"

Don Albert shook hands with him, invited him to sit opposite the tea sea, and said with a smile, "Mr. Smith, please sit down and taste the tea of our Chinese!"

James Smith quickly sat down and took the tea handed over by Don Albert. He couldn't wait to taste it. He couldn't wait and said, "Don Albert, I want to ask you to make an appointment with Mr. Liam Weaver of Oracle Pharmaceutical. I don't know if it's convenient for you?"

Don Albert said with a smile, "Convenient! Of course it's convenient! As long as the public relations fee is in place, I will make an appointment for you immediately. At that time, I will make an appointment in the diamond box. There will definitely be a layout!"

James Smith was overjoyed, but thinking that Don Albert would definitely charge a fee, he tentatively asked, "Don Albert, I don't know what the standard of this public relations fee is?"

Don Albert smiled and looked at Smith's eyes, like a butcher looking at a lamb waiting to be slaughtered, and said with a smile, "Mr. Smith, the public relations fee is five million dollars at a time!"

"How much??!"

Smith was so scared that he almost couldn't sit still.

Five million dollars?! Is this price too ridiculous?!

The public relations company he cooperated with only offered Liam Weaver for only fifty thousand dollars.

Why did Liam Weaver increase the price by a hundred times when he arrived in China?!

He spent too much savings to treat his child before. How can he get so many five million dollars?!

Thinking of this, he said with a sad face, "Don Albert, to tell you the truth, my financial situation is far from as good as you think. Not to mention five million dollars, it's fifty thousand dollars. I may have some difficulties now..."

Don Albert shrugged his shoulders and said helplessly, "There's nothing you can do, Mr. Smith. Five million is a one-time price, and there is no discount space. And I won't tell you the truth that from now on, the price will rise by one million every day, that is to say, if you haven't paid before 12 p.m. tonight, after 12 o'clock, it will be six million dollars."

James Smith felt big for a while.

He thought to himself, "Liam Weaver's revenge mentality is too strong, isn't he? Even if I really do something wrong, there is no need to directly increase the public relations fee by a hundred times, right?"

Seeing that he was silent, Don Albert took out a business card of his own and handed it to him. He said lightly, "Mr. Smith can think about it carefully and call me whenever he has thought about it."

James Smith knew that Don Albert had issued an expulsion order, so it was not easy to stay here, so he had no choice but to say, "Don Albert, I'll discuss it with my family and contact you as soon as there is any result."

James Smith's heart was mixed when he came out of Heaven Spring Mansion.

The more he hit a wall in China, the more he felt extremely regretful of his attitude towards Liam Weaver at the beginning.

However, he also knows that he can never give up like this at present.

Therefore, the only way is to meet Liam Weaver first through Don Albert.

But the cost of meeting is really amazingly high, five million dollars, which is completely beyond his own affordability.

Just when he was at a loss, he suddenly remembered that the Ministry of Health had said hello to him before, so he immediately picked up his mobile phone and replied to him.

As soon as he called, he couldn't wait to ask convenience, "Mr. Smith, have you seen the person in charge of that pharmaceutical company?"

James Smith sighed, "Not yet. Their person in charge said that they need to go through an intermediary to meet, and the middleman asked for five million dollars for agency fees..."

"Five million?" The other party was stunned and blurted out, "Are they crazy? Do you really think the dollar can fall from the sky?"

Smith said helplessly, "Now their side is such an attitude. I have no other way, and I can't take out so much money. If you can settle this fee for me, I can immediately talk to their person in charge. If you can't solve it, I can't help it."

After a moment of silence on the other side of the phone, James Smith could even hear the gritting of his teeth over there, and then he heard the other party say angrily, "Damn it! Five million is five million!

This money is from the budget of our Ministry of Health!”

The Amazing Son-In-Law

Chapter 3637-3640

Chapter 3637

The words of the Minister of health gave James Smith a sigh of relief.

If he really wants to take these five million, he will definitely not get it out.

Therefore, he immediately returned to Heaven Spring Mansion.

After asking Don Albert for an account, he immediately gave feedback to the Minister of Health. Soon, five million dollars were remitted to Don Albert’s account.

Looking at the arrival information prompted by the bank, Don Albert was dumbfounded.

He really didn’t expect that it would be so easy to make money these days.

He just poured a cup of tea for the other party and said a few words.

Moreover, the other party didn’t even take a sip of that cup of tea, and five million dollars arrived in such a muddle-headed way.

Besides, there is actually half of it.

After he confirmed that he had received the money, James Smith couldn't wait to ask him, "Don Albert, when can I meet Mr. Weaver?"

Don Albert looked at the time and said, "You see, today is definitely not appropriate. Why don't you go back to the hotel first and wait for the notice?"

"Mr. Weaver and I will call you to inform after I have set the time."

James Smith quickly asked, "Then can we be sure tomorrow?"

Don Albert laughed and said, "It's not up to me. I'll check Mr. Weaver's time after I communicate with him."

With that, Don Albert asked him again, "Mr. Smith rushed here in such a hurry that he should not have time to book a hotel yet?"

James Smith can't say anything about his pain.

Don't mention booking a hotel. He hasn't had a bite since he got off the plane.

However, it was not easy for him to complain to Don Albert, so he said with a dry smile, "I have been in a hurry since I got off the plane, and I haven't had time to book a hotel yet."

Don Albert nodded and smiled, "In this case, I will arrange for you to stay at the best Shangri-La Hotel in Aurous Hill first, and then I will make an appointment with Mr. Weaver.

"When the time is set, I will tell you as soon as possible."

With that, Don Albert said very thoughtfully, "You are alone in Aurous Hill."

"It's more or less inconvenient to live in the unfamiliar place. Why don't you leave it to me to arrange?"

James Smith had no choice but to nod and agree, "Then there will be Don Albert."

Don Albert smiled and said, "Mr. Smith is so polite. You are also my big customer. How can you be so polite for such a small thing?"

With that, he hurriedly called a little brother and arranged, "You drive Mr. Smith to Shangri-La Hotel. I will call Mr. Cameron from Shangri-La Hotel to arrange it."

The little brother nodded quickly and said to James Smith, "Hello, Mr. Smith, please follow me."

James Smith think of and hurriedly said to Don Albert, "Don Albert, please help me tell Mr. Weaver about the listing of Healing Salve Pill in the United States.

"I have approved it. The FDA will soon send a receipt letter to Oracle Pharmaceutical."

"After receiving the receipt letter, it can be officially listed in the United States."

"I hope this news can make him happier."

Don Albert said with a smile, "Don't worry, I will definitely pass on this news to Mr. Weaver."

James Smith was relieved, and then thanked Don Albert and followed the little brother away from Heaven Spring Mansion.

And here, Don Albert also quickly reported the situation to Charlie.

Chapter 3638

Therefore, he called Charlie and hurriedly remitted the report as soon as he came up, "Master Wade, that James Smith has transferred five million dollars to my account!"

Charlie said in surprise, "Did he call so soon?"

"Yes." Don Albert laughed and said, "He said he wanted to consider it, but less than an hour before and after, the money arrived."

Hearing that James Smith happily transferred five million dollars to Don Albert's account, Charlie knew that there must be a strong external force behind James Smith.

Otherwise, in his case, it is difficult to give five million dollars in such a short time.

Don Albert said again, "Oh, by the way, Master Wade, James Smith also said that Healing Salve Pill had been approved when it was listed in the United States, saying that some confirmation letter would be sent soon."

Charlie smiled and said, "It's really unexpected."

With that, he said to Don Albert, "Don Albert, tell James Smith tomorrow morning that Mr. Weaver has decided to see him and let him come to Heaven Spring Mansion for a banquet at noon tomorrow."

"I will attend with Liam Weaver."

“Okay!” Don Albert said respectfully, “I asked someone to prepare the diamond box in advance, and I won’t treat you tomorrow.”

Charlie told him, “You can also make an appointment with Liam Weaver.”

“Anyway, I’m free at noon and evening.”

“Okay.”

...

James Smith stayed up almost all night that night.

What he is most afraid of is that Liam Weaver is unwilling to take out more Healing Salve pills.

In that case, not only will his son be hopeless, even if the Ministry of Health wants to crack this medicine and then get the hope of Indian production, it will be completely frustrated.

Although this method is very bad, he is also very clear that if Healing Salve Pills cannot be successfully introduced into the United States, this method is the best solution for the United States and his son.

Because once this medicine is cracked successfully, it means that his son will have the opportunity to take it for a long time.

No matter how the Ministry of Health bypassed the patent of Oracle Pharmaceutical through India, at least his son will be saved.

However, the foundation of all this is based on Liam Weaver's willingness to give himself some more Healing Salve pills.

If Liam Weaver closes this opening, there is really nothing he can do.

James Smith had breakfast absent-mindedly and received a call from Don Albert.

As soon as he called, Don Albert told him, "Mr. Smith, I have made an appointment with Mr. Weaver."

"He has time at noon. Is there any problem with you?"

James Smith said ecstatically, "I'm fine! Anytime!"

"Okay." Don Albert said, "Then you wait at the gate of Shangri-La Hotel at twelve o'clock. I will send my men to pick you up."

James Smith was so excited that he quickly said, "Thank you! Thank you, Don Albert!"

At eleven forty-five a.m., when Charlie came to Heaven Spring Mansion, Don Albert and Liam Weaver were already waiting for him.

After receiving two hundred and fifty thousand dollars turned by Don Albert, Liam Weaver was also very grateful to Charlie.

Seeing him come in, he immediately got up and said respectfully, "Master Wade, you really deserve the money you gave to me...”

Charlie waved his hand and said indifferently, “A little hard work, it should be. Besides, I didn’t give it.”

With that, Charlie asked Don Albert again, “Did you send someone to pick up that James Smith?”

“Yes.” Don Albert quickly said, “I made an appointment with him at twelve noon. I guess it will take twenty minutes to be here.”

Charlie nodded and said to Liam Weaver, “When James Smith comes later, you will say that I am the operation director of Oracle Pharmaceutical.”

“I’ll talk to him about the specific matters.”

Liam Weaver nodded respectfully and said, “Okay Master Wade!”

Charlie smiled and said, “Don’t call me Master Wade for this meal.”

Liam Weaver said quickly, “Okay Master Wade! Oh, no, Director Wade!”

Chapter 3639

Seeing that Liam Weaver began to adapt to the temporary new title, Charlie sat down next to Liam Weaver and asked him, “Has the Oracle Pharmaceutical received the FDA’s receipt?”

“Received.” Liam Weaver said, “The FDA has also included the Nova Dias in the hospital’s guidance drug.”

“We have now begun to go through the customs approval procedures, and we will soon airlift five million boxes to the United States.”

Charlie asked him, “Has the sales channels in the United States been opened?”

“After all, Healing Salve Pill is an oral medicine. We definitely can’t sell it ourselves, right?”

“Yes.” Liam Weaver explained, “Anything defined as a medicine must be sold through a compliant pharmacy channel, so we will first shop in the United States.”

“The Walgreens chain pharmacy, which has more than 8,000 stores in the United States, is the highest-selling chain pharmacy in the United States.”

“I also talked to their person in charge and will give Healing Salve Pill in major pharmacies.”

“A main promotion position, first use their channels to market the brand of Oracle Pharmaceutical, and when the brand is up, we will start to build our own direct sales channel for the follow-up of our health products.”

Charlie asked him, “Does this chain pharmacy approved traditional Chinese prescriptions?”

“Approved.” Liam Weaver laughed and said, “Their boss himself is a fan of traditional Chinese medicine.”

“He is obsessed with cupping and acupuncture. He wanted to introduce hemorrhoid suppositories to the U.S. market before, but the FDA did not approve it.”

“He had already taken Nova Dias we produced on the recommendation of his friends.”

With that, Liam Weaver said again, “You don’t know that this brother’s spleen and stomach have been deficient and cold for more than twenty years.”

“His stomach has been pouring upside down all day long.”

“He has used western medicine all kinds of methods and has not improved.”

“Later, after using Nova Dias, he can’t leave it all of a sudden.”

After we acquired Kobayashi Pharmaceutical, Kobayashi Pharmaceutical stopped production, and he began to use Nova Dias on the recommendation of his friends.

Now it has basically been cured, so he is very enthusiastic about this medicine.

“Okay.” Charlie nodded and said, “In this case, seize the time to push this matter to land.”

Liam Weaver said quickly, “Master Wade... Oh, Director Wade, I think we can start to register an enterprise in the United States in advance and invest in another production line.”

“After all, the North American market is still very large. If there is a production line, the comprehensive cost can be reduced a lot, and in this way, tariffs can also be saved.”

Charlie waved his hand, "It's unnecessary. In this way, tariffs have been reduced, but it may not be a good thing to be constrained by the United States Federation everywhere."

"Moreover, even if the drugs produced do not need to pay customs duties, the import of raw materials of those medicinal materials also have to pay tariffs."

"Taken together, it may not be saved much. In my opinion, it's not as good as good as Healing Salve Pill to negotiate with them and ask them to exempt all drugs of Oracle Pharmaceutical from customs duties."

Liam Weaver was stunned and blurted out, "Is this... is this feasible..."

Charlie said seriously, "Absolutely feasible. If you don't believe it, let's test that James Smith later."

"If he don't make a mistake, his current support should be the White House."

Chapter 3640

"White House?!" Liam Weaver exclaimed, "Do they have any ideas about Healing Salve Pills?"

Charlie smiled and said, "Once they know this medicine, it's strange that they don't have an idea."

With that, Charlie told Liam Weaver, "In a moment, you just need to put up your momentum, and I'll talk to him about the rest."

Liam Weaver nodded respectfully in a hurry, "Okay, no problem!"

...

At twelve twenty.

James Smith, led by Don Albert, came to the diamond box of Heaven Spring Mansion.

Entering Heaven Spring Mansion, he was suddenly relieved to see Liam Weaver, Don Albert and Charlie.

He doesn't know Charlie, and he doesn't know what Charlie is, but as long as he sees Liam Weaver here, his suspense can be half relieved.

Thinking of his wife's instructions, as soon as he entered the door, he knelt directly on the ground and said to Liam Weaver with a shameful face, "Mr. Weaver! Everything was my fault before! I apologized to you!"

After saying that, as soon as he bent down, he kowtowed to Liam Weaver.

Liam Weaver was a little stunned by his move and said awkwardly, "Mr. Smith, what are you doing..."

James Smith confessed, "I used to have no eyes, offended you, and also offended Healing Salve Pills, which is a magic potion."

"I feel extremely guilty in my heart, so I hope you can forgive me for my previous offense!"

Liam Weaver said helplessly, "Okay, let's turn over that matter for the time being. You'd better sit down and let's talk about business."

Only then did James Smith sit down in the vacant seat reserved for him in advance.

Liam Weaver introduced Charlie to him at this time and said, "Mr. Smith, let me introduce to you. This is Mr. Wade, the operation director of our Oracle Pharmaceutical."

"He is the master of the operation strategy of Oracle Pharmaceutical."

James Smith looked at Charlie in surprise, stood up in a hurry, nodded and bowed, "Hello, Mr. Wade! I'm James Smith, the head of the FDA."

Charlie nodded slightly and said with a smile, "Hello, Mr. Smith. Welcome to Aurous Hill."

James Smith said a few polite words before sitting back.

As soon as he sat down, he went straight to the point and said, "Mr. Weaver, the effect of your company's Healing Salve Pills is really amazing."

"This is definitely one of the most important breakthroughs in the field of medicine this century!"

"Therefore, I sincerely hope that you can put this medicine into the U.S. market as soon as possible, and the FDA will definitely provide all the conveniences for Oracle Pharmaceutical!"

Liam Weaver nodded and said to him, "You can talk to Director Wade in detail about this matter. I fully respect his opinions."

James Smith quickly said to Charlie again, "Mr. Wade, I don't know what you think?"

Charlie smiled and said, "It's not impossible for Healing Salve Pills to be listed in the United States, but we have several conditions."

“If they can be promoted, we can consider it.”

James Smith said quickly, “If you have any conditions, just let me know.”

“If it is within my scope of my function, I will do my best to protect it.”

“If it is outside my scope of my function, I will try my best to do anything for you!”

Charlie nodded and said eloquently, “First of all, I ask your country to permanently exempt all goods produced by Oracle Pharmaceutical.”

When James Smith heard this, he suddenly became awkward.

He said with great embarrassment, “Mr. Wade, your request is really difficult to achieve.”

“It is impossible for the federal government to make such a big opening for Oracle Pharmaceuticals, because once this opening is given, Oracle Pharmaceutical can completely produce or sell it with its own corporate shell.”

“Various commodities to seek tariff reduction and exemption...”

Charlie smiled and said, “Don’t worry about this. It can only be regular drugs and health care products produced by Oracle Pharmaceutical.”

James Smith is a little drumming in his heart. He is definitely not qualified to decide on such a thing, and he doesn’t even have a channel to mediate.

However, when he thought that the White House was also extremely urgent about this medicine, he felt that if he reported it to them, they might agree.

Hearing this, James Smith said to Charlie, "Mr. Wade, I can't promise you about this matter now, but I can find a way to fight for it."

Charlie heard his answer and knew it at a glance.

If James Smith hadn't been supported by the federal government behind him, he wouldn't even have the ability to fight for such a thing.

Now that he has said and tried to fight for it, the support behind him must be the federal government.

Therefore, Charlie said again, "In addition, I also ask the FDA to give a green light on all the future drugs of Oracle Pharmaceutical."

"Don't embarrass us and let us pass directly without any testing, as long as we can pass within one month of our application."

James Smith feels that he still has this ability to decide directly.

Anyway, the FDA has countless drugs all year round, and he doesn't care about giving Oracle Pharmaceuticals a few places.

So he agreed on the spot and said, "This matter is no problem. Mr. Wade can rest assured."

Charlie nodded and said, "As for the third requirement, you must immediately disclose the actual efficacy of Healing Salve Pills to the public.”

“We need the FDA to come forward to endorse Healing Salve Pills worldwide.”

James Smith said without thinking, “That’s no problem. Now the only case of Healing Salve Pills in the United States is my son.”

“I can make all my son’s treatment processes and results public.”

Speaking of this, James Smith looked at Liam Weaver awkwardly and pleaded, “Mr. Weaver, my son has finished the box of Healing Salve pills you gave.”

“He has no medicine to continue to take in the future, so I have to ask you to provide some more...”

Liam Weaver pointed to Charlie, “You have to communicate with Director Wade about this matter. Everything is decided by Director Wade.”

Charlie smiled and said, “Mr. Smith, it’s not that medicine can’t be given, but our principle is that no matter who or country’s drug regulatory agency, since you want Healing Salve Pills, you have to pay.”

James Smith said awkwardly, “Mr. Wade, according to the usual practice, no matter whether any drug wants to be put on the market in the United States, you must submit a certain amount of drugs to the FDA for drug testing...”

“Is this a little too unreasonable...”

Charlie waved his hand, “What you said is all ordinary medicine, but this is not.”

With that, Charlie said very firmly, "If it is our other medicine, I can completely follow your requirements and rules, just like Nova Dias."

"I can even give you ten thousand boxes for you to do experiments."

"If it's not enough, it's okay to add ten thousand boxes."

At this point, Charlie turned around and said seriously, "However, any country that wants to introduce Healing Salve Pills must follow our rules!"

"Otherwise, we would rather go public to this country for sale."

James Smith said quickly, "Mr. Wade, the market share of the United States is very large."

"If you give up the American market because of such a little thing, with all due respect, is your decision too arbitrary?"

"Arbitrarily?" Charlie smiled and said, "To be honest, this medicine is limited by the production process."

"At this stage, the output is relatively scarce, so there is no need to worry about selling it in the future."

"If it can't enter the American market, it will only be your loss, not our loss!"

After a pause, Charlie said again, "What do you say in your words? Oh, by the way, it's called 'I don't give a sh!t!'"
